3 Awarded Eagle Scout Badges At Norumbega Court of Honor

Norumbega Council held its third Court of Honor for the current Scouting season recently in the auditorium of the Weeks Junior High School in Newton Centre. At this Court three Newton Scouts were awarded their Eagle Scout badges, having attained the highest rank in Scouting.

The presentation of the Eagle Scout badges was made by Council President Neil W. Swinton and went to Thomas Gochberg, a member of Troop 17, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Gochberg of Newton Centre; James King of Troop 7, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. King of West Newton; and David Koplow, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Koplow and who belongs to Troop 17 in Newton Centre.

Due to the increasing interest that has been created in Scouting during recent years, Norumbega Council has found it necessary to schedule one additional Court of Honor during the Scouting season.

The Court held last Friday evening marks the first time that such a ceremony has been held at this time of year.

Another highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Scout Life Guard Award to Mark Peterson of Troop 19, and Louis Schell of Troop 25. This is a

Seal Sale Now Over '52 Total

The Executive Committee of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association held its quarterly meeting recently. Present were Mrs. Henry A. Plimpton, president; Miss Helene Breigavel, vice-president; Mrs. Alton S. Pope, clerk; Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford; Dr. Leslie H. Macmillan; Mrs. John L. Oncley; Mrs. Gordon S. Pinkham; Mr. Kenneth E. Prior; Miss Ruth R. Raphael, executive director; and Mrs. Constantine A. Bean, health educator.

A report was presented to the group by the arrangements committee on the plans to date for the annual meeting of the Association to be held at the end of April.

A report was made to the committee by Mrs. Bean on the health screening program at Boston College: 1615 faculty and students received chest x-rays, blood sugar and hemoglobin tests, vision tests, and electrocardiograms. The program was carried on in cooperation with the State Department of Public Health.

Miss Raphael reported that the Seal Sale now totals $16,611.56, a 9 percent increase over last year.

All Cars Must Be Inspected During April

The first period inspection of motor vehicles for 1953 will take place during the month of April. Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King announced this week.

Every motor vehicle registered in the Commonwealth prior to May 1 and which is operated on our highways at any time during the month of April, must pass inspection and have the blue April 1953 inspection sticker displayed on the windshield on May 1, 1953.

This sticker must be placed in the lower right-hand corner of the windshield and in no other place. All stickers (other than the official Civil Defense sticker), baby shoes and other "gadgets" that might be attached to the inside of the windshield to interfere with the operator's vision, must also be removed.

Motorists are advised to have their vehicles inspected as soon as possible after April 1 to avoid being disappointed at the end of the month by overworked inspection station personnel who may be unable to accommodate them. After the May, 1952, inspection there were 2178 delinquents who had to pay a fine or had to appear at a hearing on suspension of their certificate of registration.

The full and complete cooperation of the public is requested in an effort to avoid accidents resulting in injury and death caused by un-inspected vehicles.

Relative Loss Of Home Rule One Objection

Joining Newton to a Greater Boston government was opposed recently in a speech by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, who claimed that "whatever the problem, the uniform conviction follows today that no method of solution can be of assistance which increases the size of a city."

Speaking at a debate on a Greater Boston union of cities, Mayor Lockwood declared that "no uplift could result in Newton through our broadening our attitudes along such lines." He deplored the possible influence of professional politicians upon Greater Boston government.

The Easter Service of Worship with sermon by the minister, Dr. Ray A. Eusden, is scheduled for 10:45 a.m.

The service will be preceded by a quarter-hour of organ and violin music beginning at 10:30 a.m. Selections will include "Christus Resurrexit" (organ) by Ravello; "Canto" (violin and piano) Sammartini; and "Adoration" —

Rawson Ridicules Democrats Who Pose as Party of Economy

"During the past two weeks, the public must have been greatly bewildered to see the House Democrats, who for the last four years have merrily tossed millions to the winds of recklessness, suddenly attempt to pose as a party of economy," Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton declared.

"There is more to this situation than meets the eye," Rep. Rawson said. "Since the state fiscal year runs from July 1 to the next June 30, we are still proceeding according to Dever's huge budget enacted last May and his supplementary budget of ill repute enacted last July 5.

"Those monies have either been spent or allocated, and the settlement date is at hand. To pay the bill, all the so-called temporary taxes asked for by Dever and company in 1951 to balance the budget have to be continued.

"To do otherwise would put the Commonwealth in the dubious position of the man who gives a check in payment of a bill and then sends to the bank a 'stop' order before his check can reach the bank. Honest folks do not do business that way!"

"I did not vote for those expenditures or the taxes to pay for them, but those fellows (Democrats) did. Now they do an about-face and try to kill the taxes which they laid to pay their bills.

"Oh politics, what sins are committed in thy name!" the Newton legislator exclaimed. "The crowning act of hypocrisy was a move last week to the two-cent increase on the gas tax voted last year over my bitter opposition.

"The same members who assured us that the tax was needed to pay for the new $200,000,000 bond issue for highways now try to wipe out the tax. Of course, they knew we could not do it because meanwhile the highway bonds have been sold and the state is obligated.

"Gov. Dever's budget is millions of dollars less than Dever's was, and there will be no such unbalanced supplemental budget as in recent years. The Ways and

Over 100 Volunteers Receive Certificates at Graduation

More than a hundred volunteers of the Service Groups and Nursing Services of the Newton and Wellesley Chapters received certificates and recognition at the public graduation exercises conducted in Memorial Hall, City Hall, last Thursday evening.

Miss Mary McDonald, Red Cross General Field Representative, discussed "The Role of the Volunteer in Red Cross." Of particular interest was her account of how training in First Aid initiated by a small group of Red Cross volunteers in Philadelphia, was now a standard course of study for millions of Americans. No true estimate of its benefits could ever be made.

In a brilliant address on "The World in which we are soon to live," Mr. Saville R. Davis, American News Editor of the Christian Science Monitor, described this era as a time in which good and evil were rushing on at a hurtling pace. He analyzed the extremely difficult choices confronting the Eisenhower administration, and stressed the need for poise and courage on the part of all citizens in facing up to the problems of this generation.

Others taking part in the ceremonies were Mrs. Philip Saunders who played the piano for the processionals, and Philip Wolfe and Jane Dahl, Color Bearers from the Junior Red Cross. Rev. Dr. Joseph C. MacDonald made the invocation and Mr. William Falconer, Chairman of the Newton Chapter greeted the graduates and their friends.

Mrs. John S. Clapp, Recognition Chairman, presented the certificates to the graduates who were introduced by the following chairmen: Mrs. Clyde J. Allen, Arts and Skills Service; Mrs. Donald E. Mayberry, Canteen Service; Mrs. James H. Orr, Entertainment and Supply Service; Mrs. E. K. Mentzer, Gray Lady Service; Mrs. Harold C. Whitley, Service; Mrs. Harold C. Whitley, Motor Service; Mrs. Joseph C. MacDonald, Nurse's Aide Service; Mrs. Marie Todino, Staff Aide Service.

Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr. and Mrs. Morton Smith, Chairmen of Service Groups for Newton and Wellesley, led the volunteers in the Red Cross pledge.

Rep. Whitmore Says He Will Be Full Time Mayor If Elected

"From the time of announcing my candidacy, I have publicly stated to my organization that, in the event I am elected mayor of Newton, I will resign as a representative of the General Court, feeling that one man cannot adequately fill both posts."

"It was on this basis that I made my decision to run for mayor."

State representative Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton, made known his intention to resign from the Legislature, in these words, if he becomes mayor of Newton, in answer to a recent move by the Newton Taxpayers' Association.

Earlier last week, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Executive Director of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, said his organization plans to seek legislation prohib-

Robert Hall drew on his great wealth of experience in Japan, Brazil and Saudi Arabia to point out some important functions of education of which we are not ordinarily aware if we look on education only as part of the American scene. He also pointed out that the fraction of our national budget going into education is tiny compared with that of many totalitarian countries; that fact should not be overlooked when we compare the effectiveness of education for totalitarianism with education for democracy.

Dr. Hall spoke to a good-sized audience at the Newton High School Auditorium last Wednesday evening on "Education in Crisis." He brought out the need for well informed citizens and cited attendance at the meeting, to which he felt that people had come primarily out of concern

For many years, the replacement of the Rice School and Mason School Buildings has been discussed by various groups, and the School Committee recommended in 1948 that these buildings be replaced. All other elementary schools recommended at that time for replacement are now in use," the Building Committee pointed out in a flier distributed to all Mason-Rice parents.

"Feeling that we have been forgotten, the Executive Board of the Mason-Rice School Association has re-established the Building Committee with instructions to do all that is possible to have a new school building authorized," the flier stated.

Plans are now being made to organize all parents into a concentrated drive to obtain school building for this area equal to facilities in other sections of the city. The Rice School was erected in 1950. The Mason School was built in 1901.

Captured at gunpoint after the barking of a dog alerted police two Pittsburgh men were sentenced to three to five years in State Prison last Thursday after pleading guilty to burglary charges.

The men, Edwin P. Lewis, 20, and Robert H. Thompson, 26, possessed a dangerous weapon, and having burglar tools in his possession.

Thompson was sentenced to a single three to five year term on a breaking and entering in the night time with intent to commit larceny charge.

Police under the direction of Sgt. John W. Foley Jr. arrested Thompson outside the station and apprehended Lewis inside the building. The officers were summoned by a neighbor who was awakened by a dog-barking at the two men.

Lewis received three concurrent sentences of three to five years on complaints of breaking and entering in the night time with intent to commit larceny, possessing a dangerous weapon,

Francis Foley To Head Daley Post, V.F.W.

Francis D. Foley, a member of the Newton Fire Department, was re-elected commander of the Eugene Daley Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, recently at the Post's annual election of officers at the War Memorial Building, City Hall.

Dr. Anthony Macaluso, Senior Vice Commander last year, was re-elected to the same post, with Thomas Medaglia being chosen for Junior Vice Commander.

Others elected were Rosario Guzzi, chaplain; Gilbert A. Barr, quartermaster; Dr. Reeven I. Levine, post surgeon; James Condit, judge advocate; William J. Maloney, trustee for 2 years; Charles E. Pollock and Zaven Daniels, delegates to both District No. 3 and Middlesex County Council; and William J. Maloney and Cmdr. Foley, delegates to the Newton Veterans' Council.

Installation of Officers will be held on Monday evening, April 27, at the War Memorial Building, after which movies, dancing and refreshments will be available for all attending.

Commander Foley announced that at the next meeting of the post on the evening of April 13, plans will be discussed for the placing of a float in Newton's Memorial Day parade.

John Rambeau, Newtonville senior at Ohio Wesleyan University, one of nine cadets who were freshmen when the Air Force ROTC unit was established at the school in 1949, and who will be commissioned this June as a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

Although the OWU unit has commissioned almost 60 men in past years, the group which includes Rambeau is the first to complete the full four-year program. The men commissioned earlier either were veterans or, because of academic rank, were forced to take an accelerated program.

When the unit was established on the OWU campus in September 1949, only nine freshmen entered the program. The unit had only 30 cadets in all. But today the AFROTC numbers more than 700 men, of which 250 are freshmen.

Rambeau is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rambeau of 79 Fessenden street, Newtonville. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity majoring in pre-medicine.

Its local affairs committee met with experts to discuss city charters and how to change them. As the Newton League embarks on its campaign to seek financial support this week, it is fitting that the people of Newton be made aware of the services which the League performs in their behalf.

The League of Women Voters is a nonpartisan organization which works actively in the Newton community. During the past year its services to the Newton voter were many and varied. Before the September primaries a nonpartisan candidates meeting was held at which time candidates for the Massachusetts General Court and for the United States Congress from the 10th District stated their views and answered questions from a large audience of Newton voters. A questionnaire answered by the candidates was distributed throughout the city, as were information on registration, polling places and times, and on the rent control referendum.

Before the November elections, "Votemobiles" — a unique squad of cars driven by League members toured all Newton villages distributing voting information. A questionnaire from state candidates was published, as well as the voting records of state and national officials up for reelections.

In presenting the shield, M. F. W. The Honorary Scoop Awarded in a game called "Spoud" or March goes to Troops 80, 93, 27 and 152 of Auburndale, and Troop 155 of West Newton, in recognition of their weekly contributions to this column. Would you like to receive the award next month? You can—by mailing weekly reports to Mrs. Hartlie Kelley, 43 Newell road, Auburndale.

TROOP 80—Auburndale—Cynthia Smith presided at the meeting as Sharon Lannon collected dues. We started our Bird badge totebooks. Two troop crests were chosen, but the final decision will be made easier. We closed the meeting with singing.

—Patty Hoops, Scribe

TROOP 93—Auburndale—After discussing the Juliette Low Fund, we worked in patrols on Home-making, Health and Safety requirements. We learned a Scottish schottische for our Music and Dancing requirements. The girls recently put into operation their new "telephone plan" to cancel a meeting because of bad weather.

—Nancy Voner, Scribe

TROOP 127—Auburndale—We discussed the Juliette Low Fund, then played and sang, learning many new games and songs. We started work on our name pins, which we are making of leather and plastic.

TROOP 72—Waban—We learned the results of our recent test, which everyone passed. Miriam Shaw received two gold stars on her notebook, while Barbara Adolph, Maria Caplan, Minna Horovitz, Elsa Raab, Susan Rosen and Margery Sherman each received one gold star. Mrs. Sydny Adolph, a nutritionist, helped us with our Nutrition badge. Barbara Adolph, Sandy Gottlieb and Susan Hahn completed their posters, which we will exhibit in our planned visit to the New Nutrition Center.

—Barbara Adolph, Scribe

TROOP 141—West Newton—Cookie order books were collected. After saying the Brownie Promise, we practiced our Juliette Low play which we are to perform at a future meeting.

—Ellen Hart, Scribe

TROOP 33—West Newton—Some completed their "sit-ups," while others played games. The meeting adjourned after all join-

Frisbee, Tory Russell, Victoria Seiglitz; Troop 131, Laurel Baker, Mary MacMillan; Troop 132, Nancy Anderson, Alice Diman, Betsy Rich, Jean Turnbull; Troop 138, Maureen Kenney, Barbara Kerr. Also Troop 147, Marcia Boyd, Judith Brockington; Troop 148, Marilyn Achorn, Rae Copan; Troop 158, Gretchen Robins; Troop 168, Janet Barbo, Carol Howes; Troop 170, Patty O'Connell, Kristin Swanson; Troop 176, Beverly Lynch, Patty Waters; Troop 178, Arleen Eisen, Nancy Horovitz; Troop 185, Susan Fay, Charlene Proctor; Troop 189, Bonnie Glassman, Barbara Lindman; and Troops 60, 65, 94, and 101.

The Boston Edison Company's exhibit in the New England Home Show scheduled for Mechanics Building in Boston for nine days beginning Saturday, April 18, will highlight the latest electrical device to be fitted into household requirements and budgets—the home air conditioning unit.

Edison engineers assert that all of the problems that previously kept air conditioning from being accepted in the average home have been eliminated. Units are compact, movable, quiet and highly efficient. Price-wise, they are practical for average families who will discover air conditioning an indispensable luxury once it is installed.

Many other electrical machines that have reduced to a minimum many of the burdensome domestic chores of a decade ago will be on display with new designs, increased efficiency and lower prices.

—Bonnie Falt, Scribe

TROOP 107—Newton Upper Falls—After the business meeting, we worked on our Dramatics badge. The troop was divided into two groups, the first putting on the play "Hansel and Gretel," while the second performed in "The Three Bears." We all went out to learn a little about trail blazing.

—Judy Abrahams, Scribe

The seven Brownie troops of the Franklin School, West Newton, recently held their Juliette Low—International Friendship Fund exercises in the auditorium, with their mothers as guests. All joined in the pledge of allegiance to the flag, the Brownie Promise and "Smile" song. After Mrs. Grace Lepore told of the needs and uses for the Fund, each representative presented her troop's donation to the Juliette Low Fund "Pot-Of-Gold." Each troop performed a folk dance, game or song of the country it represented: Troop 29, Germany; Troop 181, Australia; Troop 40, France; Troop 182, Japan; Troop 97, Sweden; Troop 141, Finland; and Troop 155, England. Refreshments were served.

—Mabel E. Paul, Scribe

Juliette Low representatives who attended workshops conducted by Mrs. Russell Broad were: Troop 53, Carolyn Bass, Patricia Marucci; Troop 64, Carol Berman, Marilyn Saltz; Troop 96, Suzanne Simonds; Troop 115, Joyce Donald, Barbara Kohler; Troop 116, Caryle Allen, Merrily Price, Janet Robbins; Troop 130, Margaret

Newton YMCA To Give Life Saving Course

On Tuesday evening, the Newton YMCA will start its annual life saving course. The classes will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evening for a six-week period for an hour and a half from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Persons who wish to try for their senior life saving certificate must be "Y" members, must be 15 years old or over, and must be able to pass a comprehensive water examination before being allowed to take the course.

In conjunction with the senior course, a course in junior life saving will be conducted during the same six-week period. This course, for boys 14 years old and under, will be held from 4:45 to 6:15 every Wednesday and Friday afternoon.

Persons interested in the courses may contact Mr. Clark at the Newton YMCA—Bigelow 4-6050.

Start Weight Guidance Group Apr. 9

Miss Ruth Irwin and Mrs. Marie Barrett of the Newton Nutrition Center announce plans for a Weight Guidance Group to start on April 9th. Meetings will be scheduled for 10 o'clock in the morning at the Nutrition Center, 1990 Washington Street, Newton Lower Falls.

There will be a series of eight weekly meetings followed by less frequent meetings if the group wishes them. Discussion will cover planning well balanced diets for reducing, fitting diets into family meals, what makes people fat, the effect of exercise and reducing drugs on weight, and other questions that the group may have.

The requirements for joining the group are: 1) a desire to lose weight and 2) physician referral or permission to join the group. A registration fee is charged.

Schedule Passover Festival Services at Temple Emanuel

The Service schedule for the concluding days of the Passover Festival will be observed at Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre as follows:

Sunday, April 5th, at 6:00 p.m.
Monday, April 6th, at 9:30 a.m.
Monday, April 6th, at 6:00 p.m.
Tuesday, April 7th, at 9:15 p.m.
Memorial Service at 10:00 a.m.
Cantor Gabriel Hochberg will chant the Services. Congregation and Friends are cordially invited to worship on these days.

A Job for Everyone

Politics is a job for everyone in the community. Knowing one's government, its elected officials, and its functions is a big job and to do it properly requires a great deal of time and effort.We in Newton are fortunate to have a large share of this work done for us by a group of our citizens. The League of Women Voters of Newton, through candidates' meetings and votemobiles at election time, through discussion groups and community meetings during the year, and through a constant digging for facts and publishing of materials has taken on a large share of the burden of being a good citizen, for it is on this kind of work that good citizenship depends.During the next two weeks the League of Women Voters is asking us, the community, for funds to help them carry on their work.
This request deserves the support of every citizen of Newton. This is an organization which is truly non-partisan, truly a service organization. Its list of accomplishments is one of which it may well be proud, and it is all done on a small budget, with many volunteered hours. League dues are purposely kept low so that everyone can join.Without support from the community its work could not be maintained. It is a small thing to do to provide the modest means by which its program can be maintained and expanded. By helping the League we are helping ourselves become better citizens.

Out of the Past

The American Cancer Society's Massachusetts Division is again conducting its annual Cancer Crusade, seeking a statewide goal of $661,980. In considering the request for contributions, it's pretty certain that most people will ask themselves just how important it is that they give to the fight against cancer.

Each man's answer will be his own.

Our answer is based on one word, "hope."

Out of the past, we have learned that the long hard road of research can take a triumphant, victorious turn at any moment. A look at the record of scientific achievement demonstrates this better than anything else.

Disease after disease has been conquered by science. From 1937 to 1950 alone, the over-all death rate in the U. S. was reduced 15 percent. This represents a saving of 1, 763,347 lives!This tremendous achievement is due directly to the development of the sulfa drugs, penicillin and other antibiotics. But—these wondrous conquerors of infection did not leap full brown from the minds of their creators. They were the results of many plodding years of patient investigation.So, too, it can be with cancer. If the public can provide funds to keep the scientists at work long enough they'll find the answer. Already, half of those who develop cancer could be saved by early diagnosis and prompt treatment.So when you're asked to give, do it with the knowledge that already great strides have been made that are saving many victims of Cancer and also with the expectation that in the years ahead continued research will find ways to save many more.

CURRENT COMMENT

Expense Account Favored for Solons . . .
Gov. Herter Meets Press Regularly . . .Governor Herter's special citizens' committee may be establishing a practice that will have far-reaching effects in recommending a basic $400-a-year expense allowance plus travel pay for the members of the State's Legislature.There is virtually no doubt but that the State law-makers will adopt the proposal and put it into effect with as little wasted time and motion as possible and probably a minimum of talk.Former Governor Dever held press conferences only spasmodically and on special occasions, when there was some major subject to be discussed, and it was not unusual for him to go a month at a time without a question and answer period with reporters.Many observers were at a loss to understand why Dever didn't have regular press conferences, as Herter is now doing. The ex-Governor handled himself extremely well
at those he did hold, but they were generally few and far between.The Herter policy is a far more healthy
one and keeps the people of Massachusetts
in much closer touch with the executive branch of their State government.Everyone familiar with the legislative setup realizes that House and Senate members who live more than 40 miles from theState House are entitled not only to reimbursement for their travel costs but also to hotel and meal expenses.A number of legislators from distant points of the State have gone heavily in debt during the past three months, as a result of their own action last September in wiping out their travel allowances.It will be interesting to see if safeguards are set up to prevent a recurrence of the abuses which precipitated last September's furore and the outraged public protests.Representative John M. Shea, Worcester Democrat, expressed some interesting views the other day while testifying at a hearing before the Governor's special committee.Shea maintained that any voucher system which is introduced "should not be too strict."He said that a legislator should not collect his travel allowances, if he is in Europe or Florida, but that he should be able to do so, if he takes his family to the Cape for a day "once in a while."It is highly improbable that many taxpayers will share the tolerant and free-and-easy attitude of Representative Shea, and they are likely to feel that the legislators should be on a very strict voucher system, particularly if they are to be treated as generously as is now indicated.After listening to the testimony of Shea and other legislators, a Natick citizen arose and asked if the law-makers hadn't run for office of their own free will. He was ruled out of order, but his question wasn't entirely without point.Some of the legislators were in a rather indignant mood as a result of the dilemma in which they found themselves, after voting money out of their own pockets by repealing temporarily the travel allowances.Representative James A. Burke, Hyde Park Democrat, blustered out at newspapers for critical editorials they had published on the matter."You have to have the hide of an elephant to stand this abuse," protested Burke who asserted that he's not going to run for re-election because he "can't stand the pace."It's unfortunate if Representative Burke's feelings have been affronted, but the fact is that the controversy over travel allowances developed last fall because they were grossly abused.Legislators considered their travel allowances part of their salary and drew them whether they were in Europe, in Florida or sick in a hospital for a period of months.Ex-Representative Sherman Miles, who lived on the foot of Beacon Hill, declared publicly that he should not have received a $14.50 travel allowance, but he drew it just the same.Representative Burke proposed a flat expense allowance for legislators, with a "base of at least $1000" per member and additional funds for those who have hotel and lunch expenses to meet.A suggestion that Boston legislators be given an expense allowance of $15 a week, 50 cents more than they received last year, was advanced by Representative John T.
Tynan, South Boston Democrat.This pinpoints one of the major issues involved in the controversy over legislative travel allowances. It is the question of what travel expenses, if any, should be paid to a law-maker who lives within a 15-cent car ride of the State House.Admittedly, a House or Senate member who lives in Pittsfield, Springfield, North Adams or on Cape Cod and can't go home at night, should be reimbursed for his travel, the hotel room he occupies while in Boston and his breakfast and dinner on days the Legislature is in session.But on a comparable basis, the Greater Boston legislator would get 30 cents a day since he presumably lives at home, eats his breakfast and dinner there and can ride to and from the State House on the MTA.That is one detail of the travel allowance question which may be the subject of lively dispute. If the Greater Boston legislators wind up with a $400 expense account, it might not be expecting too much to ask them to pay their own carfares.When former Chairman Walter Waldron of the MTA trustees and his fellow members were replaced last week, he termed the action "unpardonably regrettable" on Governor Herter's part in view of the job his board had done.Waldron declared that Herter will be solely responsible for any increase in fares.
It might have been better if Mr. Waldron had just left quietly, particularly since about half the Democrats in the Legislature joined with the Republicans in voting to fire him.However, we don't think Mr. Herter can be held entirely to blame for the very substantial deficit the MTA rolled up last year under Mr. Waldron's stewardship.One difference newspapermen have found between the administration of Governor Herter and that of ex-Governor Dever is that Mr. Herter holds press conference twice a week, voluntarily subjecting himself to questions concerning his handling of the State's affairs.Although extraordinarily busy and under extremely heavy pressure, Herter meets each Monday morning and Thursday afternoon with the State House reporters who are free to ask him any questions.Former Governor Dever held press conferences only spasmodically and on special occasions, when there was some major subject to be discussed, and it was not unusual for him to go a month at a time without a question and answer period with reporters.Many observers were at a loss to understand why Dever didn't have regular press conferences, as Herter is now doing. The ex-Governor handled himself extremely well
at those he did hold, but they were generally few and far between.The Herter policy is a far more healthy
one and keeps the people of Massachusetts
in much closer touch with the executive branch of their State government.

News of the Day

The Ninth Grade Drama Group of the Frank Ashley Day Junior High School presented a play last week, "Accent on Revenge." For the first time in anyone's memory it had an all-girl cast. They were Anita Smith, Alfreda Farina, Nancy Foley, Marianne Keefe, Carol O'Connell, Miriam Cohen, Betty Annesse, and Gail Stout. Student coach was Helen Kaufman; faculty coach, Mrs. Lorraine Holmes. Chairman of the production was Sheil Carey. Back stage workers were David Sachar, Geraldine Soule, David Kanter, Catherine Antonellis, Bernhard Lettau, Nan McAuliffe, and Peter Winograd.

The second assembly of the week gave pupils in Grade Nine a further chance to get help and information about their next year's school, Newton High and Newton Technical and Vocational High School. Mr. Green, principal; Mr. Switzer, director of guidance, Newton Technical and Vocational High School; and Mr. Mitchell, director of guidance, High School, talked informally with the Ninth Grade boys and girls about next year and various problems connected with it. High school elective blanks will be going home very shortly for parents' signatures.

Drive for Used Furniture Now Is Underway

The spring drive for used furniture, clothing, and bric-a-brac to benefit the men's Social Service Center of The Salvation Army, now going on, gains momentum daily as the Army's big red shield truck rolls through the city of Newton daily canvassing homes and business houses.

The restoring and refinishing of these discarded articles, which eventually reach the Family Service Stores for sale to families of low income, is part of the rehabilitation program of the Center given homeless and destitute men, many of them with personal problems they are trying to overcome. Here, under the direction of Brigadier Alex B. Nicol the men are given work to do according to their ability and thus earn their board and keep until they are ready for self-supporting employment.

Mrs. Edward Godfrey Huber, a long and active worker for The Salvation Army is chairman of the Residential Members of the New England homestead for generations before it became a restaurant, is open seven days a week, serving luncheons and dinners from noon to 8:30 p.m. The Inn can accommodate 250 guests for parties, weddings and banquets. The largest dining room seats 75 and special banquet menus are provided.

Irving Feldman

Irving Feldman of 143 East Bourne road, Newton Centre, died suddenly March 29. He leaves his wife, the former Irene Schultz; two sons, Richard and Roger; a brother, sister, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Feldman. Services were held March 30 at the Levine Chapel, Brookline, with interment following in Sharon Memorial Park.

1812 House Opens In Framingham; to Feature Seafoods

The 1812 House on Route 9 in Framingham, equidistant between Boston and Worcester, opened yesterday (Wednesday), welcoming tourists as well as local guests who enjoy the Inn's good food and interesting atmosphere.

New England seafood dinners will occupy 40 per cent of this season at the 1812 House, a Treadway Inn. 1812 House clam chowder, fried chicken and roast beef—cooked and sliced to individual tastes—are among the specialties for which the House is famed.

The 1812 House is the 18th-century landmark, a New England homestead for generations before it became a restaurant, is open seven days a week, serving luncheons and dinners from noon to 8:30 p.m. The Inn can accommodate 250 guests for parties, weddings and banquets. The largest dining room seats 75 and special banquet menus are provided.

Chosen President Of Her Wellesley College Dorm

Margaret E. DePopolo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DePopolo of 2019 Beacon street, Weston, has been chosen to serve as next year's president of her dormitory at Wellesley College.

Miss DePopolo, a junior at Wellesley, is majoring in English. This year she has been active in the Italian Club, of which she is vice president; in the Wellesley College Choir; as business manager of the handbook for freshmen; and in the annual Junior Show written and produced by members of her class.

At the recent spring Honors Day convocation, she was named a Junior Durant Scholar for highest academic achievement. This was her third scholastic citation, since she had previously been the recipient of an award for the best freshman source theme composed by a member of her class and of Freshman Honors for outstanding work during her first year at Wellesley.

Miss DePopolo is a graduate of Newton High School. Seniors named are Robert F. Rafuse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Rafuse of 41 Chase street, Newton Centre, and Richard D. Lanoue, son of Ralph O. Lanoue of 1596 Centre street, Newton Highlands.

Seniors named are Robert B. Stanfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Stanfield of 4 Allston street, and Richard E. Tardif, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. MacLean of 249 Crafts street, both of Newtonville and members of the national engineering honorary, Tau Beta Pi.

Tropical Fish Enthusiasts Meet Wednesday

All interested in tropical fish are invited to an open meeting to be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. by the Aquarium Enthusiasts of Massachusetts in the Newtonville Public Library.

A colored film of underwater marine life will highlight the program. The film will be introduced by Palmer Sargent of Belmont, president of the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent I. Mason of 154 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, editors of the Filter, will be host and hostess for the evening.

Miss Rost a junior, is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, a junior counselor in a freshman dormitory, and served as publicity chairman for the College Community Chest Drive. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Rost of 39 Solon street, Newton Highlands.

Marion D. Bassett

Miss Marion Drew Bassett of 105 Central avenue, Newtonville, a kindergarden teacher for more than 40 years in the Newton School System, died March 27 at the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital. Many Fire Hazards in Home, Commercial Printing Plants

Here in Newton there are several homes as well as businesses that have a small printing plant. In order to operate they have to use the same type of materials as are used in commercial plants, many of these are highly flammable and can cause considerable damage. The safe safety precautions should be used as required for commercial printing establishments.

First—Never close up a plant until you have inspected all of the area used to make sure there is nothing left open that will cause a fire to start or spread.

Second—Call the fire department immediately upon discovery of a fire. You may be able to extinguish it before the fire department arrives, but don't take the chance of not having the department to back you up.

The Newton Fire Department telephone number is B1600-4030. In addition to remembering this number be sure and learn the location of the nearest Fire Alarm Box to your home and learn how to send in the alarm with the least possible delay. By calling the Fire Department promptly, fire losses can be held down to a minimum.

N.C. Navy Officer Honored at R.P.I.

Lt. Townsend H. Cushman, Jr. (CEC) USN, of 42 Kenwood avenue, Newton Centre, was among 8 Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute students named to Tau Beta Pi honorary society, one of the highest honors bestowed upon undergraduate engineering students.

The hazard of flammable ink and cleaning fluid will always be factors in this business regardless of its size. Much of the ink used today is not highly volatile, and ordinary ventilation needed for the welfare of the occupants there is little need for concern.

However, the ink used in rotogravure plants is highly flammable in most cases and ample ventilation should be provided. The cleaning of type and the washing up of the press, were for many years carried on with gasoline and benzene, which produced a vapor of an explosive nature. Some plants still use these materials, but there are less hazardous liquids on the market, and their use should be considered for everyone's safety.

Some of these new cleaning fluids are non-flammable, but the majority are in the class with kerosene as to fire hazard, in that they have a flash point above 100 degrees F. These cleaning fluids are specially prepared and, if listed by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. as not having a greater hazard than kerosene, may be considered satisfactory from the standpoint of vapor hazard and of spontaneous ignition.

The nature of the business, especially the large amounts of paper present, is such that the most logical method of preventing damage and loss is to install an automatic sprinkler system. To minimize water damage to the stock, there should be a water flow alarm. In addition, paper stock should be skidded on the floor.

Lt. Cushman is attending Rensselaer on a special training program for members of the Navy's Civil Engineers Corps. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Cushman and is a graduate of Newton High School.

Lt. Cushman was graduated from Tufts College in 1944 and entered the Navy in 1945. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta social fraternity.

Arthur F. Sullivan Addresses the Lions Club on Care of the Blind

At a meeting of the Newton Lions Club held at the YMCA Thursday, March 29th, 1953, Mr. Arthur F. Sullivan told the members about the history of the care of the blind.

Mr. Sullivan has been blind since the age of eight. At present, he is an active attorney in Federal and State practice. Mr. Sullivan is the chairman of the Speakers Bureau of the Catholic Guild for the blind. He is a former director of the Mass. division of the blind, State Dept. of Education.

Statistics were given by Mr. Sullivan: There are 265,000 blind people in the United States with 7000 in Massachusetts. Blindness has no respect for personality, religion, etc. There is no age category, however, 10 per cent of the nation's blind are under 21 and 50 per cent of the blind are over 65.

Mr. Sullivan told of three eras in work for the blind. During the Pagan era, a child which was born blind was cast out into the wilderness, or into a river to drown. If the child lost its sight in early childhood, a boy would be taught to beg and a girl would be sold into slavery, and they were allowed to wander over the earth.

During the Christian era also called the Humanitarian era, organized efforts were made to help the blind. Religious orders

Hunnewell Club Bowling News

Next Monday, April 6, the Parent Teachers Association will meet at 8 p.m. at the Davis School auditorium in West Newton. Following an important business meeting, a panel discussion will take place entitled, "Safety Around the Clock."

James D. Lautis, director of the Newton Junior College, will be moderator of this discussion. The following will take part in the panel:

Lawrence N. Clark, Fire Prevention Bureau, Newton Fire Department; Charles E. Feely, Safety Officer, Newton Police Department; Warren L. Huston, Assistant Director of School Safety; and Richard J. Smith, Faculty Advisor, Davis Safety Patrol.

This promises to be one of the most interesting programs we've had. Therefore, an excellent attendance of parents is expected at this meeting. Refreshments will be served following the discussion.

In the Bottle Pin section of the League, Hunnewell was more successful, and finished in a tie for First with Waban Neighborhood Club, and winning the Roll-off that followed. It being the first time since 1940, that Hunnewell has won.

The Bottle Pin team was composed of Messrs. Griffin, Watling, Rosene, Loring, and Johnson with the able assistance of Karl Scheibe, Dr. L. W. Storer, and Reginald Fredette, with Al Rosen acting as Captain and Manager.

Individual winners were: Henry Johnson Jr. with a three-string total of 677, Harry Watling with a single string of 255, and Dr. L. W. Storer in the Roll-off at Maugus on Monday, March 23rd, with a single string of 206, thus bringing to a close another pleasant season of League Bowling.

Rainbow Girls

On Saturday evening, March 21, the Order of Rainbow for Girls held its initiation.

Those initiated were: Cynthia A. Davis of West Newton, Catherine Goudas of Auburndale, Dorothy Goudas of Auburndale, Carolle Hamilton of West Newton, Roberta M. Ingham of West Newton, Margaret MacKenzie of Newton Highlands.

Following the Initiation a Nibble Party was held. At that time there were tryouts for the Cabaret to be held on April 18th at the Masonic Temple, Newtonville.

Art Association Demonstration

One of the most colorful and entertaining events of the season will occur Thursday, April 16 at 7:30 p.m. when several members of the Newton Art Association demonstrate the actual painting of a picture.

As guests of the Newton Centre Woman's Club in its beautiful, spacious auditorium in Newton Centre Square, the Art Association holds its third annual "Artists at Work" night. Practically every method of picture making, such as the oil medium, pastel, crayons, water color, poster paint, and caseine are shown, presenting an opportunity for the public to see for themselves how real pleasure can be derived from this hobby whether one is a professional or merely an amateur.

In conjunction with these activities there will be an exhibition by the artists of recent paintings, representing portraits, landscapes, still life and marine subjects. Here is a wholesome, exciting, instructive form of entertainment which should reveal the reason why the Newton Art Association holds the record in New England for an event of this type.

There will be a regular Board Meeting at the Club House at 10 a.m. April 2 followed by a meeting of the Chairmen. The executive Board will entertain the Chairmen at a luncheon at noon.

On Tuesday, April 7, the Membership Committee and the Executive Board will entertain the most recent new members, and their sponsors, at 2:30 p.m. Tea will be served following an interesting program.

Mayor-

Mayor Lockwood's speech follows:

"It is a pleasure to have any subject arousing civic interest discussed in our City, Newton. This is one city with an organized Research Library as a recognized part of its government, and in ordinary course it is our habit to keep pace with the best progressive thinking across the Country.

"Our city officers have participated repeatedly in important panel discussions of the American Municipal Association, and have read papers in their various technical associations from coast to coast.

"We adhere to the policy that he profits most who serves best. It is possible to create a reality of such a policy in a city up to a given size; but it is not possible to maintain equal esprit de corps in a very large city where systematic and bureaucratic controls are necessarily in force.

"Newton has grown 25% while the average growth of the other 33 cities in the State amounts to 2%; but all big metropolitan areas have been growing at a rate 4 times faster than the rest of the Country. Newton is 11th in population, but 4th in public school enrollment, as well as in valuation among the 351 municipalities in the State. Boston's history in these respects is so contrasted with that of Newton as to create an extremely difficult condition in which to merge operations.

"One should take care not to exaggerate the importance of a chief executive of a city. The operating of 23 departments and 22 boards, each with ample responsibility and workload, presents such a picture of activity as to convince anyone that the law of diminishing returns would apply whenever bureaucracy increased.

"The total financial transactions of the City of Newton involve about $30,000,000 per year, with somewhat over 2,000 employees. The most troublesome factor in big business is the inability of executives to know and be understood by their employees. A larger city cannot hope to meet our standards of efficiency. A merging of Newton with Boston could not result in improved city services nor in lower taxes for Newton residents; but inversely would result in lessened services and lessened expenditure of tax receipts within Newton. No element of altruism accompanies the thought of unification.

"The development of bureaucratic government at federal and state levels in recent years has created a universal distaste for bureaucracy. Any large city, whether an independent entity, a combination of boroughs, or a federated organization of lesser municipalities, today is loaded with bureaucracy. Add politics to bureaucracy and you spell anathema to Newton citizens.

"Newton agrees that strong cities make a strong nation, and has a sound record over the years. When the greatest problem of George Washington was financing the Revolution, the Town of Newton put up the funds for wages and subsistence in advance of its troops joining the Army. Newton has paid its own way ever since!

"The larger the city, the less existent is the common bond of community interest. Up to, say, 150,000, this interest may be highly developed and be a prime factor in maintenance of efficiency, economy, and the special type of local government desired.

"We have half as many employees in the Street Department today as we had in 1909 and we collect our own rubbish and handle our grass and trees ourselves. Can Boston say the same? Or can the suburbs be blamed for the difference?

"We have one central Police Headquarters to handle 14 villages very efficiently, while Boston, by habit, has 17 Police Stations, each with a Captain who is a king in his district. Is there anything there for us to copy? Remember, we have 41% of Boston's area. Which method would rise above the other in adoption? Is there any question? Not in my mind!

"The Library system, free of political interference, with an elaborate branch system largely developed through public subscription, could not maintain its high efficiency in a more bureaucratic system. Its initiative would be lost.

"The building program for Newton in the past 4 years, said to be the greatest of any city in the State, indicates a record for sound, progressive principles of municipal government. Who can present a prospect of improved popular approval of any arrangement, the result of which could only lower our standards to the level of the average?

"We live for democratic home rule. While the federal and state governments take heavy taxes from Newton people and distribute the funds elsewhere, that experience has caused us to guard against an extension of such situations. In place of competent, relatively independent career department heads in Newton, we would have a group of underlings taking dictation from a central government less interested in developing the tastes and wishes of Newton citizens.

"The City of Boston has an excellent Mayor and I esteem him highly. He doubtless considers Newton's problems as trivial compared to Boston's; but he has lived in Boston all his life and has held an honorable record in the City Hall for many years. Each of us must bear in mind realistically that each body politic takes its thinking and policies from the grass roots of its own people. We frequently hear the word "Imperialistic" used these days in international comment and we resent anyone's describing this Country as having Imperialistic designs. Could we, however, envision any thought of altruism on the part of Boston or Boston politicians in adding territory to that City? How many past, present or future Boston public office-holders would favor a Greater Boston Government in which they felt their hold upon Boston or Greater Boston affairs might slip beyond their control?

"The literature and even Congressional studies link the politicians of some sections with crime or gambling. Within our own State, in what city would you expect such a situation might take form? Am I an idealist to mention such a problem? Is not the general subject reflected in current legislative control?

"The relative loss of home rule is our chief objection. Would taxes be lower? Would schools be better, and cost less?

"The problems of the large metropolitan cities of the country were ably discussed at a conference in Washington this month, and a national authority in municipal circles stated that whatever the problem, the uniform conviction follows today that no method of solution can be of assistance which increases the size of a city."

portation, her housing, and above all, her ability to attract people to work, buy, sell and play within Boston. The difference in which annexation would operate lies in the fact that those now living outside would stand the cost of such changes.

"There is a disposition to share the costs of improvements, except that communities like Newton which are not run by professional politicians will not trust such a change. They are convinced that just as the history of Boston reflects, generations of professional politicians will take over and Newton people do not want to move another 10 or 20 miles to get away from that.

Giles and Mrs. Robert T. Steinsieck from Newton Centre; Mr. Jack L. Abrams, Mrs. M. Fletcher Eades and Mrs. Alton S. Pope, representing Newtonville.

Invited guests included: Mr. Ernest G. Angevine, vice president of the Newton Board of Aldermen and Mrs. Angevine; and Dr. Herbert G. Dunphy, chairman of the Tumor Clinic of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Officers of the Newton Committee of the Cancer Crusade for 1952 present were: Dr. Lewis S. Pilcher, chairman; Mr. William H. Rice, treasurer; Mrs. Robert E. McCourt, secretary; Mrs. Chester P. Baker, publicity chairman, with members of her committee, Mrs. Harold R. Beacham, Mrs. Willard W. Rice and Mrs. Otis E. Stephenson, all of Newton Centre.

"If Boston believes that the addition of these suburban voters will improve the quality of the Boston elections, why not let us generously settle that question for them without causing us to suffer the losses incurred through annexation. The control of policies rests with the Boston electorate, although the Legislature has concluded to take over in some directions, and by indirect control in others.

"There is no person living in Newton too good to serve in the City Government and our first City officers hold and have held prominent positions in the state and federal governments.

"Strangulation by traffic is a malady not to be remedied by annexing other cities and towns. Joining Newton to Boston would not create more riders on the MTA; but Newton taxpayers could be made to pay a larger part of the deficit. There is no doubt but that unplanned and obsolete street and transportation systems contributed to the increased use of the automobile and the resultant congestion.

"Traffic engineers agree that so long as the roads built out of the city to handle traffic continue to bring more people into the city, where they only develop congestion, the problem becomes only more involved for the big city.

"It's not the State spending 57% million dollars, in addition to much more, to assist the situation in Boston? That sum will provide 1.6 miles of new through roadway, but also provides 2.7 miles of ramps to dump more vehicles into Boston, and so the problem grows.

"Boston needs no additional territory for her population, which is shrinking. She will have to revise her streets and transports, her housing, and above all, her ability to attract people to work, buy, sell and play within Boston. The difference in which annexation would operate lies in the fact that those now living outside would stand the cost of such changes.

"There is a disposition to share the costs of improvements, except that communities like Newton which are not run by professional politicians will not trust such a change. Means Committee will do a workmanlike job in keeping expenses down.

"Extravagance and corruption will be rooted out as fast as they can be found. The courageous efforts of our great governors, plus the help we will receive from both House and Senate, will make a substantial reduction in the cost of government. That is the first; then and only then can we reduce taxes."

"It is my considered opinion," Rep. Raynor concluded, "that we shall reduce taxes and honest legislation, not by political maneuvering.

iting a mayor from holding two public offices at the same time.

Mr. Muther said, "We believe that opinion in Newton is overwhelmingly against dual office holding in the case of our mayors."

"Newton wants and needs a truly full-time chief executive and, unless a city manager were to be hired, it would be counter to the best interests of the city to have a mayor who also was serving in the Legislature."

MAYOR Theodore R. Lockwood, Honorary Newton chairman of the 1953 Cancer Crusade, discusses plans for the April Fund Drive with Wilfred Chagnon, president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Robert E. McCourt, campaign secretary.

Homecrafters Club
To Hold Exhibition

Mrs. Louis Billings
Guest Speaker

Hobbies of furniture reproduction, wood carving, metal work, pottery design and production, and other home crafts fill the leisure hours of over sixty members of the Newton Homecrafters Club. This Club was established nearly twenty years ago and has met twice a month ever since, with interesting talks by experts, and demonstrations both in members' shops and accompanying the talks. Although professions are widely divergent and tastes differ, the common aim of these members is the same—to work together and fashion articles for use and beautification in the home.

Captain Harold R. Keller, president of this unique club, announces an exhibition of useful articles made by these men from every walk of life on Monday, April 6 from 3:00 p.m. until 6:00 p.m. and from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. at the Newton Centre Methodist church. Members, friends and all interested residents are invited to visit this display.

Devoting much time to the preparation of this exhibit are Mr. D. J. Shea of Newtonville, Chairman; Mr. Angus B. MacMillan, Mr. Warren P. Forde and Mr. Howard G. Fobbs, all of Newton Highlands, and Mr. Louis F. Billings of Newton Centre.

Also are the following members, Raymond H. Fox, Auburndale; Harold T. Bowker and Dr. Howard Moore of Newton; Fred D. Bond, J. H. Chandler, Peter Coogan, Harold J. Davidson, Lawrence P. Farnham, Edson L. Fitch, William Hahn, E. Prentiss Jones, Samuel B. Paul and E. Ray Speare, all of Newton Centre.

Members from Newton Highlands are Theodore F. Brigham, Paige B. Coons, John R. Denning, Dennis S. Downes, Edwin S. Drown, Ben T. Fawcett, Howard H. Hobbs, Warren B. Kennedy, Harris W. Largey, Gilbert Marey, Grosvenor D. W. Marey, Dr. Frank W. Maurer, Donald D. McKay, William B. Nevin, Louis C. Schoeher, Alfred R. Taylor, S. Paul Townsend, and Mark J. Winsor.

Albert A. Dulac, James Ferbes, Kenneth B. Hastings, Wentworth T. Howland, John R. Rees, George E. Thierry, and Earl F. Wilder, all of Newtonville, John A. Timm of Oak Hill; Ralph E. Atwood, Aaron Marshall Jones and Howard A. Whittum, all of West Newton, Roy E. Argerberger, Frederick W. Atherton, John T. Croghan, Chester C. Dodge, S. Paul Townsend, and Mark J. Winsor.

Contributions may be delivered to the YWCA, 140 Clarendon street, Boston, or a pick-up call can be arranged by calling Information Service, KENmore 6-7940.

Vincent T. Estabrook, Arthur S. Fairbanks, Eugene E. Little, C. Charles Moran, John Richmond and Ralph Riddle, all of Waban, and C. Francis Tower of Wellesley.

Sports of All Sorts

Newton's Tenley Albright did it again this weekend, capturing easily the women's figure skating championship for the United States. This is another first for Tenley, as she is the first woman ever to win the "triple crown" of World, North American and United States figure skating championships.... By the time perfectionist Tenley decides to hang up her skates — which we hope won't be for a good many years—she undoubtedly will have annexed just about every championship available to women in figure skating... Newton skating fans who haven't yet had a chance to witness Tenley in action will get their chance Monday through Thursday at the Boston Skating Club's "Ice Chips" Show in Boston Garden. This is strictly an amateur show, as Tenley hopes to continue seeking amateur titles "until I fall apart".... And a big loud raspberry to all the national newsmen who tried to attach the label "Boston" to our homebred champ.... Manson Hall and Halvor Seward of Newton Centre received varsity letters in hockey at Amherst College in the first year that hockey has been an official varsity sport. Hall, a senior, ended the season as second high scorer on the team. He was the right wing on the first line and co-captain. Right behind Hall in scoring was Seward, also a right winger. Amherst reports that "great things" are expected next year of Seward, who is only a sophomore.... Prospects are good for another banner year in Newton High School baseball—if the team ever gets a chance to play outside. The way the weather has been the last few weeks, the baseball schedule may have to be played inside the drill shed with the ball on a string.... With the cooperation of the weatherman (who has been in a nasty mood lately) the season will get under way either Monday or Tuesday against Medford at the Lowell avenue field. This is one of the traditional games in local schoolboy circles, since Newton generally marks the opening of the baseball season with this early encounter.... Maybe Spring really is here. The nets are now up in the tar tennis courts at the high school.... Newton's baseball coach Howie Ferguson should always have such headaches: he has so many candidates this Spring that he doesn't know where to put them all.... A baseball man, Alan W. Campbell of 94 Nehoien road, is seeking help in forming a Pony League in Newton. Since the city already has a Little League, it seems obvious in this quarter that a Pony League is needed. Something is missing when our youngsters learn to play baseball in the Little Leagues but they have to rely on sandlot and pickup games until they are old enough to play in the recreation leagues. The Pony League is designed to help bridge that gap. We think the Pony League—Protect Our National Youth—is definitely needed, and Mr. Campbell should get the support of all sports-minded Newtonites.

400 to Attend
Easter Dawn
Service in N.C.

To greet the Easter morning, a gathering of more than 400 is expected at the annual Easter Dawn Service on Andover Newton Hill at 6:30 a.m. this Sunday.

Rev. Walter J. Harrelson, assistant professor of Old Testament at Andover Newton Theological school will bring the Easter message. Mr. Harrelson is in great demand in the New England area as a speaker at youth rallies and conferences.

This Easter service is sponsored by the young people through the Youth Department of the Council. Young people of Newton are especially invited to the service but all ages are most cordially welcome, according to Mrs. George S. Windsor of The First Church in Newton (Congregational). The young people of First Church are in charge of arrangements this year.

A youth choir composed of young people from the Auburndale churches is scheduled to sing. The worship service, planned by the members of Second Church, will be conducted by members of several Newton churches.

In case of rain at the 6:30 hour the service will be held at the bottom of the hill in the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre.

Other committees connected with the service are: Publicity, First Baptist; public address system, Eliot; parking, Central.

Many churches are planning Easter breakfasts immediately following the sunrise service.

New Danny Kaye

Danny Kaye unveils a new personality to audiences who will see him on the screen of the Central Sq. Theatre, Waltham, beginning April 14 in Samuel Goldwyn's technicolor film, "Hans Christian Andersen."

The Wal-Lex Senior Dance Skating Club was featured in the finale. Music was by Frank Picher at the organ.

Among those present were Mayor and Mrs. Turner, Councillors Joseph D. McCarthy and Frederick B. Sweet Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William L. Rinehart, George A. Kelley of the Board of Appeals and his wife, Ruth, a member of the School Committee, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Kirsch, Jr., Miss Stella M. Mazur, executive director of Waltham Chapter, and Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald.

Tickets were handled by Randolph P. Cameron Jr., Chapter vice-president, and Russell M. Hills, Harry Snider and Mr. Rinehart.

Before he returned he visited the relief and reconstruction work of the Congregational Christian Churches in Italy; saw the College Cevenol, Le Chambon-sur-Lignon, France, which is under the American Board Mission of Fellowship to Europe, and visited with the Protestant churches of Spain.

Seek Addresses

SCIENCE FAIR

The sixth annual Weeks Science Fair will be held on April 13 and 14 in the boys' gym.

This year the judges will not be Newton teachers, as in the past, but outsiders. The projects will be judged as follows: 1—Scientific thought; 2—Advancement of science; 3—Ingenuity of construction; 4—Awareness of social implications; 5—Originality of concept; 6—Thoroughness; 7—Dramatic value.

All winners are able to compete with the winners from the three other junior highs at Newton High School.

Grownups are invited to see the Science Fair on April 14.

By DAVID LYON

BAND ASSEMBLY

The assembly on March 18 was a combination of a burlesque show and band concert.

One of the main attractions was Mr. Parker, the Band leader, who, dressed in a bathing suit which must have dated back to the last century, sang "By the Sea." To complete his costume he wore a football helmet, which didn't fit, and suspended from his neck was a referee's whistle.

The Band played many happy selections which included a few School songs. The baton twirlers got into the act as well.

This jovial assembly served to invigorate the entire school body for the whole day.

Discuss Preliminary Plans for Red Feather Campaign in Fall

William M. Cahill, was re-elected President of the Newton Community Chest at its Annual Meeting held at the Normandie Room, Norumbega Park, Auburndale, last Thursday evening. Nathan D. Bugbee and David Berkman were elected Vice Presidents; George L. White, Treasurer, and H. J. Pettengill, Clerk.

The featured speaker at the Annual Meeting was Judge G. Bruce Robinson, Special Justice of the Boston Juvenile Court, and Charles Devens, 1954 Campaign Chairman of the Red Feather Campaign for Metropolitan Boston, discussed preliminary plans for next Fall's Campaign.

Nathan D. Bugbee was appointed Chairman of the Budget Committee for the coming year, as were David Berkman, Campaign Committee; Robert R. Walker, Public Relations Committee, and Riley Hampton, Nominating Committee.

Mr. Devens stated that he was impressed with the enviable record that Newton had always achieved in Red Feather Campaigns. He congratulated Newton on being the only town or city to have supplied the Greater Boston Red Feather Campaign with four Chairmen Ripley Dana, Leverett Slatton, Maynard Hutchinson, and Joseph T. Walker, Jr. The City of Boston has supplied only three Chairmen and no other Metropolitan community has contributed more than two. He said that the challenge in this year's Campaign would be to bring home to our contributors that higher incomes carry with them higher responsibility for charity giving.

Judge Robinson on speaking about the problems of delinquency and the child offender said that social agencies and groups working with these delinquent youngsters should in their opinion, devote as much of their energies as possible towards prevention. He stated that a few dollars spent in finding the source of youths' troubles might save hundreds of thousands later on. He called attention to the Gleuck study published a year or two ago entitled "Unraveling Juvenile Delinquency." He said that 500 boys in two groups from the same neighborhood, with the same advantages, same education, and I.Q., have been studied, where the home situation was adequate in one group and inadequate in the other. Where the family life was satisfactory and there was an emotional contact between parent and child only 3% of the group was delinquent. In the other group where boys had no proper parental contact and were on their own with no common family interest 98% of the group were delinquent. In his opinion this is an important study because through tables which have been prepared the possibility of an individual child's delinquency can be predicted and a method of prevention prescribed. The study further points out that children should be tested at an early age, possibly 6 to 8 years old because if delinquency habits are present by the time these boys reach 13 to 16 years they can be very difficult problems.

Seated at the head table in addition to President Cahill, who presided, and Messrs. Robinson and Devens, were Honorable Theodore R. Lockwood, James S. Plaut, Chairman of the North Metropolitan Red Feather Campaign Committee; George L. White, Treasurer; Nathan D. Bugbee, Chairman of the Budget Committee; Franklin D. Jerome, 1953 Campaign Chairman; Leo Barry, Public Relations Committee Chairman; Reverend W. Edge Dixon of the Newton Methodist Church who gave the invocation, H. J. Pettengill, Executive Director of the Chest; and Mrs. William M. Cahill, Mrs. James S. Plaut, Mrs. George L. White, Mrs. Nathan D. Bugbee and Mrs. W. Edge Dixon.

Manager of Radio Station at College

Martin L. Aronson of 1071 Commonwealth Avenue, Newton Centre, a sophomore at Dartmouth College, has been named production manager of WDBS, the student-run radio station at Dartmouth.

Aronson, who is a graduate of Newton High School and who lives in Hanover at 302 Hitchcock Hall, is a member of Pi Lambda Phi fraternity. He will take on his new duties after the Spring vacation. The radio station serves the entire college community seven days a week.

Pledged to 'Frat' At Univ. of Maine

Bradford S. Barton of Newton Centre was pledged to Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity at the University of Maine recently during the spring "rushing" period.

He will reside in the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house when he returns to the university for the fall semester and will be initiated shortly afterwards.

Manager of Radio

Martin L. Aronson of 1071 Commonwealth Avenue, Newton Centre, a sophomore at Dartmouth College, has been named production manager of WDBS, the student-run radio station at Dartmouth.

Aronson, who is a graduate of Newton High School and who lives in Hanover at 302 Hitchcock Hall, is a member of Pi Lambda Phi fraternity. He will take on his new duties after the Spring vacation. The radio station serves the entire college community seven days a week.

Pledged to 'Frat' At Univ. of Maine

Bradford S. Barton of Newton Centre was pledged to Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity at the University of Maine recently during the spring "rushing" period.

He will reside in the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house when he returns to the university for the fall semester and will be initiated shortly afterwards.

Nathan D. Bugbee was appointed Chairman of the Budget Committee for the coming year, as were David Berkman, Campaign Committee; Robert R. Walker, Public Relations Committee, and Riley Hampton, Nominating Committee.

Mr. Devens stated that he was impressed with the enviable record that Newton had always achieved in Red Feather Campaigns. He congratulated Newton on being the only town or city to have supplied the Greater Boston Red Feather Campaign with four Chairmen Ripley Dana, Leverett Slatton, Maynard Hutchinson, and Joseph T. Walker, Jr. The City of Boston has supplied only three Chairmen and no other Metropolitan community has contributed more than two. He said that the challenge in this year's Campaign would be to bring home to our contributors that higher incomes carry with them higher responsibility for charity giving.

Judge Robinson on speaking about the problems of delinquency and the child offender said that social agencies and groups working with these delinquent youngsters should in their opinion, devote as much of their energies as possible towards prevention. He stated that a few dollars spent in finding the source of youths' troubles might save hundreds of thousands later on. He called attention to the Gleuck study published a year or two ago entitled "Unraveling Juvenile Delinquency." He said that 500 boys in two groups from the same neighborhood, with the same advantages, same education, and I.Q., have been studied, where the home situation was adequate in one group and inadequate in the other. Where the family life was satisfactory and there was an emotional contact between parent and child only 3% of the group was delinquent. In the other group where boys had no proper parental contact and were on their own with no common family interest 98% of the group were delinquent. In his opinion this is an important study because through tables which have been prepared the possibility of an individual child's delinquency can be predicted and a method of prevention prescribed. The study further points out that children should be tested at an early age, possibly 6 to 8 years old because if delinquency habits are present by the time these boys reach 13 to 16 years they can be very difficult problems.

Seated at the head table in addition to President Cahill, who presided, and Messrs. Robinson and Devens, were Honorable Theodore R. Lockwood, James S. Plaut, Chairman of the North Metropolitan Red Feather Campaign Committee; George L. White, Treasurer; Nathan D. Bugbee, Chairman of the Budget Committee; Franklin D. Jerome, 1953 Campaign Chairman; Leo Barry, Public Relations Committee Chairman; Reverend W. Edge Dixon of the Newton Methodist Church who gave the invocation, H. J. Pettengill, Executive Director of the Chest; and Mrs. William M. Cahill, Mrs. James S. Plaut, Mrs. George L. White, Mrs. Nathan D. Bugbee and Mrs. W. Edge Dixon.

Civil Defense Sector Test to Be Conducted Here Sunday

Meeting Will Discuss Human Relations

"Human Relations" is to be the topic of discussion at the Newton Community Council's Annual Meeting April 16 at Memorial Hall, Newton Centre. The speaker will be John D. Coughlan, Director of the State Division of Youth Service and Chairman of the Youth Service Board. Mr. Coughlan was formerly Superintendent of Schools in Marlboro and Canton, has been principal, supervisor and teacher in the Everett Public Schools. He was graduated magna cum laude from Providence College and has his M.S. from Harvard School of Administration.

Also on the program a member of the Community Council's Human Relations Committee will give a summarized progress report of the committee's findings to date.

Preceding this portion of the meeting, which is at 8 p.m. and open to anyone who may be interested in attending, there will be a dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the City Hall cafeteria and the Annual Business Meeting of the Council.

Major Action To Take Place At Norumbega

Rep. Thresher To Address Minister's Assn

William J. Baxter, Director of Newton Civil Defense, states that the Sector Exercise to be held this Sunday afternoon, will be conducted as announced with the elimination of the blowing of sirens. Permission for this phase of the activity was refused at the State level. The Yellow Alert will be given at 1:30, the Red at 1:45 and the All Clear at 2:00 p.m.

Ground Zero for this test will be assumed to be in the vicinity of City Hall. Following a survey to be made by the Radiological Monitoring Teams, Newton will call on the various Cities and Towns within the Sector for aid. They, in turn, will move in Police, Fire, Communications, Mobile Canteens and other equipment, all of which will assemble at the Norumbega Parking area.

From Norumbega, the various units will be dispersed to the Charles River to an area known as the Duck Feeding area where various drills will be held.

The public is cordially invited to observe this exercise. However, the area where the test will take place will be closed.

Contends City Still Needs Its Old School Buildings

Technical-Vocational High School's Field Trip Completed

Newton Technical-Vocational High School's second annual field trip was made during the week of March 30 to April 3. Thirty-four boys and two instructors went by chartered bus to New York, Philadelphia and Washington in five eventful days packed with organized sightseeing and entertainment.

First stop after leaving the school on Monday morning was for lunch near New Haven. The party arrived at a New York hotel in the evening and after dinner attended the Perry Como TV show.

On Tuesday the morning was devoted to a tour of Radio City and NBC studios. In the afternoon the journey was resumed to Philadelphia for the second overnight stop in a hotel. On Wednesday the United States Mint, Independence Hall, and the Museum of Science kept everybody busy — until the party left for Washington late in the afternoon. Dinner that evening was in Elkton, Maryland.

A 9:30 start on Thursday gave all a chance to visit the Lincoln Memorial and then over the Potomac to Arlington National Cemetery to the Tomb of

Says Caution Needed to Stop Big Debt

Newton should be in no hurry to abandon its old school buildings quite yet, observed Lorenz F. Lewis, the Capitol Building, through the Embassy section of the city, and to the Jefferson Memorial. The famed Washington cherry blossoms were particularly early this year and were viewed by the Newton visitors.

All agreed the trip was a great success and junior members of the party have started planning for another year. Students going on these trips finance their own expenses. A waste paper drive held during the winter months was one method to help pay for the bus.

Teachers accompanying the students were Robert C. Densmore, of the Electrical Department, and William G. Johnstone, of the Machine Department. William Flores, a teacher from Nicaragua who is visiting Newton Technical-Vocational High School this year, was also one of the party.

Arrangements for the trip were made by a joint student-teachers committee under the chairmanship of J. Joseph Ward.

Warns Residents of Possible Bad Effects of Toll Highway

Newton residents were advised to investigate the effects on their homes and property of both proposed routes for the east-west toll highway by Rep. Howard Whitmore Jr., who warned that immediate action was vital.

Both of the two most prominently mentioned routes pass through Newton. Rep. Whitmore pointed out, and they would doubtless have a great effect on homes and property. He advised immediate action, since the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority has the power to determine the route locations without a public hearing.

One of the proposed routes, referred to as the northerly route, enters Newton from Waltham along the course of the Charles River, cuts somewhat south of the Waltham boundary, and crosses to the Norumbega Park area where there are three potential routes over the Charles. The second proposed route en-

League of Women Voters Fund Campaign Is Now Under Way

A campaign to gain more funds is now being conducted by the League of Women Voters of Newton. As a non-partisan, dynamic civil group, the League through its constant awareness of local, national and international issues, has done much to benefit the residents of Newton.

This realization has led many important leaders in the community to give their whole-hearted support to the League's current fund-raising drive, and to praise the work done by them.

Wilfred Chagnon, President of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, says, "The Newton Chamber of Commerce heartily endorses the work of the Newton League of Women Voters. Their annual campaign, now being conducted to raise funds for the continuance of their work, de-

City Employees Attack Stand By Taxpayers' Ass'n on Raises

The stand by the Newton Taxpayers Association against granting wage and salary increases recommended by Mayor Lockwood for city employees was stalled Monday by the Newton City Employees Union.

Frank Pillion, president of Local 800, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, stated the union plans to seek the raises again in the supplementary budget.

He declared that Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., executive director of the Newton Taxpayers Association, "is not very well acquainted with good personnel practices" and is not as familiar with the wage problem as Mayor Lockwood.

Mr. Pillion's complete statement follows:

"It is apparent that Director Muther is not very well acquainted with good personnel practices and has not come to realize that an efficiently paid personnel produces more efficiently, more effectively for the taxpayer and citizen of Newton than they would without adequate wages and, thereby, by such efficiency and a high degree of morale prevailing among the employees of the city, the taxpayer receives more for his tax dollar than attempting to operate at low wages.

"Mayor Theodore A. Lockwood is not one who can be described as extravagant. He has been a prudent, honest and capable administrator. He is more closely associated and therefore more familiar with the problems of the municipal employees than the executive director of the Taxpayers Association, and when, in his wisdom, he recommends a modest wage increase for the employees of the city, it is with much regret that the Board of Aldermen refuses to pay heed to his recommendations which, of course, have been based on thorough and sound experience with the affairs of the city, his knowledge of municipal problems and his familiarity with the wages of public employees.

"Alderman Prior also has a grasp of the situation but apparently a majority of the members of the Board of Aldermen were misled by Director Muther's recommendation while, as a matter of fact, they have nothing to fear from this association as it represents only a very, very small minority of taxpayers in the city.

"This certainly cannot be described as extravagance. City employees of Newton always have performed outstandingly in the interest of their fellow citizens. Many of them today are property owners and life-long residents of the city and have the interest of the city at heart a great deal more than some of Mr. Muther's members.

"We regret exceedingly the action of the Board of Aldermen and intend to petition that the recommendations of his honor, the mayor, be included in the supplementary budget to be paid to the employees of the City of Newton."

Idaho Falls Students Spending Week Here as Exchange Guests of School

A large crowd of parents and friends joined thirty Newton High School boys and girls Monday morning at the Newton railway station. They were there to greet the School and School Exchange group from Idaho Falls High School. Though tired and weary from the long trip, the excitement of youth and the greeting of friends not seen since last autumn were sufficient to carry the travelers through the first day.

After a trip to the home of the Newton pal, an hour's time to breakfast and get settled in the foster home, each Idaho Falls boy and girl was escorted to Newton High School in time for an informal reception in the Social Room. The official welcome at half past eleven was attended by the entire senior class, members of the Florida Exchange, the glee club, and the band. Robert Walton, President of the Senior Class and a "Floridian," was master of ceremonies. The program was as follows:

Newton High Band — Directed by Mr. Donald March.

Welcoming of Idaho Falls to Newton — Mr. Floyd Rinker, Director of School Exchanges; Mrs. Riley Hampton, Director of Junior Red Cross, Newton Chapter; Mr. Raymond Green, Principal of the High School.

Welcome to Idaho Falls from Newton High School — Anthony Bibbo, President of the Newton High School Associates.

Greetings from Idaho Falls — Mr. Elmer Crowley, Principal of Idaho Falls High School; Miss Faye Norris, Dean of Girls, Idaho Falls.

Introduction of Idaho Falls Girls — Dixie Jenkins, Secretary of Idaho Falls Student Body.

Introduction of Idaho Falls Boys — Jim Seeley, President of the Idaho Falls Student Body.

Singing of the Idaho State Song — Choir and Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Westley Merritt.

Greetings from the City of Newton — Mayor Theodore Lockwood; from the Newton Public Schools — Mr. Harold Gores, Superintendent; from the Newton School Board — Mrs. Genevieve Oncley.

Singing of the Newton High School and Idaho Falls High School Songs.

The Idahoans lunched at the school, attended afternoon classes, toured the buildings, and saw the opening baseball game. In the evening there was an informal party at the home of Johnny Beckwith. Kodachromes of Newton's trip to the West were seen and commented on.

Mr. Elmer Crowley, Principal of Idaho Falls High School, and Mr. Harry Walen, Newton Faculty leader for the exchange, were guests and speakers at Rotary Club the same day, as well as two students from the West, Barbara Guyette and Richard Carr. With them were their Newton pals, Phyllis Isenmaa, and Norman Tracy. In the evening Miss Katherine Curtis, Newton faculty leader, entertained at a dinner party in honor of Miss Faye Norris, Dean of Girls in Idaho Falls High School, and Mr. Crowley.

Freedom Topic Of Kiwanians' Essay Contest

The third annual Newton Kiwanis Club essay contest open to all public or parochial high students who live in Newton, will take place Saturday, May 2, at the Newtonville Branch Library.

Six $50 awards will be made for the six best essays on the Kiwanis theme "Freedom: Our Sacred Trust," which concerns the American heritage of freedom received from the past and to be passed on to the future.

The responsibility of the present generation should be developed in a specific, practical way, showing careful thought by the essayist. Students will register with their school not later than April 18.

Contestants will report to the Newtonville Branch Library, 345 Walnut street, May 2 at 9 a.m. for a one-hour written essay on the topic which will be assigned. Notes or books are not to be taken into the room while writing the essays. Essays will be judged on originality, substance and form. The names of the judges will be announced before the contest.

Students will wish to prepare by reading basic material on American freedom, the leadership, effort and sacrifice which established, developed and protected it. This will be found in American histories, in current events, in periodical articles. Recent issues of the Kiwanis Magazine also have editorials and comments on this theme. Copies will be available at the Main Library and at most Branch Libraries. There will be a shelf of material available at the Newtonville Branch Library, to be read on the premises.

The Essay Committee is composed of the following Club members: Dr. Robert J. Muse, Club President, Arnold E. Worth, Thomas J. Lyons, James P. Gallagher, Harold A. Wooster and James D. Laurits.

Newton High School's base ball legions got off on the right foot Monday when they squealed by Medford 1-0, but the result shouldn't cause any outfield fences to be moved back. A total of three hits were made by both teams, Medford's lone single coming in the ninth. Jimmy Ryan led off the game for the Tigers with a single, and Joe Salvia completed Newton's hitting spree with a two-out double in the third frame....The game was reminiscent of the old Spring training joke of the rookie writing home "See you soon, Mom. They're starting to curve 'em"....Newton batters missed third strikes 11 times. Medford was a little better with 10 K's....The only run came in the sixth when Dick Allen—one of Newton's more impressive pitchers—got a free trip to first base. After an error and another walk, Willard Hammill made his only appearance of the game as a pinch-hitter and also drew a walk to force in the lone tally....Newton had men on base in every inning except the second but couldn't push them along. The local infielders did a good job of getting the ball to the right place....The Tigers better not play on rainy days. Half the team seems to be wearing glasses. Anybody got a patent on windshield wipers for spectacles?....Ed Iarobino of Chestnut Hill, a senior at Boston College, has been elected captain of the 1953 golf team at The Heights. Ed may be remembered by local golfers as a former caddie and caddy master at the Commonwealth Country Club. The Eagles will be defending their New England Intercollegiate Championship. Their chances look pretty good since the BeeCees have a strong team, including Leo Grace, New England's intercollegiate golf champ....

Red Cross Aids Local People through Home Serv. Program

People with problems were helped nearly a quarter a million times each month in 1952. Home Service workers in the 700 local chapters of the American Red Cross, F. Brittain Kennedy, 1953 Red Cross Fund chairman announced today. Home Service is the community phase of the Red Cross program which assists troubled servicemen, veterans and their families in solving personal and domestic dilemmas. The thousands of volunteers who carry on this program are backed up by a Red Cross field staff at military installations and hospitals in this country and abroad totaling almost 2500. In a recent case handled by the local chapter through speeded Cross communications, a sailor aboard ship in the Mediterranean was returned to the states to go to the deathbed of his father. On receipt of the news from the Newton Chapter, the Commanding Officer of his ship granted leave. Arrangements were made for the serviceman to fly to his father's bedside and a Red Cross loan as given for travel expenses. A corporal's wife with four small children was to be hospitalized for her fifth child. There was no family available to care for the other children during the mother's absence. Red Cross aid for a housekeeper to take charge while the mother was having her new baby. Newton parents obtained financial assistance from the local chapter to reach the bedside of their son at a mid-western Air Force Base before his birth. Accommodations in a Red Cross guest house were made available to the parents during their trying vigil at their son's bedside.

During the past month the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross has received three outstanding notes of appreciation or services rendered. Excerpts from these letters appear below: "My husband and I want to express our appreciation to the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross for the excellent course on infant care which we

Weeks Plans

Cong. Curtis to Be Honored

Under the leadership of Charles Howard, the Weeks Junior High School is planning its annual Science Fair to take place on April 13 and 14 in the school gymnasium. The demonstration will be open to the public on the evening of April 14 from 7 to 9 p.m.

The Science Department of the school feels very fortunate to have obtained the following judges: Robert MacCourdy of Watertown High, Ernest Spencer of Walker Parker Junior High School, Reading, Thomas Bagshaw of East Junior High School, Watertown, Harold Bjornson and Bruce Gilchrist of Malden High School and Ellis Speare of Newtonville. The judging will be completed and awards given on April 13th.

And exhibits are the result of individual pupil efforts stemming from class activities and outside hobbies. The winners will be eligible for participation in the Newton High School Science Fair at a later date.

Three Newton students at Wheaton College are taking part in the dance concert to be presented on April 17 and 18 at the college by the Country Dance and the Modern Dance Groups.

They are Miss Toby M. Berenson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Berenson, 23 Cloverdale road, Newton Centre; Nina S. Hall, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hall, 50 Manemet road, Newton Centre; and Marcia B. Silver, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward L. Silver, 30 Bruce street, Newton. Miss Berenson and Miss Hall are members of the Modern Dance Group and Miss Silver of the Country Dance Group. Excerpts from the concert will be repeated on April 25 as part of the Wheaton Parents' Weekend program.

The conference will be in session from 2 to 10 p.m. Supper will be served at 6 p.m. at Beth Eden Church, Waltham. Supper reservations must be made tomorrow (Friday) with Mrs. Herbert S. Morang, 22 Shirley road, Waltham.

Workshops will be conducted during the afternoon by Parent-Teacher Association officials and by teacher supervisors. Greetings will be extended by Mayor Henry A. Turner of Waltham; John McDevitt, superintendent of Waltham schools; Vernon Robinson, principal of South Junior High, Waltham; and Mrs. Attilio Vinciuolo, president of the Waltham Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Return of Old Pre-Primary Convention
Would Give Power to Political Bosses

One of the glaring weaknesses to the plan for restoring the old pre-primary convention system of endorsing candidates for state-wide offices is that a great deal of power would be vested in the hands of a few bosses in the two political parties.

About the only redeeming feature of the convention scheme, as it now stands, is that if the voters didn't like the choices of their State conventions, they could reject them in the popular primaries.

When official State conventions last were held back in the 1930's, the delegates were elected by vote of the people. It's true that not many voters bothered to go to the polls to elect delegates, but at least they had the power, if they chose to use it.

Under the present plan, which probably will be enacted into law, the convention delegates would be selected by town and ward committees.

The trouble with that system is that in many areas there aren't any town or ward committees worthy of the name.

Republican ward committee slates were filed in a number of Boston wards last year by Representative James C. Bayley of the Back Bay. They were elected without opposition, and having been hand-picked by Bayley they probably would give considerable weight to his views and wishes.

There is nothing particularly wrong or sinister about that situation because Bayley is an honest and energetic Republican worker. But it does demonstrate how a comparatively few men could wield a great deal of influence at a State convention.

That condition is probably more pronounced on the Democratic side than in the Republican ranks, for the Democratic party in Massachusetts today is loosely and poorly organized.

In Boston, the Democratic stronghold of New England, the Democratic city committee is practically non-existent, and in many areas there are no Democratic ward and town committees.

Where no committees are in existence, they presumably would be appointed by Democratic State Committee Chairman John C. Carr, and that might prove a significant political factor a year from now.

The likelihood is that the delegates to next year's Republican State Convention will

Deaths

Geneva M. Barrows

Miss Geneva M. Barrows, 44, of 93 Eldredge street, Newton, executive director of the Massachusetts Girl Scouts Inc., died April 1 at Massachusetts General Hospital after a brief illness. Miss Barrows had been active in Girl Scout work since 1932. Funeral services were held April 4 in West Springfield, and burial was in Meeting House Hill Cemetery in the same city.

James T. Burns

James T. Burns, 72, of 53 Cook street, Newton, who retired from the Post Office Department 13 years ago after 42 years of service, died March 31 at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. He leaves his wife, the former Alice Kerigan. Funeral services were conducted April 3 from the MacDonald Funeral Home in Watertown with interment in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham. A Solemn Requiem Mass was offered April 6 at Our Lady's Church, Newton.

Lionel G. H. Palmer

Lionel G. H. Palmer of 102 Parker street, Newton Centre, died March 31. A prominent businessman, he had compiled an outstanding record in developing the General Fireproofing Company in New England and retired in January, 1951. He belonged to many organizations and was a 32nd degree Mason. Mr. Palmer leaves his wife, the former Edna Mason; a son, Howard M. of Wellesley; and a granddaughter. Funeral services were conducted April 3 at the Newton Cemetery Chapel.

Horace E. Couvrette

Horace E. Couvrette, 76, of 20 Winter street, Newton Upper Falls, died March 31 at Allerton Hospital in Brookline. He was a brass finisher at the Gamewell Company in Newton Upper Falls. He leaves his wife, the former Blanche Gray. Services were held April 3 at the Second Baptist Church, Newton Upper Falls, with burial in Newton Cemetery.

Joseph A. Edwards

Joseph A. Edwards, 65, of 953 Watertown street, West Newton, custodian at Newton City Hall for more than 45 years, died April 1 at Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a brief illness. A resident of West Newton for all his life, he was treasurer of the City Hall Associates and was active in church activities. He leaves three sisters, Miss Mary E. Edwards, with whom he made his home; Mrs. Mildred G. McCourt of Wellesley, and Mrs. Laura E. Smith of Boston. Blessing was in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, on April 4. A Solemn Pro-Burial Mass was celebrated April 6.

Harvey E. Dye

Harvey E. Dye, 46, of 109 Eldredge street, Newton, administrative assistant for the property and procurement division of the U. S. Engineers in New England, died April 1 at his home. He leaves a son, David G. of Newton; his mother, Mrs. William Dye of Atlanta, Ga.; and three sisters. Services were held April 3 at the Folsom Funeral Chapel, Roslindale.

Close of Day

Night shadows fall.
I dream of one
Who in my tender years
Came at the end of day
To bid me close my eyes,
Kissed me good-night,
Turned down the shaded light
And softly closed the door.So have I known, Through days both bright and gray.

Some who have loved me

And others some

Who knew not love, but hate;

Who would crush out

Each warm and kindly light,

Slam shut each friendly door.

Yet, in my simple faith,

I know all else may pass

Save Love.

And in the end the Gentle Christ

Shall rule all hearts, His Light

Glow from each open door.

Night shadows fall.

When I to rest

Shall sink forevermore,

May there be one

Who loves me come

And gently close my eyes,

Kiss me good-night,

Snuff out the candle-light

And softly close the door.

And the friends? They are harder to trace down. Mr. X's friend, Mr. Y, has a son on the team too. He too is a superior player.

Another point that Mr. Murphy clarified a year ago was that if a boy went to camp for the summer he should not be picked for the team because he would not be able to play all season. Logical?

Of course! Last year, in mid-summer, a call was sent out for more players. It seems that quite a few players had fooled their fathers (or their friend's father). No one knew that they were going to camp. It was a well kept secret that Pop did not know about.

there is one sure way to get on the team: see your father. With his influence it will be easy.

After all, he can fix a traffic ticket too.

Genevans to Give Concert Here Saturday

The Genevans, mixed chorus from Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., will present a concert in the United Presbyterian Church, Newton, this Saturday at 8 p.m.

The group, under the direction of Alfred H. Johnson, is on its annual spring tour, this year in the eastern states.

Composed of 35 members, the Genevans have won acclaim for their accomplished singing in the home district and other parts of the country where they have traveled on tour.

The varied repertoire of the Genevans includes a cappella Psalms and other sacred works, classical, humorous and semi-popular selections. Among these are "Hear, Lord Our God, Have Mercy," by Tschaiikovsky; "O Send Thy Light Forth," by Balakireff; "God Be in My Head," by Alfred Johnson; "Russian Picnic," by Harvey Enders; "All Through the Night," arranged by Ken Fowler, Geneva '54; and "Tribute to Romberg."

Mrs. Paul Doehler of Newton Inspires Determination and Courage in Her Patients

A gallant lady is Mrs. Paul Doehler of Newton. The courage and determination she inspires in her patients of the Esophageal Voice Classes at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary are but the reflection of her own disciplined reaction when, about ten years ago, she learned that she must soon face life without the normal speech equipment. Even before the laryngectomy

(removal of the voice box because of cancer of the throat) Mrs. Doehler started to think of ways and means whereby she might learn to speak again. At that time she was a teacher of remedial reading and her experience in that field was invaluable to her. Now she can say to a patient, "I had cancer. There is nothing to be afraid of."

Mrs. Doehler uses her voice continually, without tiring, and with only a certain huskiness betraying the fact that in adult life she learned to speak again. Since in nine out of ten operations of this type the patient is a man, the immediate reaction is, "How can I carry on as the breadwinner of the family? Will it be possible for me to continue in my job?"

To these queries, Mrs. Doehler can answer unequivocally, "Yes." She not only was the family breadwinner but had had her share of family illness and tragedy climaxed by the death of the nominal head of the house, just prior to her own illness and operation. She therefore serves as a harbinger of hope and an instrument to alleviate the other-

Mrs. Doehler herself had only a few lessons in learning to speak. Then she continued alone, practicing, and formulating her own method of teaching a new mode of speaking. The basic principle is breath control, taking in air and exhaling it again. This causes a vibration on the muscles of the esophagus and the movements of the lips and tongue in shaping the words result in the power of speech. Mrs. Doehler stresses articulation, and, of course, practise. Sensitive to the difficulties of her patients and thoroughly sympathetic to their efforts, she is, however, a strict disciplinarian and holds steadfastly to a high standard of achievement for her pupils.

In a matter of weeks after beginning lessons a patient is able to talk, and in a year has an effortless command of his new voice. When Mrs. Doehler assures a newcomer that he can learn to speak and carry on in his same line of work she has many examples to cite. One man, in particular, has for 5½ years been back at his desk which contains six telephones, always busy.

This patient is an enthusiastic worker in the Cured Cancer Club. This was organized in 1948 with 35 members and now has a roster of 155. There are no dues and no initiation fees. The only requirement is that one is a cured cancer patient. Money is raised by means of bridge parties and sales of donated food. The first $200.00 earned was used to pay the expenses of a patient who was hospitalized for six weeks.

This accomplishment has led to the project of endowing a hospital bed. The $10,000 necessary seems a huge goal for a club with no income, but these are not members to let a worthy cause fall.

wise frightening fact of the life-saving but voice-destroying operation.

Mrs. Doehler is proud of the wonderful spirit which prevails in the club, and is intensely interested in the progress. Often when a patient facing a laryngectomy comes to her she will refer him to a member who has already had the experience and has successfully returned to work. In this way the patient is able to see first-hand that he will be able to do so himself.

These esophageal voice classes are the only ones of their kind in this vicinity. Six days a week Mrs. Doehler carries on her superb work, and one night a week finds her in Providence, R. I., teaching esophageal speech. She also gives demonstrations to interested groups of nurses from hospitals and public health service, medical students, and visiting doctors.

"Anybody can speak who is willing to persevere and will cooperate," Mrs. Doehler asserts.

Understanding and encouragement within the family and among friends is important, too.

This wonderful work is carried on through a grant from the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society which underwrites the expense of the daytime lessons. Since it is a Newton citizen who is contributing so outstandingly in this specialized field, the Cancer Crusade in Newton during the month of April offers other citizens a splendid opportunity to support these efforts. While the layman is not able to participate personally in the medical, research and rehabilitation fields which have grown up to aid cancer patients, he should feel privileged to contribute to the best of his ability to finance the work carried on by such dedicated personnel as Mrs. Doehler and her colleagues in the various areas of endeavor.

Mrs. Doehler herself had only a few lessons in learning to speak. Then she continued alone, practicing, and formulating her own method of teaching a new mode of speaking. The basic principle is breath control, taking in air and exhaling it again. This causes a vibration on the muscles of the esophagus and the movements of the lips and tongue in shaping the words result in the power of speech. Mrs. Doehler stresses articulation, and, of course, practise. Sensitive to the difficulties of her patients and thoroughly sympathetic to their efforts, she is, however, a strict disciplinarian and holds steadfastly to a high standard of achievement for her pupils.

In a matter of weeks after beginning lessons a patient is able to talk, and in a year has an effortless command of his new voice. When Mrs. Doehler assures a newcomer that he can learn to speak and carry on in his same line of work she has many examples to cite. One man, in particular, has for 5½ years been back at his desk which contains six telephones, always busy.

Oak Hill Park Shopping Center Gets Approval

Oak Hill Park's controversial shopping area, which has been pending for five years since the construction of the veterans' housing center, was another step toward reality last week after the Newton Veterans' Housing Department approved plans for the project.

The Department approved inclusion of a gasoline station in the commercial area, although the proposal for the station evoked vigorous opposition from a number of residents at a public hearing in February.

The application for the gasoline service station is now being considered by two aldermanic committees, whose approval is required before the station can be constructed.

Carl C. Mullen, chairman of the Veterans' Housing Board, declared while approving the plan that the shopping area was "indispensable" part of the housing development.

Last February, about 50 Oak Hill Park residents appeared before the Board of Aldermen to protest bitterly against the construction of the station, claiming it was an unwanted traffic hazard. Later, however, the Oak Hill Park Association reported a 141 to 52 vote in favor of the station at a special meeting in which each home had one vote.

In approving the plans for the commercial area, the Housing Board wrote:

"The Newton Veterans' Housing Department hereby approves the elevation plans as per drawings of R. I. Williams of 37 Haviland street, Wollaston, entitled 'Proposed Village Shops, Oak Hill Park.'

"This consummates a project in which this department has been deeply interested for some five years and provides the residents with a shopping center, which we are convinced is an indispensable part of the development as agreed to in all respects for its very welfare."

was due to the 13th consecutive year of the "baby boom," and "nobody sees the end of it."

The nation needs 55,000 new teachers just to keep up with increased enrollments in the primary grades, he stated, but only 35,000 will be graduated from teacher-training schools. Right now we could use 160,000 elementary school teachers to bring schools up to their proper teacher-pupil ratios, he said.

"Five hundred thousand children will get inadequate educations this year," Dr. Stinnett predicted, pointing out that the average elementary school teacher can give only about four minutes of individual help per pupil each week.

"Listing reasons for the teacher shortage, Dr. Stinnett placed a large part of the blame on the attitude of the public toward the teaching profession. He said that, in discussing the present educational problem before professional groups, he discovered very few of the professional men's sons had entered teaching.

Included in the building plans is a new gymnasium, the conversion of the heating system to oil, and the renovation of the basement area, including shower and locker room facilities. There have been few improvements here in 40 years. The program also calls for the addition of 20 badly needed dormitory rooms, renovation of the Youth Work Area and the installation of shower and locker facilities for women and girls. This latter project is in line with the desire of the parents, who generally do not have the proper respect for the teaching profession.

Dr. Stinnett, among other factors, also listed "browbeating, bulldozing and intimidation of teachers throughout the nation" as a further reason why people quit teaching.

He asked a $3200 beginning salary for teachers with step raises to double that figure in 15 years, "democratic administration" of schools, a reduction of overloading of teachers, better supervisory help, tenure for teachers, and a raising of state standards in education.

Dr. Stinnett spoke at a conference on "Selective Teacher Recruitment" sponsored by the Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards of the Massachusetts Teachers Federation.

Also speaking at the morning session was Dr. Patrick Sullivan of the State Department of Education, who cited figures showing the growth of enrollment of students in Massachusetts schools. He predicted peak enrollments in the primary grades in 1953, in grades 7 through 9 in 1960, and in grades 9 through 12 in 1963.

"One of the hardest things a young person deciding to be a teacher has to endure is the scorn and jibes of his classmates," he declared. The children, he said, get their attitude toward teaching from their parents, who generally do not have the proper respect for the teaching profession.

"The exact path of the routes has not been determined," Rep. Whitmore continued. "However, it is believed that the determination will be made within a month. St. Mary's Church Heads The List In Newton Smith College Club Tour

The Newton Smith College Club's tour of six buildings of different types and periods to be opened to the public on Thursday, April 16, includes several of historic interest.

Among these is the first Episcopal church built west of Boston after the American Revolution—St. Mary's, in Newton Lower Falls, at 258 Concord road. It was consecrated in 1814 and shows a marked change in ecclesiastical architecture from the bareness of earlier Puritan meeting houses. The bell has called people to worship for more than one hundred and thirty years. The church building looks much as it did to those who first answered the summons; ancient glass still shines in the windows, and each old box pew owned by the head of a family bears its original number. Each shows its owner's preference as to angles and shapes of backrests, bookshelves, arm-rests, and kneeling stools. St. Mary's was the first church in this vicinity to celebrate Christmas in any way. Worshippers came from a great distance to hear its organ and fine choir, to see its candle-lit windows and decorations of greens woven in garlands, and to enjoy the sermon by Reverend Alfred L. Baury, Rector of St. Mary's Church from 1822 to 1851.

Just a few steps away was "Parson Baury's" house, now the home of the Lucy Jackson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, also open to Smith tour visitors. It had been built in 1750, and was enlarged from one and one-half stories to a three-story mansion and bequeathed to the rector by Samuel Brown, a wealthy Boston merchant. Here lived the Parson and his six children. The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., bought the house in 1917 and has maintained it "as a contribution of the Colonial past to the present and future." When the Daughters renovated and remodeled it in 1929, they carefully preserved the original glass, the H and L hinges, and fine paneling. You may still see the old beehive oven and the later great fireplace and brick oven. In addition to the main central staircase, small identical staircases lead up each side of the house. The Baury family contributed miniatures, paintings and furniture long in use in the house. Other gifts of heirlooms and antiques, which include old household utensils, costumes, dolls, china, glass, and prints, have made the house a museum of treasures, as well as an authentic old Colonial home. To guide visitors here will be members of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., and Miss Dorothy L. Simpson. Mrs. John Eaton, Miss Marion H. Dorr, and Miss Mary Howard of the Newton Smith College Club. Mrs. Kenneth Henderson will have Mrs. Alfred H. Stafford and Mrs. Robert G. Fisher assisting her as hostesses at St. Mary's Church.

Tour visitors will be interested to see how the best features of Early American houses have been reproduced in Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Clark's home at 5 Sylvan Avenue, West Newton, which Philip Avery designed. It was originally a salt-box house, but as the family grew extra bedrooms were added in back. Used as the children's dining room and for many Christmas parties is the Swedish "Gammer Salen," of the same period, with a corner fireplace and open hearth. Mrs. Clark has furnished her home completely in period; many pieces, including part of a beautiful collection of pewter, she inherited, and she imported from Sweden all the furniture and fixtures of the "Gammer Salen." Receiving with Mrs. Eaton Webster are Mrs. Edmund C. Berkely, Mrs. John C. Campbell, Mrs. Garfield A. Drew, Mrs. Edward B. Farmer, Mrs. Christian A. Herten, Jr., Mrs. Parker H. Kennedy, Mrs. Charles J. MacDonald, Mrs. Stephen B. Wellington, Mrs. Darthea T. Wells, and Mrs. Joseph Mason Williams.

Miss Catherine M. Bolster, of 29 Exeter street, West Newton, is in charge of tickets, which are available through members of the club. All proceeds of the tour will go to provide scholarships to Smith College.

Newton-Chestnut Hill Chapter, A.J.C.

A large attendance is expected at the next meeting of Newton-Chestnut Hill Chapter, American Jewish Congress, on Tuesday, April 14, at Temple Emanuel.

The speaker will be Dr. David Landau, noted psychiatrist whose talk at a previous meeting created a great deal of enthusiasm and a demand for another appearance. Dr. Landau is an instructor in psychiatry at Tufts Medical School and Clinical Associate at B. U. School of Theology. He is on the staff of the N. E. Medical Center and Beth Israel Hospital, and was formerly on the faculty of Harvard Medical School, and Medical Director of the Dedham Mental Health Clinic.

Dr. Landau has chosen as his subject, "Psychiatric Aids to Happiness." The meeting will begin at 12:30 p.m. with a coffee hour in Rooms A and B at Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, and all are welcome.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Mrs. William W. Edson, president of the Auburndale Woman's Club took the opportunity at the last board meeting of the season to thank the members for their co-operation and work of the year. Especially noted on this occasion was the redecoration of the club room which has been accomplished by the hard work and concentrated efforts of the Art Committee. Mrs. D. William Lovell, chairman of art and her committee worked for two years raising funds by way of Christmas greens and art exhibits. Donations were also contributed by Mrs. D. William Lovell, Mrs. Albert E. Everett, Mrs. William A. Jarvis, Mrs. James Cardell, Mrs. Walter B. Morehouse, Mrs. Albert Studer; Mrs. Louis H. Young and Mrs. James E. Sawyer contributed wall paper and Mrs. Neal D. Herrick was consulted as to color arrangements.

The senior fellowship of the Congregational church under the leadership of Mr. Walter Bishop, student of Andover Newton Theological Seminary also earned money for their trip by painting the club room ceiling. Members of the board will resume their activities the coming season.

Cabot-Claflin Annual Whist

The Cabot-Claflin P.T.A. holds its annual Scholarship Whist Wednesday evening, April 15, at the Newtonville Woman's Club. The evening promises a great deal of entertainment, with door prizes, refreshments, and all the fun of Military Whist, with at least ten exchanges of partners. The purpose of the Whist is to raise funds with which two scholarships will be awarded to Cabot-Claflin alumnae.

Bowling Takes Up Interests of the Youngsters at Hunnewell Club

Every Saturday morning since last October, the Hunnewell Club bowling alleys have been taken over by children and teenagers. These young bowling enthusiasts form two divisions—the first includes children from 5 to 11 years of age who roll only one string while the second has 12, 13, and 14 year olds who bowl two strings apiece. There are as many as 40 bowlers in all.

Henry L. Johnson Jr. is in charge of the younger group which is separated into 6 teams. The names of these competitors are the Bears, the Panthers, the Lions, the Coyotes, the Leopards, and the Tigers. Mr. Johnson's assistants are Mrs. Thaddeus Krush and Mrs. Richard Lovell.

Mrs. Sylvester McGinn directs the Junior High School age group. They roll against their own averages rather than in teams, and not only are they taught the proper technique of bowling but they learn scoring and setting up pins for each other. Both divisions are entitled to the Hunnewell Club bowling future.

First Unitarian Society to Conduct Pledge-Drive Canvass, April 12

For the third successive year, the First Unitarian Society in Newton will conduct an Every-Member Canvass to raise $25,000 in pledges for the support of the church for the new fiscal year beginning May 1. Approximately 50 men and women will remain after next Sunday morning's service, April 12, for luncheon and pep talks before making their calls on fellow church members Sunday afternoon.

Talks to the canvassers will be made by John F. Taplin, chairman of the finance committee in charge of the pledge-drive; Warren G. Hill, trustee member of the finance committee; Joseph C. Skinner, chairman of the board of trustees; and Rev. John Ogden Fisher, minister of the West Newton Unitarian Church.

The team captains and teams comprise the following: Robert H. Cobb, captain; Frederick Fisher, Dr. Luther G. Eastman, Walter E. Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Mattson; Edward Walker, captain; Dr. David N. Hume, Rev. Ernest W. Kuebler, William L. Tisdell, John E. Cox and Arnold P. Peterson; Harold Claffin, captain; Mr. and Mrs. R. Charles Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Webster Whorf, Warren G. Hill, captain; Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Miss Dorothy Kellogg, Edward Kinsman, Mrs. Leonard A. Monzert, president and Mrs. Woods Coty, chairman, assisted by several members.

Toastmasters Club Installs Officers

The Newton Toastmasters Club installed new officers at a meeting held Wednesday evening at Tallino's Restaurant in Chestnut Hill. These officers will hold office for the next six months and were installed by Richard A. McLellan, Area Governor.

They consist of Ray L. Geddes, President; Elmer Ross, Vice President; Earl Crawford, Secretary-Treasurer; Walter J. Kreske, Sergeant-at-arms; and Clifford C. Cooper, Jr., Deputy Governor.

Also Henry W. Merrill, captain; L. Fabian Bachrach, Jr., Miss Connor.

Newton Art Association Announces "Artists at Work Night" April 16

Mr. Fred Walkley, instructor at the Boston Museum School and Director of the DeCordova Museum in Lincoln, was the guest critic of the Newton Art Association at its meeting in the Newtonville Public Library. Mr. Walkley prefaced his inspection of paintings with remarks concerning his conception of what constitutes good painting technique and the selection of subjects acceptable to the public.

As one of the officials of the coming Festival of Art in Boston, Mr. Walkley described the methods and problems encountered by a jury when it attempts to appraise paintings to be hung in a gallery or other place for exhibition purposes. The average jury is thoroughly competent through experience and knowledge to determine whether a work should be accepted or rejected.

At the next meeting, the Newton Art Association will be the guest of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Thursday April 16 from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. in their spacious auditorium at Newton Centre. Twenty members of the association will demonstrate for the third successive year the actual painting of a picture. The occasion is "Artists at Work Night" where the public is invited to a most interesting and instructive evening.

Mr. James K. Bonnar, the first president of the N.A.A., well known for his murals throughout New England, recently completed an assignment on Martha's Vineyard in a new residence, depicting familiar island scenes.

Members are asked to save clothes in all sizes for relief overseas. Condition of the garment is not too important because those receiving are very adept and skillful at mending. Your cooperation is needed and will be much appreciated. Mrs. Paul Winterhalter, chairman of the Community Service Committee, will be glad to give additional information about the clothing drive.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club of Newton will meet at the Hunnewell Club on April 15 at 10 o'clock. "Communism" will be the subject of a paper presented by Mrs. Dwight S. Simpson. The hostesses will be Mrs. Hugh M. Tomb and Mrs. J. Herbert Astoria Hotel. The activities in Young

Miss Nee, Mr. Harper Jr., Wed in Roslindale, To Live in Newton

Miss Catherine B. Nee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick V. Nee of Roslindale, became the bride of Mr. George Harper Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Harper of 11 Channing street, Newton, Easter Sunday, April 5, at the Sacred Heart Church, Roslindale.

The three o'clock double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Fabian J. Sammon. A reception was held at the George Wright Golf Club in Hyde Park.

The bride, escorted by her father, was attired in an ankle-length white lace and nylon tulle gown. Her illusion veil was caught to a seed pearl cap and she carried a white prayerbook with a white orchid and stephanotis streamers.

Miss Mary Nee, as maid of honor for her sister, was gowned in an ankle-length nile green. Draped from a matching cap embellished with seed pearls was a shoulder veil. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Catherine Smith of Wicksford, R. I., sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Murry of Dorchester. They were gowned in yellow and all three attendants carried old-fashioned bouquets.

Mr. Robert Smith of Wicksford, R. I. was best man for his brother-in-law, and serving as ushers were Mr. Ralph Cornish and Mr. Lawrence Dion of Newton.

The mother of the bride was gowned in navy blue with white accessories. For her son's wedding Mrs. Harper chose an orchid gown with navy accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

After a motor trip to New York and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Harper will make their home in Newton.

Miss Virginia Hammell Wed to Roy Fredrick Carlson, Belmont

White gladioli, snapdragons and carnations decorated the altar of the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre, March 28 for the marriage of Miss Virginia Lee Hammell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred William Hammell of 28 Parker street, Newton Centre, to Mr. Roy Frederick Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav A. Carlson of Belmont.

Rev. Morrison Russell Boynton performed the 3 o'clock double ring ceremony and reception followed at the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

With her white chantilly lace and net gown with a sweetheart neckline appliqued with white lace petals, and a full skirt with a court train, the bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a chapel veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of white gardenias and white orchids.

Miss Shirley Ann Hammell served as maid of honor for her sister, wearing a gown or iridescent blue taffeta, a face veil and shoes of coco brown. She carried a cascade of pink roses and blue stephanotis.

The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Cunningham of Newton Highlands and Mrs. Donald Jenkins of Newton Centre, were also gowned in iridescent blue taffeta with face veils and carried cascades of talisman roses and yellow marguerites.

Best man was Mr. A. Richard Carlson, brother of the groom, and the ushers included: Mr. Carl Carlson, brother of the groom, of Belmont; Mr. Charles MacLeod of Arlington, Mr. John Howard of Boston and Mr. Donald Broughton, also of Boston.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hammell wore an aqua lace gown. She wore a white flowered hat and white accessories with a pink camelia corsage.

Mrs. Carlson was gowned in an ice blue lace gown with a pink flowered hat and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink camellias.

The bride attended the Jason von Ladau School of Fashion after graduating from Newton High School. The bridegroom graduated from Belmont High School and will be graduated from Boston University College of Business in June.

After a wedding trip to New York and Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Carlson will reside on Beacon street, Boston.

Newton YMCA Closes Banner Sports Season

Culminating their participation in the annual YMCA Two-State (Mass. and Rhode Island) Sports Championships with a third place in Class C swimming, the Newton YMCA brought to a close one of the most successful years they have had in terms of representative teams and in terms of participation on these teams.

The teams representing the Y at the Sports Festival in Boston were the Senior (18 and over), Class A (15, 16, 17 years), Class B (13 and 14 years), and Class C (12 years and under) swim teams and the Junior (15, 16, 17 years) Basketball Team.

The Junior Basketball team earned their right to enter the semi-finals of the Championship Tournament by taking the Eastern Massachusetts League title with a 14-1 record in league competition. They lost, however, in the semi-finals to the Haverhill YMCA. This team, composed of Ed Perrilli, Carl Gray, Leo Berard, Richard Allen, Luther VanUmmersen, Gene Conner, Art Hanan and Jack Mullen, was probably the best team in this age bracket to represent the YMCA in many years. Newton Hinckley in his second year as their coach did a remarkable job of coaching this boys.

In Class C swimming, stalwart performances by Raimond Vanderwell, Michael McIntyre, Robert Menard and David McLeod, gave the Newton aggregation a strong third place in a field of sixteen associations. Vanderwell won the 80 yard freestyle event, and swam in the freestyle relay, McIntyre (backstroke), Menard (breaststroke), and McLeod (freestyle), made up the medley relay team which placed second. These same three swimmers, with Ray Vanderwell, made up the freestyle relay which placed third. This marks the third year in a row that this age group has placed in the top three in Two State competition.

The Class B swimming team placed eighth in their bracket. The Newton scoring for this team was done by Richard LaRosee, who placed 4th in the breaststroke and 3rd in the individual medley, and Edward Pitts, who took 2nd place in diving for the second year in a row.

In Class A, the Newton Y swimmers won the championship and put the first leg on a new trophy donated to the championships by a Springfield College graduate. The first team to win the title three times will automatically retire the trophy. Led by co-captains, William Nevills and Robert Stefanik, the Class A team accumulated 36 points to lead the field. Outstanding performances by Robert Stefanik, first in the 100 yard backstroke, William Nevills, second in the 100 yard breaststroke, and Clark Baldwin, first in the 200 yard freestyle, were highlights of the day. Stefanik, in winning his event, was repeating last years performance in which he copped the same event. A medley team made up of the above named swimmers set a new pool record for the 150 yard medley relay.

A freestyle relay team composed of Louis Tocci, Richard LaRosee, Paul Connor, and John Field, pulled the meet out for the Newton swimmers in the last and final event, the Newton team having been beaten in the unit, reversed the Ceci . . . won the race and the meet by about one-half foot.

News of the Day

The shortened school week before Easter at the Frank Ashley Day Junior High School found Ninth Graders finally getting their High School elective blanks ready for next year's teachers to appraise and sort out. Eighth and Seventh Graders will soon work out plans for their next year's subjects.

The following Library Council members, acting as a book selecting committee, visited a Book Exhibit at the Division of Instruction on March 26 and 27. They compiled lists of books for possible purchase for their school library. The following made the trip: Elsie McCruden, Shirley Panaggio, Alfreda Farina, Jane Dahl, David Alfred, Ben Clark, James Calf, Clinton Shaw, Joe Borelli, Andrea Fesenden, Michael Swartz, Paul Slamin, Alden Eames, and Dorothy Civetti.

The Ninth Grade try-outs are this week and the final all-school contest on April 15.

Boys out for baseball have done their spring practice down stairs in the gym almost exclusively. Two 9th Grade intramural games were sneaked in between rainstorms last Wednesday. Room 18 defeating Room 19, 30; and Room 23 overcoming Room 28, 21.

"Senator Harry F. Byrd, the cost-conscious Democrat, whose long voice has been heard for years crying out in the New Deal-Fair Deal bewilderment for Federal Economy, has found support at last. Ten fellow Democrats and 35 Republicans have joined him in sponsoring a bill by which Congress could regain control of annual obligations for Federal expenditures." —Cranston (R. I.) Herald.

Edmund Irohino, Chestnut Hill senior, was recently elected captain of the 1953 Boston College golf team. He is one of the best known and best liked young golfers in this area, and his record on the golf team leaves a wake of many defeated opponents.

The Eagles' golf team presently holds the New England Intercollegiate Championship and Eddie is in no small way responsible for the success of this team. He is called "The Thin Man" of college golf because of his slim physique, yet he powers the ball with the strength of a pro. A former caddie and caddy master at Commonwealth Country Club, he is well versed on the Eagles' home course.

Irohino will lead another strong B. C. team this spring. Heading the list is Leo Grace, the golfing sensation of 1952 and current New England Intercollegiate golf champion. Other team members are Ben Murphy, youthful Brookline sophomore; Bill Callahan, Lowell senior who is playing his first year on the varsity and from whom much is expected; Bill Zirkel, one of the twins from Winchester; Paul Ochs, Wollaston stylist and former B. C. High star, and Dick Campbell, Tedesco member and outstanding competitor in CYO and other tournaments.

This collection has been planned by Miss Eleanor F. Elliott, director of the art in the Newton Public schools, and hung by Miss Heloise Chase and Charles McGregor. It will include, among others, the following: Golen Helmet, Rembrandt; Toledo, El Greco; Walk, Van Gogh; Chestnut Trees, Cezanne; El Jaleo, Sarah; Harbor at Honfleur, Corot; Tahitian Mountains, Gauguin; Coming Storm, Homer and a Feininger.

All the students in the school will have an opportunity to see these prints which will be on display in the art wing and in the exhibition cabinet. They will discuss their merits from the standpoint of color, composition, style, and room decoration.

On Friday, April 17, votes will be cast by the entire student body, in room 128, under the direction of Alvah O. Ring, ninth grade advisor.

A selection will then be made of pictures to be purchased with money left to the school as a gift by the last year's ninth grade.

These selections, attractively framed in an appropriate manner, will subsequently be hung in several of the rooms where they will add color and charm to the general background of the present-day schoolroom.

N. C. Man Elected Public Relations Head of Theater

Edward Nyren, formerly of Newton Center and now a resident of Brookline, has been named public relations director of a new dramatic group which has sprung up recently in Boston.

Mr. Nyren graduated in January from the College of Business Administration at Boston University where he majored in advertising. The group which he represents, the Beacon Hill Drama Theatre, had its infancy in Brookline but has since expanded and is now bent upon bringing the theatre-going public the finest and the most unusual plays ever written.

The group makes its Boston debut at the Esquire Theatre, Tuesday, April 28, with five evening performances running through May 2nd. The work to be performed is S. Ansky's immortal "The Dybbuk."

Many Opposed To Restaurants; Permit Denied

For the third time in the past two years, the Newton Licensing Board rejected an application for a restaurant at 57 Cross street, West Newton, at a hearing last week after hearing objections from nearly 50 residents and the Newton Restaurant Owners' Association.

Opponents to the application for a common victualler's license at the Cross street location asserted that the area was mainly residential, although it was zoned for business. Public convenience does not require another restaurant in this area, they stated, since there are enough restaurants already in West Newton and Newtonville.

Alderman Ernest G. Angevine, objected to the issuance of the license, reported that a recent survey conducted by a restaurant concern showed a nearby location was unsuited for such a business. It was also pointed out that the proposed location is too small a store and a traffic hazard would arise.

Nicholas A. Lupo of 313-A Washington street, Newton, attorney for the applicant, Emanuel Bonadio of 32 Talbot street, West Newton, stated that "No Parking" signs could be placed on Cross street, and that there is sufficient space already on Washington street.

Spokesmen for the objectors was Robert F. Jigger of 27 Cross street, while the Restaurant Owners' Association was represented by Atty. James P. Gallagher.

The Newton Licensing Board previously had denied an application for a liquor license at the Cross street location filed in January, 1951, and for a victualler's license filed in October of the same year.

'Ice Chips of '53' Cast to Include Many Local Skaters

The Skating Club of Boston will present its forty-first annual ice production, "Ice Chips of 1953," at Boston Garden, tonight, tomorrow and Saturday evenings, and Sunday afternoon.

This year's show again lives up to its title of "the show of champions," with the 1953 world champions Tenley Albright of Newton, and Haynes Jenkins of Colorado heading a cast of 200 skaters, ranging in age from six to 60.

Other amateur champions taking part in Ice Chips are Frances Defor and Norris Bowden, North American pair champions; Carol Ann Peters and Danny Ryan, North American dance champions; Carol Heiss, runner-up to Miss Albright; Dudley Richards, and sectional, local and club champions. Sprinkled through the cast in a supporting role are to be found several outstanding professional skating numbers, including The Abneys, and Romayne and Brent, a skilled British adagio team. Also of prominence is a comic non-skating number, Willie, West and McGinty, the hilarious house builders.

Newton residents taking part in the Skating Club's annual production include Dr. Howard Brown and Miss Jane Grace, of Newton Centre; Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Vietor of West Newton; Miss Evelyn Carroll of Newton Highlands; John J. Wilson of Newtonville; and Miss Ann Sargent and Commander Austin S. Kibbee of Chestnut Hill.

The younger set will be represented by Rosemary Crowley, Sandra Corwin, Florel Morse, Francis and Dorothy Dillon, Sheila Kallan, Tara Cavanaugh, Betsy Lyons and Michael Kallan, of Newton Centre; and Mary Jane Connor, Kitsy Cavanaugh, Patricia and Virginia Peirson, Wendy Peirson, Anita Andres, Allen O'Neill and Stephen Farrington, Billy Connor, Jonathan Winslow, Sidney Winslow and Paul Graham, of Chestnut Hill; Jane Potter, Ellen Mahony, Kate Mahony, Barbara Vietor, Richard Vietor and Peter Thurmond, of West Newton; Carol McFarland, Sue Murley and Barbara Wells, of Newton Highlands; Jane Colcock, Susan Colcock and Ann Colcock, of Newtonville; and Kitty Ray, Peggy Ray, Mary Ray, Barbara Ray and Marion Murphy.

2 Newton College Seniors Receive Scholarships

Two members of the senior class of Newton College of the Sacred Heart have won a total of five scholarships for graduate work.

Both are attending Newton with Barat Scholarships covering residence and tuition, made available by the Administration of the College.

Birute Micuta has been offered a teaching Assistantship in the Chemistry Department of Wellesley College; a research Assistantship in the Chemistry Department of Loyola University Graduate School; an Assistantship in the Chemistry Department of Brown University; and an Assistantship in the Chemistry Department of Fordham University Graduate School.

Miss Micuta received her secondary school education in Lithuania and attended Heidelberg University, Heidelberg, Germany. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domas Micuta, 159 Vernon street, Worcester.

Miss Raminta Mantautas has received a full scholarship from the Department of Mathematics of Fordham University Graduate School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aleksandras Mantautas, 261 Thatcher street, Brockton, and received her secondary school education in Lithuania.

What Shall We Eat...

...Easy, Smart Desserts

Here's the easiest and smartest dessert of the year.

You will be surprised how sophisticated thin slices of apples and cheese look when they are set on a rough (or shredded wheat type) cracker.

To make it even simpler, every bit of the easy preparation can be done beforehand. Just before dinner, core the shiny fruit, slice the thin rings across, but leave the fruit intact. When you

Vanilla Custard Sauce

2 cups milk, scalded

3 eggs

½ cup granulated sugar

½ teaspoon salt

1 vanilla bean

Scald milk in top of double boiler. Beat eggs slightly, add sugar and salt and blend. Gradually add milk, a little at a time, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler and cook over hot water (not boiling) until mixture coats a clean metal spoon, about 8 minutes, stirring constantly. Reheat at once from hot water; cool and add vanilla. Serve chilled. Makes 2 cups sauce.

Baked Pears in Custard Sauce

6 firm, ripe pears

1 cup sugar

½ cup water

½ tablespoons lemon juice

Wash pears; remove slice from around blossom end to allow them to stand up, and a thin slice around stem end to keep pears from breaking. Heat sugar, water, and lemon juice in saucepan; cook about 8 minutes to make a syrup. Place pears in a baking dish, standing

Gives Lecture on Position of Chinese in America

"The Position of the Chinese in America" was the subject of a lecture recently by Dr. Paul Sih, professor and director of Far Eastern Studies at Seton Hall University, who was keynote speaker at the annual three-day Interracial Week of the International Justice Club of the Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

Dr. Sih formerly taught at the Comparative Law School of China, served as Minister of the Chinese Embassy in Italy, and head of the Chinese delegation to the United Nations' Special Committee on the Balkans.

He also acted as advisor to the Chinese Delegation in several post-war international conferences, including the Foreign Ministers' Council Meeting in London, the Peace Conference in Paris, and the United Nations General Assembly.

Events of the week included the Mass, Monday morning, celebrated in the Melchite Byzantine Rite by Right Reverend Metropolitan Eftimios Saba, D.D., of the Greek Catholic Church, Our Lady of the Annunciation, Boston.

Katherine Kanesta, an American Indian, from Manhattenville College of the Sacred Heart, Noel

Mesquita, from Bombay, and Mrs. Harold Williams, a Negro, and former personal secretary to ex-Governor Dever and field worker in the Educational Department of the Massachusetts Board Against Discrimination, discussed the contributions of their race or country to American culture, on Tuesday night. Miss Frances Mannix, class of '53, was moderator.

Chinese vestments as well as native crafts and garments of Japan, the Ukraine, and Lithuania was displayed during the week. Helping with the exhibit were Kuniko Shiobara, Nadia Wolanyk, and Raminga Mantauas.

Pvt. James S. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Roberts of 82 Shady Hill road, Newton Highlands, has completed basic combat training at the Signal Corps Replacement Training Center at Camp Gordon, Ga. He is graduate of Newton High School and was employed at a Boston retail store before entering the service.

Willard Gardner Fittion Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard G. Fittion of 75 Summer street, Newton Centre, enlisted in the U. S. Navy last month in Boston.

A graduate of Newton High School, he was a student in art school before entering the service. His brother, James A. Fittion, also served in the Navy as a lieutenant from 1941 to 1945.

Dr. Herbert Gezork will be the speaker of the evening at the next meeting of the Newton Lions Club, it has been announced by Dr. Morton V. Ross, program chairman. The meeting will be held today (Thursday) at 7:00 p.m. at the Simpson House.

Dr. Gezork was born and educated in Germany. He is a graduate of the University of Berlin and the Baptist Divinity School in Hamburg. Dr. Gezork was an exchange student to America from 1928-30 and travelled around the world, studying social and religious conditions, particularly in Asia where he visited Gandhi in India. He was general secretary of the German Baptist Youth Movement until it was dissolved under the Hitler Government. Dr. Gezork wrote two books in German, both of which were banned under the Nazis. In 1936 he came to this country as a voluntary exile and became an American citizen in 1943.

From 1939 to 1950 Dr. Gezork was Professor of Social Ethics at Andover Newton Theological School and lecturer at Wellesley College. Since 1945 he has gone to Europe three times on missions for the U. S. Government. In 1950 he was elected President of Andover Newton Theological School. He is a Trustee of Wheaton College (Norton, Mass.). Dr. Gezork served as one of the American delegates to the World Conference on Faith and Order in Lund, Sweden in 1952.

Missionary to Speak on South Africa to Church, Rotary Club

Dr. Ray E. Phillips of Johannesburg, South Africa, American Congregational Christian social worker and a student of interracial problems for 34 years, will speak on racial problems in South Africa at two meetings in Newton next week.

Dr. Phillips will first speak at the morning service of the Congregational Church of Newton Highlands on Sunday. He will also appear Monday at a noon luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club at the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton.

A sympathetic interpreter of the point of view of both whites and non-whites, Dr. Phillips has been serving in South Africa under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions since 1918. A pioneer in the field of Christian social service, his major job now is the Directorship of the Jan H. Hofmeyr School of Social Work in Johannesburg, established to train social welfare workers among the Bantu and other non-Europeans.

Before leaving Johannesburg on furlough Dr. Phillips was asked by the Johannesburg Rotary Club, of which he is a member, to tell them what he going to tell Americans about the South African racial situation. In his address he reminded Rotarians that so long as there are men who now lead the resistance movement among the non-whites remain in control they can be reasoned with. When terms arrived at, but if extremist elements grab control blood will flow and "the lights will go out all over South Africa. Recent riots in several South African cities and towns would suggest that the situation is reaching a critical stage."

Congratulations also to Donald S. Bishop, deputy collector for Newton, who has been elected treasurer of the City Hall Association.

Red Cross Campaign Secures 85 Percent Of Its Quota For 1953

Father Lauds Firemen for River Rescue

A letter praising the work of Ladder 1 of the Newton Fire Department in rescuing two boys adrift in the Charles River at Newton Upper Falls earlier this month has been received by Chief John E. Corcoran.

Theodore J. Hoppe of 87 Hillside road, Newton Highlands, father of one of the boys, wrote:

"Dear Chief Corcoran:

"Please accept from grateful parents our sincere appreciation for the life-saving service your men rendered to our young boy, Thomas P. Hoppe, on last Friday afternoon.

"May I ask that you convey these sentiments to Messrs. Goran Langille, Edmund V. Corrigan, Cy Clivetti, Stephen Ruane.

"Despite all the safety principles taught the young man, without the kindness of your men undoubtedly he would have paid very heavily for the mistake he made."

The work was in charge of Capt. Timothy D. Herlihy who effected the rescue of Thomas P. Hoppe and Charles Backman, the boys who were rescued from a tree in the Charles River at the end of Williams street, Newton Upper Falls, on Friday, April 3 at 2:14 p.m.

Firefighters placed a 25 foot straight ladder from the river

Late Returns May Increase Total Upward

With late returns totalling 85 percent, or approximately $90,000 in the 1953 Red Cross Fund Appeal, Fund Chairman F. Brittain Kennedy extended his thanks today to all of the workers during this year's campaign. Said Mr. Kennedy, "It is only fitting that all of our willing workers be thanked for their efforts. I want to express not only my personal appreciation for the fine job that they did but also that of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross. We know that it is no easy job in these days of competition for donations to call on your neighbors for money. But we also know that without the hard work of our volunteer solicitors we could not long maintain the services so essential to our community. Nor could we participate in providing services to our armed forces. Fund raising is but one activity of the Red Cross but without it our program would be meaningless.

"To date we have succeeded in raising more money from a larger number of givers than was true at the corresponding time last year," said Mr. Kennedy. "Our totals are substantially ahead of those reported both by the Greater Boston campaign and by National Red Cross officials. While we did not reach our quota of $105,500, we

Newton Senior At Maine Dies In Boat Upset

Swept over a 5-foot dam in Old Town, Me., by a flood-swollen river, a 25-year-old Newton Highlands senior at the University of Maine and a girl companion drowned Sunday as they were unable to cling to their capsized motorboat.

Old Town police grappled for the bodies of Richard E. Phelon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Phelon of 15 Niles road, Newton Highlands, and Barbara Bosworth of Great Neck, N. Y., unsuccessfully after the accident. The two bodies were recovered Monday.

Eyewitnesses said the pair's boat apparently was caught in the swift current a short distance above the dam as Phelon tried to start the outboard motor. The two clung to the boat as it was swept downstream in the fast current upside down, but witnesses were unable to aid them.

Phelon was a senior studying forestry at the University of Maine and would have been graduated in May. A native of Worcester, he moved to Newton in his early years and was graduated from Newton High School in 1945.

He began a college preparatory course at Lawrence Academy shortly after his graduation, but he was drafted into the Army, serving 18 months with the Signal Corps. He then suffered an attack of polio which delayed his college education.

Besides his parents, he leaves a sister, Miss Marjorie Phelon, who served during World War II as an American Red Cross Field Worker in the Middle East.

200 Blood Donors Needed April 21

Two hundred blood donor appointments are needed for April 21 when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits at the Second Church, Highland street, West Newton. Please call the Red Cross Chapter for your appointment now, LA 7-6000 or BI 4-9550.

The first 19-year-olds to be drafted from Newton were among 20 inductees who were given a pre-induction sendoff Monday morning from Selective Service Headquarters, 430 Walnut street, Newtonville.

Six 19-year-old youths were among the April quota leaving Monday for the Boston Army Base, but three of them, who volunteered, requested not to be identified. The other three, all leaving from Board 115, are Stephen P. Holmes of 802 Watertown street, West Newton; David L. Reynolds of 325 Albemarle road, Newtonville, and Richard J. Ryan of 57 Cook street, Newton.

Selective service officials announced at the same time that May's quota for the three boards in Newton will be only nine men, a considerable drop from the quotas of the past few months. Lately, about 20 men have been leaving every month.

The sendoff was as usual sponsored by the Newton Veterans Council. The principal speaker was Fire Chief John E. Corcoran, representing Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood. Each inductee received a pen and pencil set as a gift of the city, and the group

Scheduled to Be Held Tom'w Night at Newton High School

Continuing the storm of protest which has swept through Newton over the location within the city limits of the state's toll superhighway, the third in a series of meetings objecting to the multi-million dollar road is scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) at Newton High School.

The meeting has been called for all interested in the project by the Franklin School Parent-Teachers Association in conjunction with the West Newton S.O.S. (Save Our Schools).

Speakers at the meeting will include Supt. of Schools Harold B. Gores, Sen. Richard H. Lee, and Newton's three state representatives, Mrs. Irene K. Thresher, George E. Rawson and Howard Whitmore Jr.

A petition calling upon Gov.

Herter to intercede with the Turnpike Authority and try to divert the road from Newton will be circulated at tomorrow's meeting.

The petition is now being signed in West Newton, protesting the location of the six-lane superhighway on the grounds of the Franklin School.

One of the originators of the petition, Samuel Greenwald of 236 Derby street, West Newton, will preside at the meeting. Mr. Greenwald explained earlier this week that it is the purpose of the meeting to change the route of the road, and he doesn't expect to drive the route out of Newton.

The text of the petition, addressed to Gov. Herter, follows:

"We, the undersigned, residents and parents of West Newton, most respectfully beg that you consider this our petition for the safety of our homes, our property and above all, our children."

"The proposed northerly route of the East-West Toll Highway actually cuts into the grounds of the Franklin Grammar School on Derby street. Our children would have to cross a six-lane highway four times a day going to and from school. We do not have to tell you as a father and

Fire in Wires Halts Power To 1500 Homes

About 1500 Newton homes lost their electric power Saturday morning and traffic on the Worcester turnpike was held up for nearly 15 minutes by a fire in overloaded electric light wires in Newton Highlands.

According to the Boston Edison Company, the power failure occurred at 8:22 a.m. Saturday at Woodward and Boylston streets. Homes were affected in Newton Highlands, Oak Hill, and parts of Newton Centre and Waban.

Among the buildings without power until the restoration of service at 9:04 a.m. were the Oak Hill Fire Station and the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children. Both were able to operate on emergency equipment.

Traffic on the turnpike was halted in both directions until an Edison Company repairman turned off the current and the blaze was extinguished. Police stopped cars from passing for fear that wires might fall across the traffic.

The Edison Company reported the overloading resulted from work being done at the Elliot street substation.

President of the New York City YMCA, who commented on the work being accomplished by the YMCA movement nation-wide, and complimented Newton on its "splendid prospective program of expansion and improvement."

Referring to the timeliness of the Building Fund Campaign as a fitting observance of the 75th anniversary celebrated last fall, Curtiss quoted from a poem by Edgar Guest, entitled, "Give To The Y."

"This money goes to the Y, said he,

For the man I should like my son to be!"

This money goes for the things I've learned

To my sorrow by getting my fingers burned.

This money goes for the things I've learned

I wish I had known in my early youth.

It goes for the things of long ago

Which I've said I wanted my boy to know.

I'm teaching my boy as best I can

The truths which are needed to shape a man.

But whether I live, or whether I die

I'll have no fear, if he'll follow the Y!

For the Y won't teach him the things of sin.

Won't lead him to brothels and drag him in.

But the Y will brother him night

And follow his path lest he go astray."

Bullen explained the purpose of the Campaign and spoke in detail of the desired improvements, extensions and changes. Following the meeting the male guests were taken in groups on a guided tour of the building where they viewed first hand the conditions of those sections where changes are badly needed.

An orchestra from the All Newton Music School, Red Feather agency, played during the dinner. The invocation was given by the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald and the benediction by the Rev. W. Edge Dixon.

Those seated at the head table in addition to Bacon, Bullen, Curtiss, Rev. MacDonald and Rev. Dixon included Frank A. Day, Jr., past President of the Newton YMCA; Charles H. Myers, Chairman of the Special Gifts Division of the Building Fund Campaign; Roscoe A. Hayes, Chairman of the Advance Gifts Division; Walter B. Hatfield and Hugh Harwood, Assistant Chairman of the Advance Gifts Division and Charles E. Smith, Campaign Treasurer.

The Advance Gifts' solicitation is now underway. Meetings for the workers have been held during the week at the homes of the various Village Chairmen. The solicitations in the Residential and Business Divisions will take place in May.

Gasoline and other motor vehicle taxes were the third biggest money raisers for Massachusetts in fiscal 1952, totaling 18.4 per cent of all state tax revenue.

Dr. Dufault to Address Health Ass'n Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association will take place Wednesday, April 29 at the Second Church in West Newton at three o'clock.

The speaker for the afternoon will be Dr. Paul Dufault, Superintendent of the Rutland State Sanatorium. He is also a member of the Executive Council and President-elect of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League. He is co-author of the book "Diagnosis and Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis."

The meeting is open to the public.

A tea will be held from three o'clock to three-thirty. A short business meeting will then be held before the speaker.

Dr. Dufault will discuss methods of returning those who have been afflicted with tuberculosis to normal and useful lives.

Other candidates may also run for these offices if they file a sufficient number of nominat-grandfather how active children are and that no fence would be tall enough or strong enough to keep our children off a road on which cars will be doing 60 miles an hour.

"We pray that you exercise the authority of your office to have the highway re-routed through a less densely populated area so that the mothers of this community can send their children off to school each morning without the fear that a speeding car will destroy what they hold dear in the world.

The possible routing of the east-west toll highway through Newton was brought to the attention of the public earlier this month by Rep. Howard Whitmore Jr., who warned Newton citizens of the adverse effect on homes.

At their April 6 meeting, the Newton Board of Aldermen adopted a resolution claiming the road would cause "extensive destruction" of property in four areas and would reduce neighboring estate values. This resolution is now in the hands of the Turnpike Authority.

The Newton Chamber of Commerce also entered the controversy when President Fred Chagnon announced he would appoint a committee of three to investigate the pros and cons of the highway.

Rep. Whitmore, speaking last Thursday before the Newton Lower Falls Improvement Association, promised he would try to keep the $275,000 highway from affecting local homes and property and at the same time urged those opposed to the project to write letters to Gov. Herter, the Department of Public Works, and the Commissioners of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority.

More than 1000 aroused citizens jammed into the auditorium at Warren Junior High School Friday night in another public protest against the highway. Those attending unanimously agreed they wanted nothing to do with the road, citing possible financial losses.

Similar protest meetings have been scheduled by the Newtonville Improvement Association at a date to be announced shortly and by the Newton Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday. Oak Hill residents, who will be affected if the so-called southern route for the turnpike is adopted, will take up the problem on April 27.

A final decision on just where the proposed superhighway will be located is expected in about a month. Gov. Herter's office announced last week that the state and Boston hope to reach agreement on the exact route at that time.

Gov. Herter has asked Attorney-General George Flengold for a ruling as to the governor's powers to influence the site of the road. He has stated he favors the banks, which will assume the major part of the financing, having a deciding vote in where the road will go.

Eleanor L. Bartlett. This committee is handling the preliminary mailings, design of sales kits to be supplied to all active salesmen and the managing of all publicity.

The active sales committee will consist of at least 40 members of the Men's Club and 40-50 members of St. Elizabeth's Circle, the St. John's Evening Circle and St. John's Woman's Guild. The members of the Men's Club will have as a primary responsibility the contacting of each parish family to take their individual orders. Members of the women's groups will be primarily responsible for obtaining orders from outside the church membership. Active solicitation will take place between May 1 and May 15.

The responsibility of compiling the individual orders into the wholesale order form will be undertaken by Raymond C. Church, Mrs. Thomas G. Walters and Orvil F. Hagan.

Robert Hull and Fred Wells are responsible for receiving the case lots into the Parish House, filling the individual orders and arranging a schedule for picking up orders at the Parish House or delivery of orders where required. Orders will be ready for pick up or delivery on May 23.

Retail prices will be approximately those currently charged by local markets for products of comparable quality. There will be no minimum of units purchased. However, on case lot orders there will be a discount in the road price. This is the only all-parish project for the spring, and the cooperation of the entire parish is expected.

Newton Girl Scout Activities

By DOROTHY KELLEY

INTRODUCING: Your Sister Scouts, Troop 72 of Waban. Members are Sandra Gottlieb, Carol Isenberg, Marla Caplan, Minni Ruth Horovitz, Miriam Shaw, Elsa Raab, Susan Hahn, Marjorie Sherman, Betsy Tickner, Cynthia Ward, Barbara Goldstone, Susan Rosen, Judith Stitt, Caroline Goldberg, Patricia Thompson, Dorothy Geller, and an exceptionally fine scribe—Barbara Adolph, who has kept us informed of her troop's accomplishments through her many contributions to your column. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. Salma Shaw and Mrs. Natalie Sherman, who are assisted by Mrs. Charles Gottlieb.

Would you like to meet more of your sister Scouts? Let us know—and watch for this new feature in your column. Hope your troop scribe will mail weekly reports of your troop's activities to Mrs. Hartlie E. Kelley.

TROOP 2—Newton Centre—Met recently at the home of Mrs. Alexander Goodale, leader, to discuss plans for their Fair, to be held at the Newton Centre Methodist Church on April 21.

The troop hopes to raise the remainder of the money needed for their June trip to Washington, D.C. The Fair—open from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.—will feature handmade articles, books, jewelry, toys, balloons, good used clothes, and delicious homemade cakes and pies. Refreshments of apple pie and coffee will be served. Leaders will find this an excellent opportunity to get together to discuss scouting, while their troops enjoy the movies and fun. Here is an opportunity to help yourself to real bargains—and to help Troop 2.

Judy Smith, Scribe

TROOP 62—West Newton—All members were present. We drilled holes in our wooden articles, then printed our covers.

While Mary Hanigan played the piano, we played Musical Chairs.

Catherine Fawson, Scribe

TROOP 52—Newton—Those who had not completed their Campcraft badge requirements stayed overnight at the home of Mrs. Rogers, our leader. On the following morning, we made preparations for our day trip. While one group gathered wood, the other prepared the food. After building the fires, we cooked chicken and potatoes. We covered the fires and went home.

Catherine White, Scribe

TROOP 126—Auburndale—After a flag ceremony, each girl told what scouting meant to her.

Among the points covered were:

tolerance, good nutrition, nature for pets, swimming, and the pleasure of attending meetings.

After exchanging Easter gifts, prizes were awarded and refreshments were served.

Stephanie Doswell, Scribe

TROOP 141—West Newton—Met at the Franklin School. After saying the Brownie Promise, we colored Easter eggs.

Carol McGovern, Scribe

TROOP 80—Auburndale—Cynthia Smith presided at the meeting as Sharon Lannon collected dues and the scribe's report was read. After Martha Tracey and Beverly Swaine entertained with songs, Susan Kelly reported on the Juliette Low meeting. We worked on our bird pictures, then walked through the park looking for birds and their nests. After playing a game of kick-ball, we went home.

Patty Hoops, Scribe

TROOP 127—Auburndale—The meeting was postponed because of bad weather.

TROOP 93—Auburndale—After an election of officers to serve for the month of April, we made plans for finishing badge requirements and discussed spring activities.

Marcia Bailey, Scribe

TROOP 48—Auburndale—Met at the home of Mrs. Albert Fallon, leader, where we discussed future scouting plans. We have scheduled a boat trip around Boston Harbor on May 9. The girls worked on the Good Grooming badge, improving hair styles. Judy Elliott was voted the best hair designer.

Judy Boucher, Scribe

TROOP 150—Auburndale—Recently had our first swimming lesson at the Y. W. C. A. We continued working on our scrapbooks and our afghan, and studied the Girl Scout Laws and the Tenderfoot requirements.

Nya J. Cleveland, Scribe

TROOP 72—Waban—Many of the girls got their cookies from Mrs. Charles Gottlieb, cookie sale chairman. Total number of boxes sold by our troop was 495. Plans were made for a trip to Walker-Gordon Farm or to the Newton Nutrition Center.

Sandra Gottlieb and Barbara Adolph passed requirement 3 of the Nutrition badge, and many passed in their Nutrition posters.

Barbara Adolph, Scribe

TROOP 136—Auburndale—With the assistance of Mrs. Ruth Jackson and Mrs. Kelly, leaders, the Brownies decorated Easter boxes, which they filled with sewing materials. These gift boxes were presented to the Roxbury Community Center for little girls to make doll clothes.

TROOPS 68 and 162—West Newton—Recently took part in the Franklin School P.T.A. Scout Night, participating in the Juliette Low celebration. Sandra Smith and Rosalyn Cutler presided, while those taking part in the skit were: Marilyn Montuori, Marilyn Connolly, Gail Barkley, Alice Kenney, Marilyn Drago, Joyce Hussey, Judy Lynch, Ruth Hyde and Lillian Fraser. Presenting the Juliette Low contributions were representatives Maureen McMullin for Troop 68 and Joan Reddish for Troop 162.

Those participating in the closing candlelight ceremony were: Beverly Vacarello, Sandra Gibbs, Patricia Coffey, Joan Goguen, Susan Morris, Jean Graceffa, Cynthia Howe, Audrey Keith, Joan Wilkins and Elaine Stahl.

The girls were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Thomas Lepore with Troop 68, and Mrs. Ruth Gibbs with Troop 162.

Business Men's Art Club Exhibits Work By Newton Artists

A number of Newton residents among the 60 exhibitors now showing their paintings at the annual exhibition of the Boston Business Men's Art Club, being held at New England Mutual Hall through Monday.

Clyde J. Allen, 39 Holman road, West Newton; James K. Bonnar, 49 Judkins street, Newtonville; Charles E. Downing 1062 Beacon street, Newton Centre; Edmond A. Duosoult, 142 Warren street, Newton Centre; H. Storey Graner, 18 Saxon road, Newton Highlands; Howard W. Lewis, 73 St. Mary's street, Newton Lower Falls; Joseph A. Proctor, 38 Victoria circle, Newtonville; Roy A. Randall, 162 East Side parkway, Newton; Chester N. Reed, 28 Elliot avenue, West Newton; Charles K. Rosen, 70 Paulson road, Waban; Dean P. Waite, 518 Walnut street, Newtonville; have submitted canvases in the exhibit.

Although they derive their living from some other means than the brush, the members of the Club differ from professionals in few other respects, as evidenced by the quality of their work.

The club members, ranging in vocation from plumbers to top executives, display a wide range in approach and treatment of a variety of subject matter in their exhibition. While landscapes dominate the display, there are some fine examples of portrait work, as well as abstract treatment.

The public is cordially invited to visit the exhibit, admission free, in New England Mutual Hall, Clarendon street at Copley Square, open daily.

11 Jaynes League Members to Leave For Lake Sunapee

Members of the Jaynes League, West Newton Unitarian Church, will have a spring camping trip to Lake Sunapee, N. H., leaving Friday and returning Monday.

Accompanied by their sponsors,

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Carroll of Waltham and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stackpole of Newton Lower Falls, the entire group will be guests at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. John Antoniewich on Lake Sunapee.

Those going on this week end outing include Rudolph Amann,

House Puts on Show Over Veterans' Bonus

Both Democratic and Republican members of the Massachusetts House of Representatives put on a shabby political show the other night in a furious and frenzied debate preceding the engrossment of a bill providing for the payment of a State bonus to Massachusetts men and women who have served in the armed forces since the outbreak of hostilities in Korea.

You might reasonably expect that the lawmakers could suspend partisan politics while they were enacting a veterans' bonus, for which all the people of the State are to pay. Instead, it was the occasion for the most violent battle the State House has seen in weeks.

Many of the more serious-minded legislators sat silently in their seats, presumably watching with disgust the spectacle put on by their colleagues and undoubtedly wondering why the political battling could not be put off until some more appropriate time.

Each group accused the other of demagoguery and of playing cheap politics, and each group was right on that score, at least.

Rules were flagrantly violated as the members indulged in personalities and strayed far from the issue under discussion, but each time a protest was made, Speaker Charles Gibbons, presiding over the deliberations, had a ready answer. He hadn't been listening to what the speaker was saying, he explained with a straight face.

At least Mr. Gibbons played no favorites. Both Democrats and Republicans offended the good taste of listeners, and Speaker Gibbons could hardly have been blamed if he had plugged his ears to shut out the oratory. Mr. Gibbons, of course, had a very good idea of what was being said, but obviously decided to let the boys fight it out.

Republican Floor Leader Earle S. Tyler of Watertown started the verbal fray, and before it was over nearly a score of Democrats had galloped valiantly into battle.

Even President Eisenhower was side-swiped in the partisan skirmish, with Democratic House Leader Robert F. Murphy asserting that Ike "had sauntered off to Georgia for a week's vacation on the golf course."

The bitter row did not centre on the amount of the bonus to be paid to the veterans. In fact, it involved the veterans only remotely and indirectly. The fight was waged on the question of who should handle the payment of the bonus.

In past years that task has been performed by the State Treasurer. Laurence Curtis, now a Congressman, did an excellent job in 1947 and 1948 of disbursing the bonus payments, and John E. Hurley performed a similar chore just before and after Curtis.

It happens now that there is a Democratic treasurer and a Republican Legislature, although that was true back in ex-Governor Tobin's administration, when the original State bonus law was enacted.

Letters to the Editor

ANSWER TO

Editor, Newton Graphic:

This is in answer to a letter you published last week from one who signs himself "INTERESTED IN BOYS." Ordinarily I would ignore an anonymous letter since the writers of such missives are usually grippers who do not have the intestinal fortitude to sign their names. This character is so misinformed and has so little regard for the truth I am forced to answer his sarcastic nonsense to protect the good name of a very fine civic project.

First let me explain how Little League is set up in Newton. We have three leagues of four teams each. The Newton North League covers the north side of the city; the Newton East League covers the east side of the city and the Newton South League covers the south side of the city. Each League has its own officers, team managers and coaches plus a board of directors and is completely autonomous in itself. It must abide by the regulations laid down by National Little League Headquarters in Williamsport, Pennsylvania, in order to get a Little League franchise to operate as a Little League. The officers of any Little League take orders from no one but the National Headquarters.

In order that we would have considerable experience in organization between the three leagues in Newton it was decided by the officers of the leagues that a Newton Little League Council be formed as a clearing house for ideas and policies so that there would be uniformity throughout the city in applying the regulations as published by the National Headquarters. Mr. James E. Murphy was selected as Commissioner. His position is that of Chairman of the Newton Little League Council. The remainder of the Council is made up of the presidents of the three leagues and one additional representative from each league. Decisions of the Council are by majority vote and are of an advisory nature only. They are not binding on any of the leagues. Remember, I said that the council was formed in the interest of cooperation and uniformity.

The decisions of the Council as announced by Commissioner Murphy are not mandates. So you can see Mr. "INTERESTED IN BOYS" that the gripes you have aired are not the responsibility of Mr. Murphy, on the contrary, they are the responsibility of the officers of the individual league.

Mr. Murphy was selected as Commissioner for several reasons. Most important among them were the facts that he has had his dad was or how many of our traffic tickets his dad could take care of, as you have so ignorantly stated. After the tryouts were completed, we held our player auction. Each manager was allotted 36,000 credits to "buy" his team and the auction started with the PLAYER AGENT acting as auctioneer. The player agent asked for bids on each number and the managers made their bids, as in any other auction, after they consulted their notebooks for notes they had made on their personal appraisal of the boys' playing ability during the tryout sessions. The auction lasted for 5½ hours and I can say from first hand knowledge that it was a very lively one. So you can see Mr. "INTERESTED IN BOYS" it was not a cut and dried proposition as you have intimated.

But that touched off a frenzied battle, with the roll of the political drums and the verbal bombardment of all the over-worked and wornout political cliches.

There's nothing particularly outrageous about that, and the Democrats undoubtedly would do the same thing if the situation were reversed and they controlled the Legislature with a Republican serving as Treasurer.

But that touched off a frenzied battle, with the roll of the political drums and the verbal bombardment of all the over-worked and wornout political cliches.

Republican House Leader Tyler marched to the microphone with a prepared statement which said that the Democratic legislators had received telegrams to attend a conference held at a Boston hotel by a "private citizen" named Paul A. Dever.

If Mr. Tyler had declared that all Democrats should be expelled from office, he could not have caused any more commotion because the high-ceilinged House chamber rang and resounded with the angry cries of Democrats seeking, nay demanding, recognition from the chair.

Before Tyler was able to give his version of what the Dever-sponsored conference was all about and who attended it, Democrats were on their feet shouting that they received no telegrams and knew of no meeting.

Democratic Floor Leader Robert F. Murphy jumped into the breach to advance the modest claim that Mr. Dever was the greatest Governor in all the history of Massachusetts.

Interrupted by the shouts of Democratic legislators announcing that they did not receive telegrams from Mr. Dever, Tyler said that maybe all the "minority" legislators didn't get telegrams. Maybe only the important Democrats received them, he declared.

A couple of obscure Democratic legislators, whose names escape us, modestly arose and said that couldn't be so because they didn't get any. Representative Tyler just eyed them coldly.

Well, sir, it subsequently developed that Mr. Dever did have a meeting at the Hotel Bellevue to which Boston legislators were invited, but that its purpose was to promote the sale of tickets for Saturday night's big Democratic Jefferson-Jackson dinner.

Tyler ignored that explanation, and he charged that Dever had returned from the bright sunshine and warm sands of Florida to crack the whip, and without quite saying so he intimated that Dever was giving orders to Democratic legislators on how to vote on the bonus issue.

As far as could be ascertained this was strictly a matter of Mr. Tyler's imagination, and if it had been true it would not have been any scandal or outrage since Dever is the titular leader of the Democratic party in Massachusetts. But there is no evidence that he has taken any part whatever in the bonus issue.

However, the battle raged on into the night, with no one displaying any particular concern either for the rules of good taste or whether there was any foundation of fact for the reckless charges they hurled, or if they had the slightest relation to the matter under discussion.

Representative Michael J. McCarthy, East Bridgewater Republican, charged the Democrats with engaging in demagoguery and putting on a "despicable show," and Representative Charles J. Artesani, Brighton Democrat, alleged that McCarthy had uttered the "prize gem of demagoguery."

This is a rather fair example of the lofty and noble tones of the discussion as the esteemed members of our House of Representatives engrossed the bill for the payment of a bonus to the men and women who have served in our armed forces since the outbreak of war in Korea.

Those of us who try to advance civic projects of this type expect criticism. We welcome it when it is constructive. I certainly do not think that the idle banter of a Monday morning quarterback is justified in this case. If you Mr. "INTERESTED IN BOYS" are as interested in boys as you would have us believe, why don't you attend the next meeting of the Newton North Little League as my guest. I can assure you that you will have just as much to say about the operation of the league as I or any of the other officers and I can most certainly assure you that we will assign you sufficient work to give you a genuine gripe.

W. RAYMOND McCANN, Public Relations Director, Newton North Little League.

HAPPY TO AID

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Now that our campaign to raise funds both for the National Red Cross and our Newton Chapter is over, we should like to express our appreciation to you for your generosity in sponsoring advertising covering the Red Cross in your newspaper.

While we unfortunately did not raise all we felt would be needed to carry on our full program of work for the year, we were successful in raising more money from more people than we did last year at this time.

Only through the co-operation of such concerns as yours can we get our message across to all sections of our many different Newton villages.

Please accept our heartfelt thanks.

F. BRITTAINE KENNEDY, 1953 Fund Chairman.

MORE ON FAVORITISM

Editor,

Newton Graphic:

Having just read the article on "Little League Favoritism" in the Graphic, I wish to add my bit.

I don't know that somebody else would express somewhat the same sentiments that I feel. I only wish the writer had signed his name.

The only part of the letter I wish to disagree with is the part which says that all fathers who are connected with Little League have their sons on a team. No doubt that the father whose son is good enough to be on the team and the father is connected with the team should not come up for mention. There is nothing wrong with that.

But the boy who gets on the team regardless of his ability just because the father knows the manager should be mentioned. This is a case which happened on a team in the Newton South Little League.

It is the case of Mr. ? whose son played on the team all year. ? Jr. was on the team and was one of the worst players in the league. I imagine the manager knew of this situation but his friendship with Mr. ? wouldn't let him pick the best qualified player. He is afraid of losing the friendship.

This fact prevented the team from winning the pennant. ? Jr. didn't attend 60 per cent of the practices as he is supposed to.

Many more teams will lose pennants because of this. Is this situation going on? I hope it will clear up pretty soon.

Let's have more people to exert pressure to end such goings on. Don't be afraid to sign your name either.

Alan W. Campbell.

NEWTON SCHOOLS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Why not abandon or rebuild some of the old school buildings? Better still, build new modern schools.

Every adult person in Newton should have the pleasure of visiting a new, modern school like the Peirce on Temple street in West Newton. They would leave with new ideas about what we should do for all "blizzards" of babies and our young people in general.

Will the taxpayers' money be spent for anything more worth while?

We hear people mention how high taxes are. Those who have children do not perhaps realize that they are receiving about three hundred dollars a year for each child who attends the public school.

What better investment can we make than in the youth of our city—what will pay a better dividend to you later in life than your own educated sons and daughters?

The successful business and professional men to-day prefer to conduct their business in pleasant surroundings with modern equipment, and to have your educated young people as employees or partners.

We have a Superintendent of Schools, hundreds of fine teachers, thousands of children—why not give them the very best in buildings and equipment?

We need right now swimming pools, indoor skating-rinks, new and more recreational centers properly supervised, that the young people may be kept busy building healthy bodies, and learning to have respect for their fellow companions.

HOW ABOUT "YOUTH CENTER"?

Editor,

Newton Graphic:

Much has been written about juvenile delinquency but it seems that little has been done to try to combat this ever increasing problem.

There's an old saying, "The devil finds work for idle hands," and I think that is the main reason that teen-agers of today are causing so much destruction not only to personal property but to themselves.

After school, many students who have been restrained and under supervision during the day, find themselves with free time and feel the need of activity. If this energy isn't put to constructive use, they will put it to destructive use.

There is no definite way to stop juvenile delinquency but I think that the City of Newton could help the situation by giving the teenagers a place they could consider their own. If they had a "Youth Center" to go to during their free time, they wouldn't be found "hanging around" drug stores and street corners. A place to dance, a juke box, a coke machine, and some tables and chairs is all that would be needed to help keep them occupied and yet they would still be under adult supervision.

I do not have any school-age children but I would be more than willing to donate time to act as a chaperone. I'm sure that other parents would be willing to do the same.

Other cities have found that a "Youth Center" helps to curb this problem and I'm sure that the citizens of Newton would be more than glad to sponsor such a program if it would help the "Leaders of Tomorrow." The future of our country lies in the way we teach and train the "Children of Today."

Why don't other parents write in and give any suggestions they may have?

A READER.

DOING BOYS A DIS-SERVICE

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Recently there appeared in your column a letter signed "Interested In Boys". I might suggest that the writer is interested in "boy" rather than boys and is motivated by paternal frustration. He certainly is doing boys a disservice by making irresponsible charges based upon frustrated rational as opposed to the facts.

Let's dissociate rumor and conjecture from fact. The facts are that no one person is responsible for the selection of a boy to any given team. Scoring sheets are provided to several scorers who observe the boys at their tryout, each marked with a number and more often than not, do not even know who the boy is.

A compilation is made of the abilities relating to each boy. Thereafter, an auction is held and each lad again by number, is placed upon the auction block, available to the bidding of all who desire his services. Needless to say, an alleged "doting" father—manager would be subject to quite an embarrassing moment if he found his bid on the boy completely counterbalanced by negative reports of other scorers and managers.

My observation has been that quite the opposite is true; that a manager's boy at the auction receives more critical observation than the others. The father, more often than not, holding back until the other bidders have established the boy's evaluation often outbidding the father and obtaining the option. When this happens, as suggested in Little League rules for reasons that are obvious, courtesy suggests that for the same option price the boy is transferred to his father's team.

It is certainly true that sons of many officials win positions on the squad. Common sense lends the conclusion that baseball conscious parents have long induced a similar interest in their sons, which translated into arduous practice over a long period, must invariably lead to superiority in play by the son. It would be unnatural for such a parent not to translate his interest into occupation with Little League baseball program.

That many present officials will not remain when their "boys have graduated" is understandable for the same reason one leaves a trade association when his interest in that field of endeavor ceases to exist.

"Interested in Boys" — (?)

Should he examine the roster of officials of our League he might find a revelation in the list of officials who have no boys concerned with the program.

CLARK FISHER, President, Newton East Little League

MISQUOTED

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Your issue of April 2nd contains an account of a recent public hearing at Newton City Hall to consider the question of Nursing Homes and, in particular, the petition of Dr. A. E. Contratta for using No. 621 Centre street, for this purpose.

I here do not enter into the merits or demerits of the whole question, but I would like to point out an error in your reporter's account. He says, "Others who spoke in favor of the petition included Mrs. John Alden of 74 Fairmount avenue, West Newton. She said that she was approaching 80 and needed a place to live."

All fairness, may I say that Mrs. Alden is entirely misquoted by your reporter and his account misrepresents one of Newton's most faithful and honored citizens. Mrs. Alden made a general plea for additional Nursing Homes, but she did not say that she needed a place to live, nor did she imply any such need on her part. She owns her own home at 74 Fairmount avenue, West Newton (not West Newton), where she has lived for many years. Her remarks at the aforesaid meeting simply pointed to the future which confronts many older people and the responsibility of the City in caring for them.

Woman's Auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Newton Fire Department will hold a business meeting Tuesday April 21 at 8:00 p.m. at 11a Highland avenue, Newtonville, after which there will be a formal passing of the Auxiliary By-Laws.

Demonstrating many ways of decorating cakes in an easy and attractive manner will be Mrs. Ruth Lucas, a professional cake decorator. Also entertaining with her songs will be Mrs. Eleanor Smith, accompanied by Mr. Rose Rowan.

Mrs. Christine Walsh, club president, will preside over the evening and it is hoped that all Auxiliary members will endeavor to attend this very important meeting.

Justice calls for the correction here suggested, and I trust that The Newton Graphic may accord this justice.

"Ladies in Retirement" to Be Presented by the Oak Hill Park Woman's Club to Benefit Scholarship Fund

The scholarship fund of the Oak Hill Park Woman's Club will benefit from the proceeds of "Ladies in Retirement," the English murder mystery which the club's drama group will present Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15 p.m. at the Memorial School. The club awards an annual scholarship to a Newton High School senior.

"Ladies in Retirement," a Broadway hit several years ago, is the stage manager, and David Greer will be in charge of lights.

Tickets may be obtained at the door, or from Mrs. Richard A. McLellan, 20 Indian Ridge road, DE 2-9742. Assisting Mrs. McLellan with the sale of tickets are Mrs. J. David Chapman, Mrs. James F. Gray, Mrs. Joseph D. Hayes, Jr., and Mrs. Alfred B. Hills. Mrs. Norman S. Berkowitz is in charge of refreshments.

Mrs. Richard O. Knox is directing the play. Mrs. James F. Gray

Newton Federat'n of Women's Clubs Blood-Typing Drive April 21-May 2

Newton, known to be more than usually interested in and well-organized for civil defense, leads again with its elaborately set up "Blood-typing Program" which will be held April 21 through May 2. Local Civil Defense, in cooperation with the State Civil Defense Agency and the Massachusetts State Department of Public Health is sponsoring Newton's Blood-Typing Program. Arrangements are in the hands of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

Under charge of Dr. K. P. Taurer of the Massachusetts State Department of Public Health, a medical "team" will be in the various villages of Newton on specified dates, to type the blood of all those who have appointments. Though an individual, having his blood typed privately might find it expensive, the state is able, by doing it "en masse," to keep the cost down, and it will cost the individual nothing.

"If everyone could be typed, it would help not only in civil defense, but at all times," said Mr. William J. Baxter, director of Newton's Civil Defense. Mr. Baxter stressed the importance of blood in modern therapeutics.

The steering committee for the program is composed of Mr. Baxter, Mrs. Louis J. Billings, President, the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Newell J. Trask, First Vice-President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Margaret F. Magoley of the Newton Community Club is General Chairman of the program for the city. Chairman of Publicity is Mrs. David Hamblen, also of the Newton Community Club. Chairmen for the villages are as follows: Newton, Mrs. Don-

W. Newton Women's Educational Club

At the seventy-third annual meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, Mrs. Sidney R. Williamson of West Newton was elected president for the coming year. Her officers will be Mrs. Earl L. Ham, first vice president; Mrs. Dudley L. Thorntby, second vice president; Miss Mildred E. Moore, recording secretary; Mrs. William T. Schenck, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Wilson C. Dort, treasurer; Mrs. Francis H. McCruden, auditor, and Mrs. Henry D. Stone, historian.

Directors for three years will be Mrs. George H. Hayden and Mrs. Edward J. Finnegan, and the nominating committee will have as its chairman Mrs. Percival Waters, her committee to be Mrs. Harold G. Carter, Mrs. William H. DeMelle, Mrs. Frank L. Ogilvie, Mrs. C. Roy Rook, Mrs. B. J. Wahlin and Mrs. William L. Warner.

The business meeting was preceded by a luncheon at 12:30 p.m., with Mrs. William T. Schenck the luncheon chairman. The invocation was given by a group of club members, who sang the "Lord's Prayer." This newly formed chorus is composed of Mrs. John F. Boyle, Mrs. Raymond W. Farnum, Mrs. Homer A. Lucas, Mrs. C. David Gordon, Mrs. C. Roy Rook, with Mrs. Werner Nelson the soloist and Mrs. William L. Warner the accompanist.

Wednesday, April 22, the West Newton Women's Educational Club, together with the Community Service of West Newton, will give an afternoon's entertainment at the Stone Institute, Newton Upper Falls. This is an annual event and is thoroughly enjoyed by all who have the privilege of taking part in it. The chorus of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, mentioned above, will sing a number of selections, and Mrs. Warner will play some of her own compositions. The program will be followed by refreshments, served by members of the two clubs.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newton Methodist Church, corner of Wesley and Centre streets, will hold their annual spring rummage sale Friday, April 17, in Fellowship Hall. This project is sponsored by Friendly Circle. Members of this group are searching through their wardrobes for good selections of clothing for men, women and children. Besides clothing there will be shoes, household linens, books, pictures, kitchen equipment, jewelry and a brac. It is expected that there will be bargains to interest every one. Choice articles will be found by the early shopper.

The Moulton Club, one of the several adult groups at the Centre plan to visit the Robert Gould Shaw House, where they will meet with the Director, who will explain the work of this great Service Center.

The "Stay-at-Home" will find the Centre open for many activities to fill the vacation days.

Community Centre Vacation Plans

Vacation Week at the West Newton Community Centre is to be a busy one and will allow no vacation time for Mrs. Elizabeth Skinner, Executive Director or Larry Huntley, Youth Worker, for they have planned many exciting activities for all age groups.

Perhaps the most looked to is the Doll Show, sponsored by the Girls' Drama Club to be held on Tuesday, April 21, 1 to 5 o'clock, in the Portable. Dolls of all countries will be on display with their exhibitors to explain their origin. The public is invited.

The Boys' Clubs will visit the Coca-Cola and Ford plants. The groups are so large this year it will be necessary to make two trips.

Dr. Wallace Takes Miss Hartwell As Bride in Michigan Ceremony

At a formal double-ring ceremony April 6 in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Muskegon, Mich., Miss Elizabeth Ayer Hartwell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Shattuck W. Hartwell of Muskegon, became the bride of Dr. Edward P. Wallace of Greenfield, Mass., son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Wallace of Newton Centre. The couple repeated vows before an altar which was decked with Easter lilies, white stocks and candles in candelabra against a background of palms, with Rev. J. Donald Skinner officiating.

Escorted by her father, the bride was attired in candlelight satin, the bodice of which was of embroidered Alencon lace and the skirt of which terminated in a train. Her headdress and veil were a family heirloom handed down from her great-great grandmother. The cap of French embroidered net edged in lace held the trailing veil which was caught in a lover's knot of white satin. The bride carried an heirloom handkerchief of lace with her bouquet of lilies, carnations, stephanotis and lilies-of-the-valley. Completing her wedding attire was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Hartwell and the five bridesmaids were gowned alike in ankle-length frocks of taffeta in Elizabeth blue, a new coronation shade. Worn also by the Misses Linda Jane McKinney, Florence McKee, Mary Jane Davis, Joan M. Swenson and Rhoda W. Braun, with their strapless dresses were brief short-sleeved boleros. The full skirts of their gowns were caught up at the side in a pouf. Each attendant wore a small matching veiled headress, short white gloves and opera pumps in deep lavender. Each carried a colonial bouquet of violets centered with a single white carnation.

Mrs. Hartwell was gowned in aqua crepe with lace bodice and side drapes, matching accessories and a small veiled headress. Her flowers were pink roses. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Wallace, wore a gown of peach taffeta under beige lace. Her accessories were in contrasting colors and her flowers were yellow roses.

Mr. Shattuck W. Hartwell, Jr., brother of the bride, was best man and the ushers were Dr. George C. Sutton, Mr. Hugh M. Tomb, Dr. Charles E. Hopkins, Mr. John C. Farmer, Mr. Paul F. Bergmann, Jr., and Mr. Richard M. Westfall.

Dr. and Mrs. Hartwell were hosts for an evening supper for the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace will live at 105 Pendleton road, Portsmouth, Va., while the doctor serves with the Navy. A special list in pediatrics, Dr. Wallace was graduated from Harvard Medical School in 1944. His bride is an alumna of Northampton School for Girls and Smith College, has been teaching in Greenfield schools for more than a year.

Miss Coleman, Mr. George Hill Exchange Vows in Framingham

Morrisville, Penn., will be the address of Mr. and Mrs. George Steelbrook Hill (Nancy Beth Colman) after their return from their wedding trip. They were married Saturday at the First Parish Unitarian Church in Framingham Centre. Mr. Hill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stott Hill of 31 North Gate park, West Newton. Rev. John O. Fisher of the First Unitarian Society, West Newton, officiated before an altar banked with white gladioli and calla lilies for the 4 o'clock ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest William Colman of Framingham Centre, was given in marriage by her father. She wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned with a low scooped neckline, a fitted bodice trimmed with lace, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt, which terminated in a long circular train. Her finger-tip veil of ivory tulle was caught to a headdress of tulle embellished with tiny pearls, and she carried white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Jane Colman of Framingham, as maid of honor for her sister, wore toast-colored net over pink taffeta with brown orchids. Dressed as the maid of honor were the bridesmaids, Miss Louise Colman and Miss Margaret Neville Haggerty of Framingham, carrying gerbera in tawny shades.

Mr. James E. Smith of Livermore Falls, Me., was best man, and in the corps of ushers were Mr. Robert Venne of Framingham, Mr. Robert Robart of Newton, Mr. Theodore Scott of Waban and Mr. Stanley R. McKay of Hamilton.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Colman wore mauve lace over taffeta, and Mrs. Hill, the bridegroom's mother, chose navy blue chiffon with mauve accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Latin Junior College and attended Boston University, where her husband also studied.

Sports of All Sorts

Newton cashed in on a "good neighbor" visit by Quincy last Thursday as the generous visitors donated an 8-3 verdict to the Orange and Black with 16 walks, four errors and a pair of hit batsmen. Pitchers dominated this game as Newton outthrew Quincy by a mere 5-4 margin... Newton's chances for repeating in the Suburban League look good following the two independent games opening the season. Tiger hurlers have now allowed only five hits and four walks over 18 innings. That's good pitching in any league... But, contrarily, Newton's "sluggers" have picked up only seven singles in the two encounters. It would be an easy step to the state tournament if the hitters could add a little thump to go along with the stellar pitching shown so far... Little League activities are starting to perk up in the Garden City. Old man weather with his damp hand has sort of kept the youngsters confined to date. It looks like a typical New England March, which is bad news for sports fans... Last year's city champions, the Newton North Dodgers, will benefit from a dance to be sponsored Saturday night by Nonantum American Legion Post at Columbus Hall. The Nonantum Post is the sponsor of the team... Speaking of the Dodgers, last year's all-star pitcher-center fielder Jim Fitzpatrick has won a starting berth on the Sacred Heart High nine. Pretty good for a 13-year-old. Fitz is also scheduled for shortstop duty... Our Lady's got off to a dour start Sunday afternoon when St. Charles of Waltham trampled them in Waltham to the tune of 9-1. Our Lady's batters struck out 17 times in 7-2/3 innings before the nightmare was called because of rain... Providing the snow isn't heaped around the field, the first practice and tryout of the Newton North Little League will be conducted this Saturday at Albermarle Playground. Future tryouts will be held on succeeding Saturdays. Boys 11 and 12 will practice from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., 9 and 10-year-olds from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The 8-year-olds will have their chance April 25 only at 2 p.m.

City Personnel
Directors Ass'n
Meets in Newton

Municipal problems with regard to city workers were discussed Friday at a monthly business session of the Municipal Research Personnel Directors Association of Massachusetts in Newton City Hall.

Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood joined the group for dinner at the Brae Burn Country Club and also addressed them prior to their evening meeting.

The Mayor stated he is in sympathy with planned cooperative action for better public service by better public servants. "The public and city officials look to you as personnel officers to gather with your staffs for new standards of performance and higher levels of achievement."

"Working collectively," Mayor Lockwood declared, "you are in creating your 'know how' to make yourselves more valuable to your government agencies. More and more public officials have come to realize that management problems are essentially personnel problems and the keeping of essential services going takes more than a hit-or-miss handling.

"A popular government without popular information or means of acquiring it is a prologue to tragedy," he said. "As an official link between the executive and the administrative forces of your respective communities, your city's course and decisions will be governed by the quality of its personnel and their equipment of facts and figures."

The Association members discussed the situation in their communities and arranged facilities for the pooling of local resources and experiences by means of special study groups and research projects.

Other matters on the agenda included discussions on wages and salaries, salary schedules and ranges for clerical, fire, police and library personnel as well as Civil Service examinations in various classifications to facilitate the process of recruiting personnel.

Den 10: Victor Nigro, a gold arrow and silver arrow on bear badge; Thomas McManus, gold arrow and silver arrow on bear badge.

Den 2 and 9 were tied for the parental attendance mark with 90 per cent attending. Also present were Boy Scouts Wayne Haskins, Kenneth Carl, Robert Sprague and Kenneth Flanagan.

Mrs. Tisdel, a news editor on the Boston Globe, spoke on "News Can Be Fun, and Personal Experiences with the OWI in England, Luxembourg and Germany."

Mrs. Tisdel, who now contributes book reviews to the Boston Globe under her maiden name, Florence E. Whittier, spoke on her newspaper career in five states, including her four years as assistant to the dramatic editor of the Boston Advertiser, and as a book reviewer for nine years of the Boston Transcript. Both are graduates of the University of Missouri School of Journalism.

Mr. and Mrs. Tisdel were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Wallstrom, Winthrop, Me., Friday, and Mr. Tisdel's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis, in Portland, Saturday.

John Swanson received his Webelos, graduating him to a Boy Scout.

Three new Cub Scouts, Tucker Lillis, John Purple and Carl Michaelson, were initiated into Cub Scout Pack 22 at the Pack's monthly meeting Friday night at the Underwood School, Newton.

A moving picture on life under the sea was shown at the conclusion of the evening, and Den 5 won the attendance flag.

2 Newton Seniors
At Amherst Named
To Phi Beta Kappa

Two Newton seniors at Amherst College will be initiated into the Amherst College chapter of Phi Beta Kappa next Thursday, April 23, along with 22 other Amherst juniors and seniors.

The students, both graduates of Newton High School, are Donald Finberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Finberg of 28 Evelyn place, Waban, and Robert Ward, son of Dr. Mark H. Ward of 24 Mountfort road, Newton Highlands.

Finberg was on the Dean's List for both semesters of his sophomore and junior years and the first semester of senior year. At the end of his sophomore year he was awarded the Samuel Waller Brown Scholarship by the trustees of the College for ranking highest in his class in character, class leadership, scholarship and athletic ability.

In extra-curricular activities, Finberg has been active in campus dramatics, taking part in "Amherst With Music" and "Giotto's Frescoes", his sophomore year; "Red Two", his junior year; and "Bon Vivant", his senior year. Finberg was elected to Sphinx, junior honorary society, and Scarab, a senior honorary society composed of a dozen outstanding students.

A member of the Student Council his junior and senior years, Finberg is now vice-president of the organization. In addition, he was a member of the Glee Club his sophomore year and on the swimming team his freshman and sophomore years. He was also a member of the freshman basketball squad and is affiliated with Phi Alpha Psi fraternity.

Ward has been on the Dean's List for both semesters since his sophomore year at Amherst. In his freshman year, he was awarded first prize of the Walker Prizes for excellence in mathematics. Ward is affiliated with Phi Alpha Psi fraternity.

Newton Junior College Students
Make 1954 Plans

Several students in the sophomore class of Newton Junior College have completed their plans for next year. According to the college director, James Laurits, these varied plans form an interesting commentary upon our own life and times.

Six of the men who studied business administration at Newton Junior College have applied and have been accepted as juniors in the College of Business Administration of Boston University. These early applicants are David Blackall of Newton Centre, Robert Corbett of Newton Highlands, Richard Michelson of Lexington, Jeremiah Saunders of West Newton, Herbert Stepper of Newton Centre, and Daniel Sullivan of Auburndale.

Mr. Saunders is a veteran of the Korean conflict. Such veterans obtain education benefits under Public Law 550, for which training Newton Junior College has been approved as a degree-granting institution.

Aaron Harris of West Newton has accepted a position with the General Electric Company, in a special training program for junior college graduates who are interested in starting work as technicians and science workers. The program is company-wide and covers all products, from radar to ranges. It would appear that such opportunities for "terminal" students of junior colleges and institutes will increase greatly, since the nation needs great numbers of workers with technical training beyond high school.

Marshall Jones of Winchester, intends to transfer to the Naval Air Cadet School this month. The school for air officers admits only graduates of two-year colleges.

Upon the completion of their "general education," the first two years of college, many young men decide each year to enter active duty with the Armed Services. Many of these men will complete two more years of college when they are released from duty. Six sophomores have decided to put in their service to country after they graduate from Newton Junior College in June.

The Director states that the young women at the college have not yet completed their plans for next year, although half of them intend to transfer to four-year colleges.

Enroll in New B.U.
Honorary Society

Two Newton girls were officially enrolled in Psi Chi, national honorary society in psychology at Boston University, Friday at the University's Faculty Club when a new B. U. chapter was installed.

Among the 11 students who became members were Patricia Finnegan of 856 Watertown street, West Newton, and Eleanor R. Selber of 30 Burr street, Newton Centre.

Estelle G. Rosen, also of 30 Burr street, a treasurer of the Burr street, is treasurer of the B. U. chapter.

Tips on Collar Styles Will Aid Shirt Shoppers in Selection

It may be a man's world, but women do at least half of man's clothing shopping, according to a recent survey.

Cotton dress shirts are one of the items women buy most frequently for men, so it is a good idea for the shopping sex to keep abreast of the current collar style.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club will observe Conservation Day, Wednesday, April 8 at the Auburndale Club House, Inc. Coffee hour is at 1:15 p.m. at 2:15 p.m. Mrs. Roland W. Ure will give an illustrated lecture on "Adventures With Nature Around The Calendar." Mrs. Keith C. Parrish is day chairman. Mrs. Charles A. Higgins, Jr. hostess will be assisted by group 11: Mrs. Perelval R. Allen, Mrs. Kenneth D. Amidon, Mrs. Henry F. Keever, charter member, Mrs. William A. Leighton, Mrs. Joseph S. Meaney, Mrs. William A. Medlicott, Mrs. W. Hunter Perry, Mrs. Arthur L. Shaw, Mrs. F. H. Smalley, Mrs. Herbert L. Stevens, Mrs. Paul H. Tardivel, Mrs. George B. Thompson, Jr., Mrs. W. Edward Wilson and Mrs. Walter H. Woods.

The button down oxford cloth is casual and youthful looking. It goes well with sports jackets, flannels, and is favorite of college men.

The long-point collar is a good style for giving the appearance of length to broad faces and short necks. These collars usually have removable stays.

The short-point collar has gained a large number of followers recently. It is especially good for long necks. One of the newest of the short-pointed collar styles is one with rounded tabs.

Another current collar style is one with a very low neckband, no neck band in front. This style is cool and comfortable and particularly favored by men with thick necks.

Women should also keep in mind men's color preferences when selecting shirts. Although some men have special color favorites, white shirts are by far the most popular. Blue is runner-up to white.

Men prefer cotton shirts to any other fabric because of their crisp, fresh appearance and comfort.

Vind Damage to Trees Increasing, Look Out for More of It This Summer

High winds are breaking off a greater-than-normal amount of branches and twigs from trees in month. Tree owners can anticipate more wind breakage the months ahead, especially there is excess foliage.

The reason for this is because the past winter has been hard on trees and shrubs, according to F. A. Bartlett of the Bartlett Tree Experts. Wind storm in some areas, ice storms in others, even excessive snowfall, have weakened countless branches on thousands of trees.

Splits and cracks in the sapwood remain unseen masked by bark that still appears smooth, these dry out and later high winds break off the branches. This is happening to many leafless trees, even though the dangling limbs and other obviously-naked-eye split and weakened wood were removed right after the storm.

In other cases, storm-created weaknesses beget further weaknesses, causing the later loss of vigs and branches. Limbs bent by ice and snow returned to normal position. But the wood at the point of the bending split and cracked. Often the bark was twisted, some appearing crinkled, tenched loose from tissues enough to split. It may become

IN THE SERVICE

A Caribbean cruise, with visits to San Juan, Puerto Rico, and to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands was enjoyed last month by Reginald E. Flaherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Flaherty of 14 Thaxter road, Newtonville, who is serving as a fireman aboard the Navy escort vessel USS Kirkpatrick. The ship participated in "Operation Springboard" which was climaxed by amphibious exercises and mock assaults off the coast of North Carolina. The Kirkpatrick's home port is Newport, R.I.

Ensign Saul Quint, USNR, of Newton, is taking a naval gunfire support course in the Gunfire Support School at the U.S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Virginia.

The school, a part of the Naval Amphibious Training Unit, is an element of the Amphibious Training Command, U.S. Atlantic Fleet, under the direction of Rear Admiral Augustus J. Wellings, U.S.N.

Quint is the son of Leo Quint of 24 Sagamore road, Newton. He attended Newton High School.

In 1950, Quint received a bachelors of arts degree from Syracuse University. At present, he is attached to the landing ship dock USS Oak Hill.

The two-week course he is taking offers instruction in conduct of fire, terrain board spotting, naval ordnance and gunnery, and the planning of naval gunfire support.

Two Newton sailors are serving on the attack carrier U.S.S. Midway which engaged in "Operation Rendezvous" in the Mediterranean last month.

Aboard the Midway are Robert B. Mortenson of 22 Orchard street, Newton, aviation structural mechanic third class, and James W. Harmon of 14 Derby street, West Newton, seaman.

"Operation Rendezvous" was a NATO maneuver designed to maintain a standard of readiness and battle efficiency of Gen. Matthew Ridgeway's European Defense Forces. Participating in the operation were naval forces from France, Greece, Italy, the United Kingdom and the United States.

Two Newton sailors on the attack carrier U.S.S. Franklin D. Roosevelt are taking part in the second phase of an amphibious training exercise this month extending from the Caribbean area to the shores of North Carolina.

American wounded by air to hospitals in the U.S.

Prior to his assignment to MATS, Kenna was stationed at Westover Air Force Base, Mass.

Lieutenant-Colonel Neill M. Michael, husband of Mrs. Clarice L. Michael, West Newton, recently completed a tour of duty with the U.S. Air Force in the Philippines.

Until lately stationed at Clark Air Force Base, Philippines, where he served as civilian personnel officer, Col. Michael is now on his way to the United States for reassignment. On board the U.S. Naval Transport General Ainsworth, he was accompanied on his return trip by Mrs. Michael.

Col. and Mrs. Michael resided at the military dependents housing area at Clark AFB during their stay overseas.

Col. Michael has been in continuous military service with the U.S. Air Force since 1942. He completed Officers Training School at Miami Beach, Fla., and was stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, from 1942 through 1946. Before coming to the Philippines in April, 1951, he served as chief of the Surplus Property Division at Springfield, Illinois.

Upon his arrival in California, Col. Michael will report to the 234th Personnel Processing Group at Fort Mason, Calif. From this processing center, the colonel will proceed to his next duty station at Parks AFB, Calif., for assignment to the 327th Air Force Indoctrination Wing.

A graduate from the University of West Virginia, where he took up courses in commerce and bookkeeping, Col. Michael was assigned from the 3d Infantry Division's Non-Commissioned Officer's Academy in Korea.

Pvt. Richard B. Simmons, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Simmons of 191 Newtonville Avenue, Newton, recently was graduated from the 3d Infantry Division's Non-Commissioned Officer's Academy in Korea.

Pvt. Simmons, whose wife, Eleanor, lives at 49 Galen street, Waltham, has been in Korea since December. He is a tank gunner with the Heavy Tank Company, 15th Infantry Regiment.

The only noticeable change in the appearance of the bills will be that the serial numbers and the colored Treasury seal will be smaller, and a large shaded, denominational numeral will be inserted to the left of the oval portrait. The backs of the bills will not be changed.

This simplified method is already in use on $1 silver certificates of the series of 1935 and on Federal Reserve notes of all denominations of the series of 1950.

The 3d Division, since coming to Korea toward the end of 1950, has participated in many famous battles, including White Horse, Jackson Heights, Sniper Ridge and Kelly Hill.

Ralph E. Silvers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Silvers of 317 Linwood Avenue, Newtonville, visited Karachi, the capital of Pakistan, recently while serving on the heavy cruiser USS Pittsburg.

He is a radarman seaman on the ship. The Pittsburgh is also scheduled to make visits to Madras, India, and Colombo, Ceylon. The ship is slated to return to the Mediterranean and operate with the Sixth Fleet during March.

Warren M. Mosher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Mosher of 1836 Commonwealth Avenue, Auburndale, is attending Navy Fire Control Technician School at the U.S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md.

Before entering the Navy in October of 1951, he attended Acadia University, Nova Scotia. In a 4-week course, the technicians are taught the repair and maintenance of the equipment which controls gunfire and torpedo launching.

The burden of the Excess Profits Tax should be removed from the backs of small businesses, for it is through the development and expansion of small business that new jobs and greater individual prosperity can most readily be brought about — Collinsville (Conn.) Valley Herald.

U.S. Treasury Has "New Look" In Currency

With Spring just around the corner, the U.S. Treasury recently came out with some new styles in paper currency.

The Spring money fashions involve no drastic changes — no plunging necklines or startling innovations. However, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston believes the public should know about them — just so it will recognize the new currency as legitimate.

In order to standardize the physical appearance of United States paper money and to expedite the issuance of notes carrying facsimile signatures of new public officials, a change has been made in the method of production of $2 and $5 United States notes and $5 and $10 silver certificates.

Heretofore, the plates used for printing these issues included the engraved facsimile signatures of the Secretary of the Treasury and the Treasurer of the United States. Whenever one of these officers was changed, it was necessary to re-engage the plates with new signatures. Under the change, facsimile signatures will be overprinted on the face of the notes simultaneously with the seal and serial number, making re-engraving unnecessary.

This simplified method is already in use on $1 silver certificates of the series of 1935 and on Federal Reserve notes of all denominations of the series of 1950.

To Display Rescue Work At High School

A demonstration of various phases of rescue work will be presented under the sponsorship of the Newton Civil Defense Department Saturday from 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 at the Newton High School gymnasium.

The demonstration will be under the direction of Gilbert J. Champagne, who recently completed a rescue training course at the Federal Civil Defense College at Olney, Md. Mr. Champagne, a member of the Newton Police Department, is chairman of first aid of the Newton Red Cross Chapter.

Everyone attending will have the opportunity of participating in any or all of the four parts of the demonstration. The sections are (1) knot tying in rescue work; (2) lashing a person to a stretcher for lowering from heights; (3) use of ladders ranging from 13 feet to 25-foot extension ladder; and (4) back pressure-arm lift method of artificial respiration.

In addition, there will be a display by the Newton Police and Fire Departments of equipment used for emergency purposes. The film "School for Survival," showing the rescue training course given at the Federal Civil Defense College, will open the program at 6:30 p.m.

Rexall Sale at Alter Drug Co.

Newton's newest and most modern pharmacy, the Alter Rexall Drug Co., located at 880 Walnut street, Newton Centre is participating in the nation-wide Rexall Original 1c Sale now going on through Saturday April 18th. During this sale many quality items may be purchased at substantial savings.

Mr. L. H. Alter, Registered Pharmacist, has been in the drug business for 35 years and has lived in Newton for the past 19 years. He points out that the Alter Drug has a pick-up and delivery prescription service and also an emergency night prescription service after the store closes at 10 p.m.

In addition the Alter Drug Company has the most modern fountain equipment serving sandwiches and other fountain products. Customers will find the store's private parking space particularly helpful.

Before the average Massachusetts car is scrapped, it will have consumed 8,000 gallons of gasoline and run up $600 in gasoline taxes.

Truck at Marathon To Collect Coins For Cancer Drive

The thousands who line the route of the annual BAA Marathon next Monday will be given a unique opportunity to help fight cancer, it was announced today.

Preceding the runners as they plod through Framingham, Natick, Wellesley, Newton, Brookline and Boston on the 26-mile classic will be a huge flat-bed trailer truck with a sign inviting watchers to toss their coin contributions into the truck and thus help the current campaign of the American Cancer Society.

Armed with the famous sword of the Cancer Society, symbol of its war against the disease, will be a pretty girl who will ride on the truck. She'll use the sword to spear any dollar bills that the Society will be thrown at her.

This is the fourth year that the Cavalcade, preceded by a sound truck, has appeared in conjunction with the Marathon. In other years watchers along the Marathon route have contributed many hundreds of dollars in coins and bills thrown into the vehicle, Cancer Society officials said, and State chairman Frederic C. Dumaine Jr., is hoping that Massachusetts citizens will again respond generously to the appeal. The goal of the April classic is $661,980.

"It's too bad the farmers themselves can't enjoy the rich, nutritious butter they help to produce instead of going though the efforts of producing it only to have it stored and eventually thrown away. Such folly!" Addison (Vt. Independent.

AAA Urges Safety Checkup for Cars For Spring, Summer

To halt the annual upward trend of automobile accidents during spring and summer, the American Automobile Association today recommended that car owners get complete "safety checkups" for their vehicles, in addition to the compulsory inspection, as an aid in eliminating driving risks.

Minimum checkup for safe driving, according to the Massachusetts Division AAA, should include brake lining inspection, check of brake fluid lines and cylinders, steering and wheel alignment examination, inspection of tires for cuts and bruises, and check of lights, windshield wipers, horn and signal lights.

Summer driving brings problems ranging from vapor lock to overheated engines, AAA officials said. On hot days, gas sometimes vaporizes before it reaches the carburetor, blocking gasoline flow up to the carburetor. This may be remedied by stopping the car and raising the hood to permit cooling. The vapor will then condense and allow free flow of liquid fuel.

Overheating may occur during

"Political Overtones"

Starting next week, The Graphic will publish a lively new column, "Political Overtones," which will comment on and discuss political happenings in Newton and along the State and national fronts as well. Written in straight-from-the-shoulder fashion, often about things going on behind the political scenes, it will be one of the colorful features in your community newspaper. Watch for news about your elected officials in "Political Overtones," beginning next week in The Graphic.

Second Meeting Of Civic Ass'n May 4

Newton residents are invited to attend the second meeting of the Newton Civic Association Monday, May 4 at 8 p.m. at the Bigelow Junior High School when the proposed by-laws of the new non-partisan organization will be submitted for adoption. William P. Ripley of Newton Centre, chairman of the organizing committee, announced today.

The new association has been formed "for the purposes of promoting efficient, representative and responsible government in the City of Newton, and to that end, to encourage citizens to take an active interest in the affairs of the City of Newton, and to encourage and support the candidacy of reliable and competent men and women to seek election to public office and to support intelligent, 'whole-some leadership in public affairs."

Suggestions for members of the nominating committee will be made from the floor at the coming meeting. The by-laws will be saved by establishing the new division.

The commission explained, "Absence of adequate performance and other records make it impossible to estimate the losses incurred by the Commonwealth under the present system."

The commission added, "However, in the considered judgment of our engineering consultants, these losses are very large. Unless some remedial action is taken soon, they will become staggering."

The commission said when it began its study, the building picture was: 240 building projects underway, 17 state agencies involved, and $80,000,000 "tied up."

The commission gave two examples of red tape that would presumably be eliminated by the new Division of Building Construction.

Right now, according to the commission, if you want to change a type of window frame, it requires seven administrative actions and three letters.

One builder requested a change involving $26. He spent 40 hours discussing the matter with state officials. He became so involved in red tape, he finally paid the sum from his own pocket.

State Rep. Howard Whitmore Jr. Heads Baby Hoover Commission

State Representative Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton was elected chairman last week of the Special Commission on the Structure of the State Government, more popularly known as the Baby Hoover Commission.

Representative Whitmore succeeds Senator Chester A. Dolan, Jr., of Jamaica Plain, now president of the Guaranty Trust Co. of Waltham. The term of the commission was scheduled to expire March 31, but the Legislature extended its life with the provision that the new chairman be a member of the House or Senate.

The day after Representative Whitmore was named to the chairmanship, the commission suggested that the state form a Division of Building Construction to take the responsibility for the state's multi-million dollar building program.

The new Division of Building Construction would replace the present Massachusetts Public Building Commission.

The new division would exercise overall supervision of construction. It would do this for most state agencies and set up regulations and standards to speed construction, eliminate delays, and slash red tape.

The Baby Hoover Commission could not say how much money

Newtonville Improvement Ass'n Opposes Toll Road in Newton

The Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association went on record as opposed to extending the East-West Toll Road this side of Route 128 at a meeting last week at the home of William R. Mattson, 28 Brookdale road, Newtonville.

The committee approved two resolutions in opposition to the road, copies of which are being sent to the State Commissioner of Public Works and to other improvement associations in Newton.

The resolutions were "That this Association, through its Executive Committee, go on record as strongly opposed to the proposed Toll-Road going through any part of the City of Newton."

Mrs. Genevieve Oncley, reporting for the Committee for Conservation of Edmonds Park, noted that city departments are "co-operating generously" in the project to re-establish the park as natural attraction. She said the Association hopes to be able to clean up the park at little cost to the city.

Asks Staff Aid For Military Hospitals

The American National Red Cross has requested the aid of Newton Chapter in the recruitment of staff personnel for its Service to Military Hospitals and Service at Military Installations.

In the Service to Military Hospitals three groups of workers are needed: senior case aides to do social welfare case work with some knowledge of Red Cross welfare program and policies required; recreation workers (women) with college degree and experience in the field, and social workers (women) for positions as assistant field directors.

Service at Military Installations has vacancies for men as assistant field directors. Graduates of a four-year college course with some experience in a social agency are preferred and veterans are especially desired.

Persons accepting employment in these positions must be available for service in any geographical area, including overseas.

For further information, contact the Executive Director of Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, LA 7-6000.

Ex-Ambassador To Be Speaker Here April 30

The Honorable James G. McDonald, this country's first ambassador to Israel, will be the guest speaker at the closing dinner meeting of the Brotherhood Temple Emanuel, April 30, in the Temple Emanuel auditorium.

The commission said when it began its study, the building picture was: 240 building projects underway, 17 state agencies involved, and $80,000,000 "tied up."

The commission gave two examples of red tape that would presumably be eliminated by the new Division of Building Construction.

"That it is the opinion of this Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association that no toll road or any extension should be constructed east of the present Route 128."

Rep. Howard Whitmore Jr. recommended that all efforts should be made at once to try to influence the Toll Road Authority not to put the road through any part of the city.

The road, Rep. Whitmore pointed out, would dispossess many people, ruin residential districts and would raise the city's tax rate by taking valuable property out of valuation.

Mrs. Genevieve Oncley, reporting for the Committee for Conservation of Edmonds Park, noted that city departments are "co-operating generously" in the project to re-establish the park as natural attraction. She said the Association hopes to be able to clean up the park at little cost to the city.

Cancer Contributions Have Passed 55 Percent of Quota

At the mid-point of the month-long American Cancer Drive in Newton, the chairman, Dr. Lewis S. Pilcher, has announced that Newton contributions have passed 55 per cent of the Newton quota of $15,000.

This is the answer of Newton citizens to the challenge of eliminating a criminal intruder in their community. The intruder's name is, of course, cancer. Figures show that in a city the size of Newton, this criminal in 1953 will strike 180 new persons, destroying 100. Unchecked, in our lifetime, 20 per cent of the citizenry would feel the intruder's insidious menace.

By means of alertness in cancer's seven danger signals, and

ago, but less than half of what is needed.

Voluntary contributions to the Cancer Fund will aid in establishing these clinics as well as in financing the training of young doctors in diagnosis and treatment of cancer, and the numerous necessary expenses involved in such a vital project.

If you have not yet joined your neighbors in the Crusade against Cancer send your check today to the treasurer of the Newton Campaign, Mr. William H. Rice, Newton Centre Savings Bank, Newton Centre.

Damaging Mail Boxes Serious Problem to PO

"Youngsters must be made to realize that tampering with, or destruction of, home mail receptacles or street letter boxes is a serious federal offense and carries severe fines and jail sentences," Postmaster Joseph P. W. Finn said today in Boston.

In observance of National Mail Box Week, the postmaster took the occasion to bring to the attention of the public the need for warning youngsters concerning federal property and mail receptacles.

"There have been repeated reports of apartment house mail receptacles being destroyed willfully; street letter boxes upset or removed. There can be no excuse on the part of anyone that these are innocent pranks of teenagers. It represents not only costly damage but in many instances has destroyed or delayed the mail of many families and firms. If a box in a district is continually being damaged, we will be forced to remove this box from that location.

"Certainly youngsters cannot claim innocence of the knowledge of how serious is the matter of tampering with federal property for the importance of mail and the seriousness of damage to federal property has been a tradition through the years.

"Repeated damage in one section by the youngsters of the neighborhood has drawn the warning by postal officials that they will withhold the delivery of mail and force these families to call at the postoffice each day unless they find effective means of stopping the damage to their mail receptacles," said the postmaster.

Homes and apartment houses not having mail receptacles for the proper protection of the mail are urged to take immediate action to correct this condition since mail carriers are required to report locations where the regulations are not being observed.

Parents, clergy, schools, youth organizations are invited to call the attention of all youngsters to the need for having the proper respect for the mail, which means mail receptacles and street letter boxes. "Nothing but mail should be deposited in letterboxes," said the postmaster.

Community Council Re-elects Miss Adelaide Ball President

Miss Adelaide B. Ball was re-elected as president for a third term and the other officers are as follows: 1st vice-president, Leo Barry; 2nd vice-president, chief Philip Purcell; secretary, Mrs. J. Lawrence Oncley; treasurer, George L. White. Members-at-large elected for a term of three years are: Mrs. Maurice Strauss, Dr. Donald E. Bowen, John R. Wheeley.

The following organizations were also voted into Council membership: Memorial School T.A., Warren Junior High T.A., Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association.

Miss Ball presided at the annual meeting held at City Hall and thanked the three retiring members of the Governing Board for their service and interest in the Council; they are Mrs. Chester B. Lomax, Dr. Chester M. Alter, and Dr. Allen R. Barrow. Nathan Weston, of the Boston Civic League, gave a brief description of the proposed educational TV channel 2 which is to be non-commercial and non-profit and will have all kinds of programs both formal and informal even including symphony concerts. The application for this channel must be made before June 6th or it will be operated by a commercial group. A special legislative commission of the state was formed last Fall to study the subject. On April 10th the Greater Boston Area Council held a symposium to form a Massachusetts Citizens' Committee to insure backing for

Win N.Y. Weekend On WBZ Quiz Show

Mrs. Josephine L. Smith of 224 Jackson street, Newton Centre, spent last week end in New York after winning an all-expenses-paid trip for two, plus many other valuable prizes, on the WBZ quiz program, "Cinderella Weekend."

Mrs. Smith made the trip with her husband in a special parlor car on the New Haven Railroad and stayed at the Hotel Statler.

In addition to the trip to New York, Mrs. Smith also won a watch, a dozen pairs of hosiery, identification jewelry, a vacuum cleaner and food products.

Lee Loumos, long time New England resident and veteran, has moved his entire business activities from Boston to Newton.

Last fall he took over the operation of Hale's Radio and T. V. business at 1357 Washington street, West Newton and has recently completed the re-location of all Electronic and TV repairs to enlarged quarters in the basement of his store.

With three outside repairmen and two master shop technicians he is in a position to render the fastest and most competent TV service to the Newtons and surrounding towns. His shop technicians are always available for advice or repairs to anything electronic which should be of great interest to HI-FI fans in the area. The laboratory is probably the most complete and efficient to be found West of Boston and the public is invited to visit it whenever they wish.

This has left the main floor free for the display of TV sets, appliances, such as food freezers, washers, dryers etc., and last but not least a full line of room air conditioners for home or office. CURRENT COMMENT

Republicans to Study Re-Districting . . .

Few Fireworks at Democratic Dinner . . .

One political expert observed the other day that Massachusetts probably would have no Republican members in Congress, if the Democrats had an opportunity to gerrymander the Bay State's congressional districts during the regime of ex-Governor Paul A. Dever.

That is an exaggeration, but it is safe to say that this State would have substantially fewer than eight G.O.P. Congressmen serving on Capitol Hill, if the Democrats during the past four years had been able to block out the Congressional districts.

Neither the Republicans nor the Democrats can legislate the other entirely out of Congress. The political lines are too tightly drawn in Massachusetts for that. The party laying out the congressional districts, however, can give itself a very decided advantage.

The Republicans always have done the re-districting. The Democrats never have executed a gerrymander, and the explanation for that is simple. They never have been in control of both branches of the State Legislature.

They came close in 1949 and 1950, when they controlled the House and the State Senate was deadlocked, and they didn't miss by much in 1951 and 1952. But they still didn't quite make it, for the Senate stood in the way of a Democratic gerrymander, an obstacle that couldn't be by-passed.

What the Republicans will attempt to do, when they divide the State into Congressional districts, is to utilize their voting strength to the greatest possible advantage and to waste as much Democratic power as they can.

In other words, the G.O.P. strategists will seek to give themselves a safe margin in as many Congressional districts as possible and to concentrate as much Democratic voting strength as possible into a few sections.

Democratic politicians will scream with outraged indignation when this is done, but political observers will not pay too much attention, realizing that the Democrats would do precisely the same thing if they were in the position to do it.

Massachusetts at the present time has eight Republicans and six Democrats in Congress, and it's possible that the G.O.P. might pick up two seats and show a 10-4 advantage after the 1954 election.

The two seats they might wrest away from the Democrats are those of Congressmen Harold D. Donohue of Worcester and Edward Boland of Springfield, and they probably will attempt to solidify the position of Congressman Angier L. Goodwin of Melrose who has to fight for his political life in almost every election.

One important factor, which may serve to complicate the revamping of the Congressional districts, is the personal popularity of some of the men representing Massachusetts on Capitol Hill.

On the matter of cold statistics the Democrats should have won the seat from the 10th Congressional district in 1948, for both Harry S. Truman and Paul A. Dever ran ahead of their Republican opponents in that district.

But a gentleman named Christian A. Herter was carrying the Republican Congressional banner in the 10th district that year. A good many Democrats rallied sturdily behind him, and he won reelection comfortably in the face of a strong Democratic trend.

The G.O.P., as a matter of fact, has been extremely fortunate in the caliber of the Congressmen it has sent to Washington from this state.

Congressman John W. McCormack has been "Mr. Democrat" on Capitol Hill as far as Massachusetts has been concerned. By dint of a tremendous amount of hard work and an almost amazing devotion to his duty, he rose to become the second ranking Democrat in the national House of Representatives.

But where McCormack is virtually in a class by himself where the Democrats are concerned, the Republicans can count men like Joseph W. Martin, Jr., John W. Heselton, Laurence Curtis and Richard B. Wiggleworth, and Edith Nourse Rogers is also a real asset to the G.O.P. delegation.

Heselton, for example, is now considered unbeatable in his Western Massachusetts stronghold, but when he first won election back in 1944, his district was regarded as politically tight, and it probably would be a real battleground again if anyone else were the Republican candidate.

For that reason it might be a bit risky for the G.O.P. map-makers to slice off a part of Heselton's district and add onto the adjoining Boland district in an attempt to shift the latter to the G.O.P. column. A revision in his district probably would not disturb Heselton, but it might prevent any other Representative from carrying it, after he steps out of office.

Congressman Curtis' district is the biggest in Massachusetts, comprising the entire city of Newton, the town of Brookline and about a third of the city of Boston. It is likely that one or two of his Boston wards will be shifted to the McCormack district to provide a more even balance.

It is probable that Democratic Congressmen McCormack and O'Neill both will be given larger districts for next year's election in order to burn up Democratic votes and strength.

Since both districts are overwhelmingly Democratic and the Republicans don't offer even token opposition in them, the G.O.P. will have nothing to lose by shifting additional Democratic votes to them. That's one of the objectives of a gerrymander.

It won't make any real difference to McCormack, who is unbeatable in his district, and if O'Neill has any fight next year it would be in the primary.

The G.O.P. Congressional gerrymander won't be undertaken until next year. The Republican strategists plan to give the matter careful study, to analyze the situation from all aspects and angles and then submit a re-districting plan to the Legislature early in 1954.

The annual Jefferson-Jackson dinner at the Sheraton Plaza last Saturday night proved a big social and financial success, but politically it appeared to be a bit of a dud.

The Democratic politicos had a most enjoyable evening, and they apparently raised enough money to pay off the bills remaining from last fall's campaign, with a little to spare.

But to an interested listener it seemed that their political canon went off with only the explosive force of so many popguns.

Governor Herter was the favorite target for the night, and the most sensational allegation hurled at him was that he fired some Democrats and hired some Republicans in their places, and while that has some unhappy aspects from a Democratic standpoint, it isn't exactly an unheard-of action.

Even some of the Democratic diners admitted privately that the criticism of Mr. Herter, when boiled down to actual facts, was pretty trivial in nature, and they also conceded that the Governor has displayed a hardy brand of political courage in stepping in to end gas and milk strikes which threatened the public well-being.

Congressman Laurence Curtis will be accorded an unusual tribute next month when he is tendered a testimonial banquet by the State Department of the Disabled American Veterans at the First Corps Cadet Armory.

A former State commander and national vice senior commander of the D.A.V., Curtis served in the Air Force during the first World War and suffered the loss of a leg when he crashed during a training flight.

Curtis, incidentally, is receiving mounting praise for the caliber of public service he has rendered during his four months in Congress. He has stepped smoothly into the place of Christian A. Herter who went from Capitol Hill to Beacon Hill to become Governor.

The weekly Herald in St. Peter, Minn., ran this advertisement on its classified page: "Wanted: man to handle dynamite. Must be prepared to travel unexpectedly." Some of the prospective applicants may well have wondered exactly where they were likely to travel.

John Quintant was excused by a judge in Los Alamos, N. M., when he explained that the reason he didn't have 1953 plates on his automobile was that the last time he tried to put on new plates he aggravated an old back injury and was in the hospital for three weeks. We doubt that such an explanation would be considered acceptable for driving in Massachusetts with 1952 plates.

McCormack is virtually in a class by himself where the Democrats are concerned, the Republicans can count men like Joseph W. Martin, Jr., John W. Heselton, Laurence Curtis and Richard B. Wiggleworth, and Edith Nourse Rogers is also a real asset to the G.O.P. delegation.

Resolutions Adopted by the Newton School Committee

Resolved, that the Newton School Committee, having been informed that the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority contemplates the construction of a highway using one of two routes through Newton, is opposed to both routes for reasons including the following:

- (1) The proposed southern route would prevent the construction of a new 600-pupil (ultimately a 1,000-pupil) junior high school for which land has been taken by the City at a cost of $30,000 and on which an architect is already at work looking toward a required occupancy by September 1955.
- (2) The proposed northern route would run so close to the Franklin School—a 593-pupil elementary building—as to interfere with the proper conduct of the school and the safety of the children, and split hazardously its normal district.
- (3) Any route passing through any part of Newton, except its outskirts, would seriously interfere with the elementary and junior high school districts on which the City's orderly school building program has been based since 1923, on which more than $5,000,000 have been expended in the last four years, and on which school buildings totalling an additional $1,700,000 are now in the process of construction.

Resolved further, that a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority with the School Committee's respectful request that in selecting a Boston terminus of the highway all possible weight be given to the factor of dislocation which each proposed terminus would cause to the school children whose safety would be affected and that copies be sent to the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Works, Newton's representatives to the General Court, his Honor, the Mayor, and the gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen.

St. John's Church
League Conducts
Annual Meeting

A church is partnership in which all laymen must play a part, Mr. Felix Knath of the Church of the Redeemer, Auburndale, told the second Annual Meeting of the Church Service League of St. John's Church, Newtonville, held recently at the Parish House.

Mr. Knath declared laymen should live, speak and act as Christians both in and out of the church building. Our attitude should be, he said, "Here I am coming to you (the church). We should not wait for the church to always come to us."

The meeting was opened with a prayer by the rector, Rev. Wilbur J. Kingwill. The annual letter of the retiring president, Mrs. Cecil W. Clark was read, followed by reports from heads of parish organizations.

Mr. Knath delivered his address following voting on changes of the constitution and by-laws of the church. The Church Service League and the appointment of a Serviceman's Committee to keep in touch with men of the parish serving in the armed forces.

Elected or appointed officers were: president, Mrs. Thomas G. Walters; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Clyde V. Hicks; 2nd vice-president, Leigh Packer; recording secretary, Miss Elizabeth Adams; corresponding secretary, Miss Emily P. Burdon; treasurer, Frederick C. Wells; assistant treasurer, T. Arnold Joyce; Church Periodical Club, Mrs. W. Scott Brent; social activities, Mrs. Norman H. Erskine; diocesan activities, Charles E. Billings; ways and means Chairman, Leigh Packer; ways and means vice-chairman, Robert Hull; properties chairman, Mrs. Harold Wright; neighborhood group committee, Walter B. Chase; publicity chairman, Miss Eleanor L. Bartlett; United Thank Offerings custodian, Mrs. Ward Funi; Church School superintendent, Raymond C. Church; Youth Activities chairman, George Briggs.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served in the Loring Room by members of the Altar Guild.

Hayloft Jamboree
In Needham Friday

A Newton-Needham Hayloft Jamboree will be sponsored by Middletown - Norfolk Pomona Grange No. 1 tomorrow (Friday) at 8 p.m. in Needham High School.

The Jamboree will feature Eddie Zack and his group of radio personalities from WCOB. Following an hour-and-a-half entertainment, there will be two hours of square dancing.

The grange district sponsoring the Jamboree includes Newton, Needham, Dover, Natick, Sherborn, Cochituate, Ashland, Holliston, Millis and Medfield.

The committee in charge of the Jamboree is composed of George H. Ferran, master of Middletown-Norfolk Pomona Grange No. 1; Donald Osborn of Newton, Lesley Paul of Sherborn, Thomas Donald of Needham, George Scholz of Dover, and Dionne LaCroix of Cochituate.

Pictures, Depicting Life In U.S., At Newtonville Library

Thirty-five original and delightful pictures, depicting life in the United States as seen through the eyes of students in the Newton Schools, are on display at the Newtonville Public Library until May 1. They will then be sent to the American National Red Cross in Washington, where they will be screened by the American Junior Red Cross and the American Art Association and sent to foreign countries.

The International Art Program is sponsored by the American Junior Red Cross in cooperation with the National Art Education Association. It encourages school students to create drawings and paintings that reflect their lives and interests and enables them to send their work to youth of other lands through National Red Cross societies, and to receive similar work in return.

The main purposes of the program are to promote mutual interest and understanding and to encourage the use of art as a means of transmitting experience. It has been shown that

Women's Auxiliary of Jewish Memorial

The monthly meeting of Young Women's Auxiliary of Jewish Memorial Hospital was held on Monday evening, April 20, in Hampton Court Hotel, Brookline.

Mrs. Harry Zimmerman, Newton, president, presided over the meeting. A report was given on the progress of fourth annual "Celebrities Night" show slated for Sunday evening, April 26, in Boston Garden for benefit of the hospital's building fund.

"All types of volunteers are welcome at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital," concluded Mrs. Hobbs. "You don't have to have a particular skill to be useful to us. We need people who would be willing to run errands, or type or do filing or fill twenty-odd jobs regularly handled by volunteers. We are deeply grateful to those who keep coming to us and we earnestly hope that they will be joined by others."

Albert E. Schierenbeck of Newton left last week to participate in "Exercise Desert Rock," the next atomic test in the series being held in Nevada.

He is the commanding officer of Battery D, 16th Anti-aircraft Artillery Gun Battalion in Newton, one of the units engaged in the round-the-clock air defense program protecting the Boston area.

Mrs. Ida Baker, Newton, discussed plans for the annual "Carry-On" dinner to be held June 8 at Somerset Hotel; she is entertainment chairman for the affair.

With the advent of Spring, the Garden Club is being reactivated and Mrs. Selma Friedman, Brookline, chairman, will give details of plans for beautifying the grounds of the hospital.

Referendum Urged on Route Of $275,000,000 Toll Road

A public referendum on the route of the $275,000,000 East-West Toll Highway was proposed by Rep. Howard Whitmore, Jr. of Newton at a public protest meeting against the road held Friday night at Newton High School.

Rep. Whitmore attacked the project as "not economically sound," in addressing nearly 200 persons at the meeting. The session had been called by the Franklin School Parent-Teachers Association and the West Newton S.O.S. (Save Our Schools) Society.

He called upon all citizens interested in the road's location to write letters of protest to the Turnpike Authority and expressed hope that the legislature might amend the turnpike act so as to limit the powers of the Authority.

Sen. Richard H. Lee declared that the theory of toll roads was "firmly in the minds of the legislature." He added, "If we can't change their minds, we can at least influence the route."

The senator expressed doubt that even Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe could overrule the decision of the Turnpike Authority.

Record Number of Volunteers Aided Hospital During March

A record number of volunteers aided the Newton-Wellesley Hospital during the month of March, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Mabel Hobbs, Director of Volunteers at the hospital. "We are grateful for the 2,600 hours of work contributed by 276 willing volunteers during the past month," said Mrs. Hobbs. "This marks a high point in volunteer activity since the war," Mrs. Hobbs continued.

On March 26 a class of Nurse's Aids, 20 in number, received their certificates marking completion of the standard 80 hour nurse's aid course. A group of 15 Gray Ladies also received certificates marking completion of their in doctrination to work in the local hospital. On March 16 a new class of nurse's aids commenced their training, with 20 in this second group.

There is an ever continuing need for trained personnel to supplement the efforts of the professional people at the hospital, according to Miss Myrtle L. Fuller, Director of Nursing Services at the hospital. "We are currently running the hospital at almost 35 per cent below our full complement of nurses," said Miss Fuller. "There is little likelihood of an early improvement in this situation, since there are just not enough girls entering the career of nursing to fill our needs. This nursing shortage is nation-wide and we are only feeling the local manifestations of an acute situation. In spite of the fact that we are training more girls for professional duties, the professional life of the graduate is brief. If it were not for our willing volunteers we simply would not be able to maintain adequate nursing standards."

"All types of volunteers are welcome at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital," concluded Mrs. Hobbs. "You don't have to have a particular skill to be useful to us. We need people who would be willing to run errands, or type or do filing or fill twenty-odd jobs regularly handled by volunteers. Miss Virginia Gallo, Mr. Kreckler Wed At St. Philip Neri Church

Before an altar decorated with white gladioli, white roses and white carnations, Miss Virginia Adeline Gallo, daughter of Mr. Pasquale Gallo of Waban and the late Mrs. Gallo, became the bride of Mr. Francis Xavier Kreckler, son of Mr. Frank X. Kreckler of Roxbury and the late Mrs. Kreckler, at St. Philip Neri Church, Waban last Saturday, April 18.

Rev. John E. Thomas performed the nuptial mass and a reception followed at the Hotel Bradford, Boston.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a princess style gown of white chantilly lace over Duchess satin fashioned with a long train. A lace and satin cloche held her finger-tip tulle veil in place, and she carried a cascade of stephanias, gladioli and orchids.

Mr. John Kreckler of Roxbury was best man for his brother, Mr. Paul V. Kreckler, another brother of the groom and Mr. Joseph A. Gallo of Waban, brother of the bride were ushers.

After a wedding trip to New York and Washington, D. C., the newlyweds will live in Boston.

MRS. HERBERT JOSEPH GOLDY

Miss Barbara Gofman Bride Of

Mr. Goldy, Bermuda Wedding Trip

A honeymoon to Bermuda followed the marriage of Miss Barbara Claire Gofman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gofman of 40 Brackett road, Newton, to Mr. Herbert Joseph Goldy, of Worcester, son of Mrs. Fanny Goldy of Paterson, New Jersey, April 12. White mums and pink snapdragons decorated the hall in the Sheraton Plaza Hotel for the 6:30 candlelight ceremony performed by Rabbi Albert I. Gordon.

With an off the shoulder gown of imported Chantilly lace scattered with pearls, fashioned with a bouffant skirt and cathedral train, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length veil of imported ivory illusion extending from a princess crown elaborately beaded with simulated jewels and carried a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and amazon lilies.

Maid of honor was Miss Joanne Phyllis Gofman, sister of the bride, gowned in pink taffeta. Her strapless gown with emroidered silk thread covering entire gown giving a tufted effect was completed with a matching stole. Pink roses were scattered along the hemline and she carried a cascade of pink roses. Mrs. Rose Markowitz of Paterson, New Jersey was matron of honor for the bride and wore a strapless flesh colored tulle gown with matching stole. Rhinestones and pearls were beaded across the bodice and on front of the skirt. She also carried a cascade of pink roses.

As bridesmaid for her sister, Miss Roberta Faith Gofman was gowned in pink nylon strapless net with tiny attached cuff sleeves and mother of pearl de-

Carol Goldmeer to Be August Bride Of Charles Tanel

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goldmeer of Brighton announce the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Carol Goldmeer to Mr. Charles Tanel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Tanel of Newton and Wareham.

The prospective bride is in her junior year at Simmons College. Mr. Tanel was graduated from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. An August wedding is planned by the couple.

Dorothy Kimball to Be Fall Bride

Mr. and Mrs. David Hardwick Bigelow of West Newton and Marshfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Kimball Bigelow, to Mr. Owen Welker Robbins, son of Dr. and Mrs. Welker Robbins of Pauls Valley, Okla.

Miss Bigelow is a graduate of Wellesley College, class of 1952, and is a provisional member of the Junior League of Boston. Her fiance was graduated in 1951 from De Pauw University, where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi, and will be graduated from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration next month.

The engaged couple plan a fall wedding.

Miss Mizer to Be Prospective Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene D. Mizer of Newton Highlands and Kennebunkport, Me., are announcing the engagement of their daughter Miss Shirley Halfyard Mizer to Mr. Harvey Worth Macomber, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Neilson of Newton Centre and Delray Beach, Fla. The 8 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. William G. Brindley and the Rev. Donald R. Grindley and a reception followed at the Brae Burn Country Club.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. John A. Garvin of Waban and the late Mr. Garvin, was given in marriage by Mr. Frederick B.

The bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Neal of Maplewood, N. J.; Miss Catherine F. Campbell of Short Hills, N. J., cousin of the bride; Mrs. Samuel Francis of Marion, and Mrs. Jerome Powell of Newton. Their gowns and headbands were like those of the honor attendants, but they carried star-shaped bouquets of yellow tulips and white snapdragons.

Also carrying star-shaped bouquets of double white snapdragons and yellow flowers were Mrs. Edward R. Harris of Marblehead, sister of the bridegroom, as matron of honor, and Miss Nancy B. Horn of South Orange, N. J., as the maid of honor. They wore azure blue silk shantung gowns and matching headbands.

Lack of a gymnasium confines the indoor physical education program for Mason School children to two small basement rooms, used during school hours. The explained program in the new schools provides after-school recreational programs, not available to Mason school children at present. While parents do use the third floor assembly hall for school meetings, even some P. T. A. activities have to be held in rented rooms due to lack of school facilities. In contrast, a properly planned schools today can also serve as a community center for adults, teen age and children's groups.

"A recent letter to the local newspapers suggested that the school population of the neighborhood possible will not increase," the building committee chairman continued.

"Opening of the new Bowen School did eliminate overcrowding at Mason this year. The two classrooms on the third floor prohibited for use by the State are not being used this year. However, students of Newton population trends point out that the Ward School will become overcrowded by next year. When that occurs, the overflow of children will have to be transferred to Mason. If we have no new building by 1954, the two classrooms will likely be used by our children once more."

Temple Reym Spring Carnival

Temple Reym of Newton will hold its first Spring Carnival on the evenings of May 13 and 14, it was announced by Harry Perlmuter, Chairman of the Carnival Committee.

"Our purpose," said Chairman Perlmuter, "is to help Temple Reym maintain its tradition of expanding service to its members and to the community at large. We are particularly interested in insuring that our religious school will continue to be able to keep its doors open to all who want to attend."

One of the features of the Spring Carnival will be an auction conducted by the well known auctioneer, Leon Glick. In addition, a sale of a large variety of desirable merchandise will be conducted by members of Temple Reym.

Chairman Perlmuter also made the following appointments within the Spring Carnival Committee: Joseph Liner, Treasurer; Arthur Galer, Secretary; and Joshua A. Guberman, Publicity. Sam Paul, Meyer Cutler and Jerry Teitelman were given charge of obtaining merchandise.

Iowa has 72 state parks, covering about 18,500 acres.

EDWARD A. CRONIN

VINCENT SANTOSUOSO

Two greater Boston Revenue agents, well known here, have written a song "Dear Lady," which has every indication of becoming one of the top hits of the year.

The following is an excerpt from "The Bulletin," monthly publication of the National Association of Internal Revenue employees, which has reached thousands of T-Men and office employees throughout the country:

"Internal Revenue Agents Edward A. Cronin and Vincent Santosuoso, members of the staff of Director Thomas E. Scanlon, District of Massachusetts, may well be on their way to the coveted "hit parade" honor with their new trend "pop" tune, that is popular songs with religious connotations. Their contribution to this growing field of songs, "Dear Lady," has been accepted for early publication by Southern Music Inc., 1619 Broadway, New York City, a subsidiary of Peer International Music Co.

"Cronin, 1919 graduate of Boston College, and Santosuoso, Holy Cross graduate in 1939, Good luck, fellows!"

According to a recent news item in the Boston Pilot, record dates are being set and the song scheduled for network exploitation. With the good wishes of their fellow members of N. A. I. R. E. throughout the country, it is readily conceivable that authors "Ed" and "Vin" will attain that select list of the nation's most popular song successes.

Good luck, fellows!"

Lipman is majoring in English. This year she has served as a reporter for News, on the staff of the student yearbook, on the critic board of the literary magazine, on the script committee for the annual junior show written and produced by members of her class and as head of the script committee for the coming Tree Day pageant. She is a graduate of Newton High School.

Celebrities Night

An array of stage, screen and TV stars will be in Boston Sunday, April 26 for the forth annual "Celebrities Night" at the Boston Garden. The gala show, which is sponsored by a number of auxiliaries of the Jewish Memorial Hospital, will benefit the hospital's building fund for chronically ill patients. Ground will be broken next month for a new hospital wing, which will accommodate 120 additional patients annually.

George Jessel, famed showman, will serve as master of ceremonies, and others offering selections will be opera singer Mini Benzell, comedian Jan Murray, Sam Levenson, pianist Alec Templeton, the DeMarco sisters, dancers Bambi Lynn and Rod Alexander, the Steppe Brothers and Norma Miller Dancers.

Louis Hellmann of Newton is honorary chairman of "Celebrities Night" and tickets for the show may be purchased from members or by contacting the Jewish Memorial Hospital, Roxbury.

Wayne Berry, a senior at Newton High School, was elected to the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps this month by the Naval Board of Selection.

Wayne will attend Northeastern University under a scholarship paid for by the U. S. Navy. Upon his graduation from Northeastern, he will enter the Navy as an ensign for three years of active duty.

He is a member of this year's exchange group at the High School and was elected a member of the National Honor Society in his junior year.

Charles E. Smith Named Treas. Of Y Building Fund Campaign

over his body on North Main street, Natick.

More than three dozen persons viewed the body of John C. Brewer, 44, of Lodge road, Cochituate, as police sought unsuccessfully to discover his identity. Many of them said they knew him by sight, but were unable to give his name since he was new to Cochituate.

In accepting the post, Smith said, "I have known of the YMCA and its work for many years. Consequently, I am only too glad to serve this cause which is designed to enable the Newton YMCA to better serve the community."

One of the phases of this service which the Campaign Treasurer speaks of is emphasized in a brochure prepared to tell the story of the Y's 75th Anniversary Campaign for funds. Prepared by Institutional Advertising of Boston by Ben Nason and Robert R. Walker, this brochure is entitled, "Youth, Our Greatest Natural Resource." Copies have already been mailed to a substantial portion of a list of friends of the YMCA.

An autopsy disclosed that Mr. Brewer, who formerly made his home at 650-A Grove street, had been struck by two cars, the first injuring his hip and the second causing fatal injuries by running over Mr. Brewer's body.

At the time of the accident, he was on his way home from a visit to his mother, Mrs. Esther C. B. Brush, in South Boston on his night off from the Raytheon Manufacturing Co.

Besides his mother, he leaves his wife, Lillian; two sons, Richard A., 12, and Robert C. 3d; and a brother.

Noting that Newton people are justly proud of their City, the writers point out that Newton has a character, a character which its people would like to perpetuate. It is further pointed out that this character just doesn't happen, but is the result of positive steps, some in the home and some outside the home. Juvenile delinquency, for instance, is not limited to any one social strata. In Newton, family groups and the school system do much to combat this evil and the YMCA plays a vital role in the development of young people so that the individual can learn to make his or her own best contribution to the community. YMCA programs develop youth physically, mentally, spiritually and morally so that they may grow up to take their rightful places in society.

To be registered for the 1953-54 kindergarten, a child must have been born in 1948, which will make him four years and nine months of age on the first of October as required by the Newton School Department.

His birth certificate must be presented, and, if possible, certificates of vaccination and immunization should be on hand. The prospective pupil may or may not be present. All pupils must have been successfully vaccinated before entering school in September.

N.C. Man Honored At IBM Session

William O. Duane, 192 Walnut road, Newton Centre, was among the sales leaders of International Business Machines Corporation who were honored at a two-day regional convention.

The convention was held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York on Monday and Tuesday, and was attended by company officials, management representatives and 511 salesmen from IBM offices in seventeen states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Another important phase of the Y mentioned in this brochure,

The appointment of Charles E. Smith as treasurer of the Newton YMCA 75th Anniversary Building Fund Campaign was announced today by General Chairman Wilbur W. Bullen, Smith, who is Manager of the Newtonville Branch of the Newton National Bank, is a native of Newton and has been a member of the Young Men's Christian Association since childhood. He was named to the Y Board of Directors last year.

In accepting the post, Smith said, "I have known of the YMCA and its work for many years. Consequently, I am only too glad to serve this cause which is designed to enable the Newton YMCA to better serve the community."

The Newton YMCA Building Fund Campaign for $650,000 will improve and expand the many services of the Y mentioned above, and many more. In this effort the Campaign Committee is being augmented by a Citizens Committee composed of the following members: Winslow H. Adams, Raymond Atwood, E. Graham Bates, William F. Chase, Thomas V. Cleveland, Cyrus Y. Ferris, James W. Foote, Donald L. Gibbs, Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford, John L. Grandin, Fred T. Hackley, Hugh Harwood, Walter B. Hatfield, Christian A. Herten Jr., Franklin K. Hoyt, Franklin D. Jerome, Albert M. Kreider, Richard H. Lovell and Harry S. Middendorf.

Also Daniel Needham, Ted H. Oakey, Adrian O'Keefe, Everett L. Olds, Warren W. Oliver, Loomis Patrick, H. Edgar Pray, Archibald M. Price, Warren G. Reed, Roger B. Salinger, Alan T. Shaw, Endicott Smith, George R. Strandberg, Fred W. Swenson, Norman H. S. Vincent, Sidney Von Loeserke and Philip D. Wilkinson.

The YMCA is strictly non-sectarian, serving youth of all races, creeds and colors. The Y is proud of the fact that all faiths are represented on its membership roster. For more than three-quarters of a century thousands of Newton boys have had the opportunity to participate in the well-balanced Y program. Swimming classes, physical education classes, organized and informal athletic competition, club work and camping facilities, all these and more are available to help young people grow up to be useful and healthy citizens. The Newton YMCA Youth Work Program is recognized as one of the finest in New England.

The broad Y program assures something to interest every YMCA member. Included are clubs, dance groups, swimming teams, baseball and basketball teams, wrestling, weight lifting, discussion groups, chess clubs, golf lessons, in fact any constructive program which will not only be attractive to adults and juniors, but also strengthen the overall YMCA program.

Among those assisting Mrs. Goldberg and Mrs. Shurdut are: Mrs. Hyman Glass, Brookline, Life Membership Chairman; Mrs. Abraham Flirger, Brookline, Arrangements Chairman; Mrs. George I. Feldman, Newton and Mrs. Benjamin Michelson, Brookline, Hospitality Chairman; and Mrs. Jack Fisher, Roxbury, Program Chairman.

The public is interested and concerned as to what happened to the important planting of the Newton Tribune Foundation at the corner of Walnut street and Commonwealth avenue, across from the Newton Honor Roll.

At the moment it looks like a war casualty, as the planting has been taken up and placed under protective custody at the City Nursery. The removal work was carefully done and the planting will be restored at the first favorable opportunity, when important engineering work on Commonwealth avenue is completed.

The Metropolitan District Commission, Water Division, is laying a thirty inch main through this section and the planting was removed while in dormant condition so as not to be injured by the necessary digging in this section. The plantings on Commonwealth avenue are adding much to the beauty of the street and are a living tribute to the service men and women of Newton.

The Spring Meeting of the Newton Tribune Foundation was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moerschner, 50 Colbert road, West Newton, Tuesday evening, April 14. Mrs. Howard C. Thomas, the President, conducted the meeting which reported plans for the 1953 Garden Tour.

5 Winners of Science Fair To Represent City at M. I. T.

Five prizes were awarded Furman, Lois Stetson, Gerald Brauninger and William Angelus.

First prize in the Newton Junior College class was awarded to Arthur Lasoff, plethysmograph; second prize to Robert Tuthill, study of temperature cycles, and an honorable mention to Jean Perkins.

The fair, which was staged in the high school gymnasium, ran behind schedule because the snowstorm Monday night caused schools to be closed all day Tuesday. Original plans called for the fair to be set up Tuesday afternoon and to open Wednesday.

However, the storm forced the exhibitors to set up their exhibits on Wednesday, and the judging was delayed until late Thursday. The fair's directors had intended to award prizes Thursday afternoon and have them on display that night.

Despite the unexpected delay, all who attended the Science Fair termed it an unqualified success. Besides the high school exhibits, the fair also included the prize-winners from junior high fairs.

At the conclusion of the two-day fair, Charles O. Richter, assistant superintendent of schools, awarded the prizes after being introduced by Dr. Albert Navez, head of the Newton High School Science Department.

First and second prize winners received medals, and certificates were awarded for honorable mention in the various divisions.

Winners of the top awards will enter the state Science Fair tomorrow (Friday) through Sunday at the Rockwell Cage of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Prize-winning exhibits at the state fair will then compete in the New England Science Fair at Keene, N. H.

Taking the awards in the high school classification were two girls and three boys: Joyce Dudley, effect of radiation on cells of onion roots; David Gernes, radio amateur's transmitter and receiving set; Wilbur Hayes, highlights of evolution; David Lewis, study of transportation and translocation in plants by use of radioactive tracers, and Sue Williamson, ultrasonics causing mutation in plant seeds.

Second prizes: Lawrence Emmons, Newton's law of gravitation; Joyce Haffer, polypyridine in forsythia; Agris Kalnajs, electronics and music; Morris Silverman, preparation of lithium from its ores.

Honorable mention: Martin Becker, Paul Cooper, Marshall Feldman, Eugene Marks, Frank Wilson, Robert Marks, Lance Clark, James Simons, Elaine

No Action Taken by Aldermen On Waban Play-area Purchase

Since no information was available on the ultimate cost of completing the project, no action was taken by the Board of Aldermen last week on appropriating $20,000 to purchase land for a playground in Waban.

The appropriation was recommended by the finance committee but held by the public works committee. The Department of Public Works was requested to prepare before the next Alderman's meeting a rough estimate of the cost of converting the land to a playground.

Along with the appropriation, the public works committee also held an order authorizing the city to accept donations for a "Waban Playground Fund" to make up the remainder of the purchase price of the land.

The area was purchased several years ago by the Montclair Realty Trust Inc., formed by Waban residents, in order to prevent the erection of garden apartments. The price they paid reportedly is in excess of the $25,000 they are willing to accept from the city.

Newton Ranks 3rd in State In New Homes

Third place in the state for expenditures planned for new dwellings, exclusive of housing projects, went to Newton last month, according to the April report of the Division of Statistics of the State Department of Labor and Industries.

The report listed 39 family accommodations as being planned in Newton at an estimated cost of $461,500. Ranking above Newton in this classification were Woburn with $704,000 and Springfield with $560,190.

However, the public works committee declined to act until cost surveys were made on the expense of completing the play area. Chairman Kenneth E. Prior reported that no official estimate had been made, but there was a wide variance in guesses made to his committee.

Alderman H. Eugene Jones objected to the delay, pointing out that action on accepting the 229,000 square foot of land must be taken by June 15. A realty firm interested in the land as a housing development has an option on the land taking effect at that date, he explained.

The aldermen will have enough time to act, Mr. Jones stated, but the drive to collect the remaining $5000 of the purchase price may not be successful if the aldermen wait until the last minute.

Mr. Prior stated he believed a delay of two weeks would not cripple the fund raising efforts and requested Willard S. Pratt, director of public works, to prepare an estimate in time for the alderman's meeting on Monday.

The aldermen will have enough time to act, Mr. Jones stated, but

Mystery Disease Is Topic for School Science Project

"A good opportunity to learn more about the mystery disease," was the reason Carol Ellis gave for selecting Cancer Research as the topic for her school science project. Fourteen-year-old Carol is in the eighth grade at the Weeks Junior High School in Newton Centre, and for as long as she can remember has wanted to be a nurse. Scientific and medical research interests her, too, so she and her classmate, Josephine Kaplan, who had decided to study cancer in plants, planned to merge their projects.

Thirteen-year-old Josie, who would like to enter the field of medicine perhaps as an M.D., laboratory technician, or researcher, and Carol visited the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society in Boston and the pathology department of the Boston City Hospital. They also read books and articles on the subject. In her teenage experience Carol knew cancer as a "mystery disease." This, too, had been Josie's concept.

"I remember," she said, "hearing of the death of an older friend. Although I know she died of cancer that was not mentioned as the cause." She also went on further to say, "I thought if you had cancer, that was the end."

But, happily, these young girls have found that Josie's conclusion is not true. They have learned that cancer is curable. They also learned that in many cases fear or ignorance or delay in seeing a doctor have been factors which brought about unnecessary deaths.

Unfortunately, fear of a cancer diagnosis has actually kept patients from consulting a doctor until too late. Ignorance of the meaning of symptoms which indicate cancer and delay in consulting a physician both contribute to the record of mortality from this disease.

The American Cancer Society strives to educate the public to the fact that many cancers when treated early can be permanently cured. Late treatment is almost always a losing proposition. The Society has publicized the clear danger signals so that each person may take the necessary steps to protect himself and his family.

After her studies in the field were made Carol realized the need to continue research in order to solve the as yet unanswered questions. Both girls found that much has been accomplished through scientific research, but also that it is imperative to continue to fight cancer.

Carol and Josie's plan to merge their projects did not materialize. However, Carol's exhibit was placed in the Cancer Campaign headquarters at the Newton Centre Savings Bank, and is currently being shown at the Roberts' Pharmacy in Newton Highlands. Josie's study of cancer in plants traveled to the Science Fair at the Newton High School.

The Cancer Campaign in Newton is drawing to a close. Interest and awareness of the importance of financial assistance to continue research seems to have reached all age levels.

You can help Fight Cancer. Send your check today to the local treasurer, William H. Rice, Newton Centre Savings Bank, or directly to the Massachusetts Division, American Cancer Society, 462 Boylston St., Boston 16.

opinion it 'smelled.' It was steam-rollered through the General Court by the Dever administration.

"Twelve amendments offered in the House, which would have improved the bill, were all defeated. Apparently the purpose was to offer lush contracts and to provide jobs for the faithful. The elaborate brochure shown to us depicted a route from near Readville to the New York state line.

"At the time, the thought struck me that someone had merely drawn an imaginary line across the state and said, 'This is it.' Present events are rather convincing that such was the fact."

Rep. Rawson said he had checked the Authority's route through Newton "street by street." The northern route through Auburndale, West Newton, Newtonville and Nonantum "is an unconscionable outrage," he charged.

"It would pass through areas zoned for single residences and so occupied, displacing hundreds of families in these days of housing shortages and high building costs. It would ruin the playground at the Franklin School and would do likewise to Allison Field in Nonantum, and would be a source of grave danger to school children and the youngsters on the playgrounds."

"The so-called southern route," he continued, "would greatly impair Oak Hill Village, a very choice part of the city as a place of residence, with enormous destruction of taxable values. It would endanger school children using the Oak Hill School and would prevent the building of the new Meadowbrook School. In the Dudley road section, it would destroy large estates."

"I have, as a representative from this city, filed a protest with both the Turnpike Authority and with the Department of Public Works, which, under the Turnpike Act, Chapter 354 of 1952 (section 1), is given power to approve the route."

Rep. Rawson suggested that the superhighway end at Route 128, pointing out that 128 links all routes to and from Boston and would give traffic a choice of them.

"Also," he concluded, "Route 128 passes through much open country, offering a wide choice of locations for making the connection without taking people's homes and endangering their children."

Plans for Distribution of Gamma Globulin Are Released

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross announces that the Office of Defense Mobilization has released plans for the distribution of gamma globulin as a poliomyelitis preventive. Under the plan developed by the Office of Defense Mobilization's Health Resources Advisory Committee based on the recommendation of the National Research Council and the state and territorial health officers and other agencies, state health departments will be the sole distributors of gamma globulin for polio inoculations to local health departments and private physicians.

This arrangement places the responsibility for the distribution of each state's supply of gamma globulin in the hands of the state health officer. No other agencies are authorized to distribute gamma globulin within the state. State health departments already are the sole distributing agents for gamma globulin used for inoculations for measles and infectious hepatitis.

The distribution pattern is aimed at providing state health departments with as much gamma globulin as possible by the opening of the polio season. The Office of Defense Mobilization will determine the basic allocation to a state based on the average number of polio cases reported in that state over a five-year period. Additional allocations will be made when cases exceed this average. Gamma globulin will also be provided within the limits of available supplies for community inoculations in areas where polio is epidemic.

serious one and indicates that we have not yet met the challenge presented by those youths and the resultant vandalism and other evils."

The committee has estimated that it costs the city from 10 to 15 thousand dollars per year to repair the damage done by youth to public property" and "our public libraries have had trouble with gangs of boys. The movie theaters, eating places, and commercial recreation places have all been troubled by hoodlumism. Minors have been able to purchase liquor in Newton. Juvenile delinquency does exist in Newton and constructive action is needed."

This report, one of the first ever undertaken in any community, is most comprehensive and is presented with such clarity, that the entire contents of the committee's findings will be found in another part of this issue.

The Committee on Human Relations of the Newton Community Council is headed by Miss Adelaide B. Ball, president of the Newton Community Council; E. Graham Bates, Newton Rotary Club; Mrs. Louis F.

Prepare Report on Filing and Voting Procedure in Newton

Recent requests for information on the municipal elections to be held in the Fall have led the League of Women Voters of Newton to prepare the following report on filing and voting procedure for the Newton municipal elections.

There are no primaries or conventions in Newton as all city elections are on a non-partisan basis. To be eligible to run for office a candidate must be a registered voter in Newton. That means that he must be a United States citizen, a resident of Massachusetts for one year and a resident of Newton for at least six months. Nomination to office is by signature alone and thus to be a candidate a person must obtain a certain number of signatures of registered voters supporting his candidacy. The number of these signatures varies according to the office and are as follows: for mayor, 100; for ward alderman, 25; for alderman at large, 50; and for school committee member, 50. The signatures may be from residents in any part of the city for all offices except that of ward alderman where only residents of the ward to be represented are eligible to sign.

Signatures on all petitions must appear exactly as they do on the voters registration lists. Information as to how one's name appears on the registration list may be obtained from City Hall. A voter may also sign more than one petition. The final date for filing these papers is set by the Board of Aldermen and varies from year to year. No date has yet been set by the Board for 1953 but it is expected that they will act within the next few weeks.

Registration of voters in Newton is done at the City Clerk's office at City Hall any time until 31 days before an election. The 1953 election date is November 3. During the week before registration closes the City Hall is usually open in the evening for registration but it is advisable to register as soon as possible to avoid the last minute

Wellesley College 25th Reunion in June

The Class of 1928 at Wellesley College will celebrate their 25th reunion this year on June 18-22, on the campus of Wellesley College. The committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert C. Foster of Newtonville has been at work on plans for many months. Although many members of the committee are scattered all over the country, those living in the environs of Boston were entertained at a luncheon following a planning meeting at the Harvard Club Tuesday, April 23, by Mrs. Foster.

Among those attending were Mrs. Haskell Cohn, Brookline; Mrs. Paul Hoag, Wellesley Hills; Mrs. Bernard Chapin, Winchester; Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood, Winchester; Mrs. Harold Goldberg, Newton Centre; Miss Sally Loomis, Cambridge; Mrs. James A. MacLachlan, West Newton; Mrs. Harry Berman, Newton; Mrs. Gordon W. Daly, Waban; Miss Mary Elizabeth Ladd, Bovington and Miss E. Katherine Tilton of Waban and Mrs. Fletcher Colby of Newton Centre.

Also present, with first hand information from the college, were Mrs. Helen Mansfield, Alumnae Secretary of Wellesley and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell of Ridgewood, N. J., President of the Class of 1928.

RECEIVE SON'S MEDAL—Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Soucie of 1552 Washington street, West Newton, are shown after receiving the Silver Star Medal of their hero Marine son, Francis P. Soucie, Jr., who was killed last August in Korea during the fierce battle for "Bunker Hill." The medal was pinned on Mrs. Soucie by Rear Admiral John L. McCrea, commanding of the First Naval District, left. Also present was, right, Col. John E. Weber, director of the First Marine Corps Reserve and Recruiting District. (Official Photo—U. S. N.)

W.N. Parents Awarded Medal Of Hero Son Killed in Korea

A West Newton mother and father received the Silver Star Medal last week for the "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity" of their son, who was killed during a Communist assault last August on "Bunker Hill" in Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Soucie received the medal in a brief ceremony at the Navy Building in Boston Wednesday of last week. Their son, Pfc. Francis F. Soucie Jr., won the medal while serving as a Fire Team Leader attached to Company C, First Battalion, First Marines, First Marine Division.

The presentation was made by Rear Admiral John Y. McCrea, USN, commanding of the 1st Naval District, in the name of the president. Witnessing the presentation was Col. John E. Weber, director of the First Marine Corps Reserve and Recruiting District.

The citation accompanying the medal described Pfc. Soucie's battle against the enemy on Aug. 18, 1953.

"When his sector was subjected to a furious enemy mortar and artillery bombardment while his platoon was defending a strategic position on 'Bunker Hill,' Private First Class Soucie repeatedly exposed himself to heavy enemy small-arms and machine-gun fire, moving from one position to another to encourage his men and assisting in carrying the casualties over a ridge line to positions of comparative safety.

"While skillfully directing the fire of his teammates and continuing to shout words of encouragement, he was hit by a fragment from a bursting enemy artillery shell and fell, mortally wounded. By his courage, daring initiative and zealous devotion to duty, Private First

Newton Art Association

Twelve members of the Newton Art Association are represented at the current exhibition of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at 3 Joy street, Boston. Among the many landscapes shown are those by Paula Newman, Mary Bigelow, Marion Cirella, James Bonna, Sophia Jablonski and George Bigelow. Using the water-color method were Florence Alexander with a winter landscape; Sherwood Blodgett, Gloucester boats; Sophia Coty, a marine, and Grace Stone showing two in flowers and still life. Ruth Palmer exhibits a flower study in pastel and Elizabeth deVos a black and white landscape.

Members whose pictures were chosen for the recent Jordan March Show were Mary Bigelow, Grace Stone and Joy Barker White. A landscape by James Bonnar appeared in a show window on the street floor.

A joint exhibition of oils and water-colors by Harland A. Riker, president and Sherwood Blodgett, past president will open Sunday, afternoon on May 3 from 2:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Waban Public Library, 1603 Beacon street. This exhibit will continue through May 16 and the hours are 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. (except Mondays) and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

The next meeting of the Newton Art Association will be held on May 7 at the Newtonville Public Library. This meeting will be devoted to an examination of paintings produced by the associate members of the club. President Riker considers this one of the most important meetings of the year and it will be open to the public.

Newton Civic Ass'n to Meet Monday Night at Bigelow JHS

Endorsed by thoughtful Newton citizens as an organization which will help to preserve the high standards of the city's government, the Newton Civic Association will hold its second public meeting Monday night at 8 p.m. at Bigelow Junior High School.

Newton residents are invited to attend the meeting at which proposed by-laws for the new citywide organization, will be submitted for approval and suggestions for members of the nominating committee will be made from the floor.

The purposes of the Newton Civic Association as outlined in the proposed by-laws should appeal to all Newton citizens, stated Joseph Jamieson of Newton Centre, long active in civic affairs. A large citywide membership should supply a need that has been lacking in Newton's political setup.

Roy S. Edwards of Waban, an organizer of the Newton Chamber of Commerce and former candidate for mayor, announced that he was glad to endorse the idea of a Civic Association for Newton. I think it is a step in the right direction for better government. If some of the surrounding communities in Greater Boston had looked forward to conditions that exist at present, an organization of this description would certainly have averted the chaos in which they find themselves.

William P. Ripley of Newton Centre will serve as chairman of the meeting.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Junior Mothers Rest Club will be held next Thursday, May 7, at the home of Mrs. C. W. Lacy of Nahanton street, Newton. Chairman for the luncheon will be Mrs. Robert F. Miller, and on her committee are Mrs. Glenn W. Lawrence, Mrs. A. Harry Hutchins, Mrs. F. W. Worthington, West, Mrs. H. Underhill, and Mrs. Harry Ross, Jr.

Report $59.30 Average March Pay in Newton

Weekly payrolls in Newton manufacturing establishments went up 2.7 per cent during March despite the fact that the number of persons employed decreased one per cent, the State Department of Labor and Industries reported this week.

Sixteen local establishments reported that 6957 production workers had earned $412,572 for the week ending March 14. The average wage amounted to $59.30.

The Department noted an increase of 1434 workers employed in Massachusetts for a grand total of 604,637. This represented an increase over the previous month of 2 per cent workers, while pay rolls went up .8 per cent.

The average weekly earnings for production workers throughout the state set a new record of $65.98. During March, the average weekly earnings went up $3.52 over March, 1952.

Spotlight on Weeks

CROSSING AMERICA AFOOT — Crossing America afoot was quite unheard of until the pupils of Weeks Jr. High met Bill Stockdale. Mr. Stockdale told us of his exciting trip across the continent with his wife Connie and their dog, Taj Mahal, and illustrated his talk with colored slides.

He explained that Taj Mahal's feet got sore from all the walking, and Mr. Stockdale had dog sandals made especially for Taj. Another amusing item was the a prairie schooner than they made for Taj to ride in when he got tired.

Our thanks go to the Tarvel Club, Mike Smith, president and to Mr. Kingsley their sponsor.

Newtonites Active in B.U. Radio Station

Two Newton students at Boston University are taking active roles in producing programs of the college's educational FM radio station, WBUR.

Kenneth Van Wart of 64 Erie avenue, Auburndale, has been named chief announcer, and Robert Fried, son of Dr. and Mrs. Anton Fried of 15 Bonad road, West Newton, has been writing scripts.

Mr. Van Wart, a graduate of Newton High School with the Class of 1946, received an Associate in Arts degree from B.U.'s College of General Education and is now studying for his Bachelor of Science degree in radio, television and broadcasting. He is a veteran of two years' service in the Army, after which he became news director of Station WLYN in Lynn.

Mr. Fried was graduated from Vermont Academy and attended Tufts College before coming to B.U.'s School of Public Relations and Communications. He is majoring in radio and is a candidate for a Master's degree.

Elected Official Of Boston Branch Of Banking Group

Ulmon S. Jones of 37 Ware road, Auburndale, assistant vice-president of the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Company, was elected second vice-president of Boston Chapter Inc., American Institute of Banking, last Thursday evening at the Chapter's Annual Meeting.

He has just completed a one year term at Chief Consul of Boston Chapter. Mr. Jones has been with his bank since February, 1929. He graduated from Peter Bent Brigham Academy class of 1927 and attended Northeastern University. He has since taken evening courses at Boston University and Bryant & Stratton Business College.

He served as a member of the Board of Governors of A.I.B. from 1949 through 1951. Mr. Jones was secretary, vice-president and president of the Vice-President Associates from 1948 through 1950. He served as Chairman of the Entertainment Committee of the Bank Officers Association in 1951-52. He is married and has two children.

YMCA's Father-Son Banquet Features Program of Sports

At the third annual Father and Son Banquet, sponsored by the Newton Y.M.C.A. on Saturday, April 25, 1953, were 180 boy members and their dads. Activity began at 4:00 p.m. with bowling, swimming, and games at the "Y."

The supper, itself, began at 6:00 p.m. with Dr. Prentiss L. Pemberton giving the invocation. Eugene R. Clark, associate physical director, presented awards to Y.M.C.A. members who had earned them during the past year. A tumbling exhibition was put on by some members of the "Y."

Color slides of the Newton Y.M.C.A. program was shown by John E. Danielson, youth work secretary. Alex R. Miller, general secretary, made comments relating to that particular evening. Master of ceremonies for this event was William E. Hopkins, member of the Y.M.C.A. Youth Work Committee.

This event terminated a series of Father and Son evenings that have been held during the past year. David Beaman Potts, associate youth work secretary announced that this same type of program will be carried on again in the fall.

What Shall We Eat... Fun Promotes Table Manners

A child becomes graceful at the table with the help of friendly, patient grown ups.

Today, the child study specialists want parents to take their minds off how a child eats and to focus on how to make mealtime fun. Seeing the child's point of view makes a happy atmosphere.

"Why scold?" they comment, when Johnny insists on putting his fingers into all kinds of food set before him. It is logical to a small child to feel his food with his fingers before he touches it with his tongue.

Parents can't expect a child to have table manners until he has learned to eat a variety of foods. It's the same rule of practice makes perfect which adults find encouraging when they learn a new skill.

The youngster also has to practice enough so he can handle food and his spoon, fork and knife. That growth and ability doesn't come at the same age for every child. Just as some children learn easily to tie their shoes, some tots whose muscle control is good learn young to feed themselves neatly, while others are slow to learn skills with their hands.

Small hands always hold on to a glass of a favorite milk punch. Mix apricot milk punch for them; it's also good when made from strained peaches.

APRICOT MILK PUNCH
3 tablespoons strained apricots
2 tablespoons corn syrup
Few grains salt
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon whipped cream for top, if desired

Blend strained apricots with corn syrup. Add salt and stir in one cup of cold milk. Stir well. Turn into chilled glass. Top with spoonful of whipped cream, if you like. For an adult, garnish with thin lemon slice. Makes 1

It appeared to them that the contest for the Republican nomination for Governor was developing into a race between Clarence A. Barnes and the late Arthur W. Coolidge, and that it was virtually his duty to give up his seat in Congress and run for Governor.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall built himself into position where he won election after election because of the recognition he gave to Democrats—because he appointed men like Thomas F. Sullivan to the Boston police commissionership and Frederick R. Sullivan as Sheriff of Suffolk County when vacancies occurred in those offices.

Congressman Laurence Curtis won election easily last autumn in a tight congressional district, just as Herter did before him, because a substantial number of Democrats rallied behind him.

But some Republican politicians either never learn the basic facts of political life or quickly forget them.

When Governor Herter not long ago re-appointed State Comptroller Fred C. Moncawicz, a Democratic career man, there was quite a furore among Republicans on Beacon Hill who couldn't understand such a move.

When the Governor considered the possibility of naming Boston Public Works Commissioner George G. Hyland, a Democrat and one of the nation's outstanding men in his field, as State public works commissioner, there was such a storm of objections from G.O.P. politicians, that the idea was abandoned, and Hyland made it plain he wouldn't take the job anyway.

Last week Governor Herter nominated Matthew F. Hanley of Jamaica Plain for the $5,080-a-year position as fourth deputy insurance commissioner, and Governor's Councillor Charles J. Gabriel opposed the move and insisted that the job should go to a Republican.

After listening to Hanley's qualifications, which certainly were impressive enough for the job to which he was being appointed, Gabriel wanted to know why a Democrat was being named to the position. He said the Republicans had fought a difficult campaign and that he didn't believe the post should go to a Democrat.

We don't know whether Gabriel is really as politically naive as he sounded, or was just trying to embarrass the Governor.

One quick answer to the question of why Mr. Herter is giving some recognition to Democrats is that maybe he wants to win reelection next year. Only one Republican Governor—Leverett Saltonstall—has been elected to more than one term in Massachusetts in the last 25 years. Perhaps Mr. Herter had that in mind.

Hanley, of course, is a Jamaica Plain Democrat who last fall publicly endorsed and campaigned for Governor Herter. He made at least one effective speech when he appeared on television with Mrs. Herter. If ex-Governor Dever were to return to Beacon Hill, it's very likely that the first officeholder to get the executive axe would be Hanley.

What Governor Herter should do some day is call together the partisan Republicans of the stamp of Councillor Gabriel, recite to them the statistics that were used in the Eisenhower pre-convention campaign, tell them about the political birds and the bees and then ask them whether they want the G.O.P. to stay in business or return to its status of minority party.

The man many prominent Democrats would like to see run for either Governor or U. S. Senator next year is Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes, but to date Hynes has been completely cool to all such proposals and has privately intimated that his present intention is not even to run for Mayor again and that he may retire from public life at the end of his current term.

It was significant that when the Democratic bigwigs of Massachusetts recently attended their party's big Jefferson-Jackson dinner, Hynes, alone among them, directed no criticism at Governor Herter.

The Boston Mayor served as toastmaster at the dinner. He filled his role by giving warm and eloquent introductions to the various speakers, including the 78-year-old James M. Curley, whom he twice fought and defeated. He told the Democratic diners they were a lively lot of political corpses, and he predicted a comeback for the Democratic party in Massachusetts in the not too distant future.

But when the other Democratic orators turned their verbal artillery on Governor Herter and blazed away with all barrels, Mayor Hynes did not join them on the firing line. He made no mention of or reference to Herter in any way. The fair-minded Boston Mayor has told friends that he feels Herter not only is doing a good job but has demonstrated tremendous courage in meeting the problems that have faced him.

Municipal Highlights

Lillian Swartz of the Recreation Department is general chairman for the City Hall Associates outing which will be held sometime in June. No definite date has been set yet for the outing.

City employees were happy to note that Mayor Lockwood has resubmitted his request for a pay raise for Newton workers. Mayor Lockwood is asking increases of $120 per year for most clerical help and $50 a year for members of the Police Department.

He also asked for the establishment of a Budgetary and Personnel Department with an advisory board of citizens, serving without pay, to consider and report on municipal salaries.

At an executive board meeting of the City Hall Associates Monday, it was voted to enter a softball team in the Newton Two League on the suggestion of Allan Parker, a Northeastern University student working in the Engineering Department as part of N.U.'s co-operative program.

The City Hall team will play its first game on Monday. Members of the team include Vern Porter, Philip Welch, Donald LePage, Nishon Karakavian, Robert Barton, Ralph Bibbo, James Chandler, Robert Dalton and Allan Parker.

A detail of 50 firemen headed by Chief John E. Corcoran attended funeral services in Needham last Thursday for Walter F. Dugan, 76, of 46 Chester place, Needham.

For 35 years a member of the Newton Fire Department, Mr. Dugan had made his home in Newton until 10 years ago. He moved to Needham after his retirement in February, 1943, and made his home with his son, William, who is with the Needham Fire Department.

Police Chief Philip Purcell and Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson represented the city Saturday at the official opening of the Newton East Little League.

A new vacancy in city offices appeared last week when John B. Osborn resigned his post as alderman-at-large from Ward 6. The new member of the board is expected to be voted in at the Monday night meeting.

Three meetings of aldermanic committees are scheduled for tonight (Thursday). They are finance committee at 7:45 p.m., public works at 7:30 p.m., and franchises and licenses at 7:45 p.m.

The public works committee will also meet on Monday at 7:30 p.m. before the regular Board of Aldermen's meeting. A report is expected at that time on whether the city will take over a lot of vacant property for a Waban playground.

Attention all city workers! It is your column. It will be devoted solely to news about Newton's municipal employees and their families, and to any other items about Newton which ordinarily do not warrant a separate news story.

Let us know when there are engagements, weddings, anniversaries, vacation trips or other special events in your lives. We invite contributions from all branches of the city of Newton, including police and firemen as well as those working directly under the supervision of City Hall.

Anyone wishing to have an item appear in the Graphic should write the facts in a letter and mail it to 246 Walnut street, Newtonville, as early in the week as possible.

A television set is for pleasure. Don't let it become a menace. The TV must should never be connected to the chimney: too much danger of cracking the chimney. The mast should be well grounded and the lead-in tapes protected by lightning arrestors.

Newton North, Little League 'Player Auction' on Monday

The selection of boys who will make up the roster of the four Newton North Little League teams will be made by the player auction system, according to an announcement by T. Frank Copp, president of the Newton North Loop. The auction will be held on Monday, May 4.

"In order to eliminate any misunderstanding," Copp said, "we are following, to the letter, the player selection system prescribed by National Little League Headquarters, just as we did last year." He then went on to explain that the following rules make up the player selection system.

Each boy is assigned a number when he registers for the tryouts and wears that number on his back during each tryout session. During the tryouts the managers observe their playing ability and prepare a list of the numbers of the boys in each age group he considers to be superior ball players.

At least 12 days before the first scheduled game, each manager prepares a list of the candidates in the order in which he desires to have them brought up for auction, and submits them to the player Agent. This list shall be known as the "Manager's Selection List," and the manager's choice in these matters is not to be divulged by the Player Agent previous to the auction. The managers will present their lists to the player agent after the final tryout session.

Within 2 days, the rules state, of the issuance of the Manager's Selection List an auction shall be conducted as follows: Each manager shall in turn draw a sealed numbered ticket and, without observing the number, hand it to the Player Agent who will note the number and attach the ticket to the "Manager's Selection List" submitted by the manager who had drawn the ticket.

After each manager has drawn, the Player Agent will read from "Manager's Selection List" No. 1 the number and League Age of the first player on the list, and the bidding will begin. Each manager using "Credits" instead of money in bidding.

The Player Agent shall serve as an auctioneer, endeavoring to draw the managers into competitive bidding.

The highest bidder shall get title to the player and the Player Agent shall charge the bidder's account with the amount of the bid, keeping an accurate, permanent record of each manager's credits—to avoid accepting a bid in excess of credits on hand.

After the first sale, the Player Agent presents bid for the first name on "Manager's Selection List" No. 2.

This procedure is repeated until all candidates have been purchased or until all managers cease bidding.

Managers may purchase as many players as they wish.

When all managers exhaust their credits or discontinue bidding they may each in turn draw numbers, to determine rotation and proceed to select from the remaining candidates, one player at a time, in the order of the number on their ticket. This alternate choosing shall continue until all managers cease to use their privilege.

Players shall never be told the number of credits required in their purchase. Each player purchased shall for the duration of his Little League career be the property of the team making the purchase, unless subsequently sold or released.

Five days prior to the first scheduled game each manager shall release all but 15 players and shall lose title to all players released, but does not get his purchase credits returned.

Following the auction, managers may, if they desire, exchange players until 14 days after the first-scheduled game. Credits as well as players may be used in making exchanges. All exchanges shall be made with the approval of the Player Agent, who shall make proper

Get Two Years Probation for Beating Boy

Two youths involved in the brutal beating of Stephen Berger near Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, early in February were placed on probation for two years and were ordered to pay their victim's medical expenses last Thursday in Middlesex Superior Court.

The youths had appealed terms to the Youth Service Board given them in Newton District Court. Of the remaining three boys involved in the beating, one has been sent to the Youth Service Board, another was placed on probation for being in possession of a dangerous weapon, and the fifth was found innocent.

In the local court, Frederick S. Moore, Jr. of 72 Algonquin road, Chestnut Hill, proprietor of Moore's Beverage Store, 305-A Washington street, Newton, was found guilty of selling five bottles of beer to the boys five night of the beating.

Mr. Moore was fined $100 on a charge of selling alcoholic beverages to a minor and $25 on a complaint of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He appealed the findings and last week his appeal in Superior Court was continued to an unspecified date.

It was announced that the club will hold an old-fashioned country auction June 13 at Camp Patomac in Holliston. Details of the auction will be announced at a later meeting.

A safety film, illustrating the fact that there is no such thing as a "minor" traffic violation as far as safety is concerned, was shown through the courtesy of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company.

A letter of thanks for a gift sent to St. Raphael's Home for the Blind was read by Secretary Thomas Leydon, and Lewis W. Tedstone reported on Sea Scout Ship 13, which is sponsored by the club.

The following slate of officers was proposed by the nominating committee for terms beginning July 1: for president, Thomas W. Leydon, Sr.; 1st vice-president, Dana W. Gleason; 2nd vice-president, Edmund J. MacDonald; 3rd vice-president Dr. Morton V. Ross; secretary-treasurer Thomas W. Leydon, Jr.; tail-twister, Henry T. Fus; lion tamer, Lewis W. Tedstone; directors for two years, T. Frank Copp and Austin W. Flint, and director for one year, J. Frank Dunleavy.

President Copp also explained that according to Little League rules each team of 15 boys shall not have more than 5 boys 12 years old, 5 boys 11 years old and not less than 5 boys 10 years old or younger.

A boy's league age is determined as that age attained by a boy prior to August 1, of any given season. Thus, a boy whose 12th birthday is on July 31 or earlier has a League Age of 12, a boy whose 12th birthday is on August 1 or later, has a League Age of 11. This principle applies regardless of age.

Each boy is assigned a number when he registers for the tryouts and wears that number on his back during each tryout session. During the tryouts the managers observe their playing ability and prepare a list of the numbers of the boys in each age group he considers to be superior ball players.

The usual pre-game festivities marked the opening of the double-header, as all the players in the Newton East league marched from Sacred Heart Church to the playground. The first ball of the season was tossed out by Martin Torney, captain of last year's East Little League All-Stars.

In the opening games, the Chestnut Hill Phillies overpowered the Newton Centre Senators 8-2 and the Thompsonville Athletics ran wild over the Oak Hill Cubs, 11-3.

The Phillips scored three runs in the first inning to wrap up the decision against the Newton Centre Little Leaguers whose offense amounted to single runs in the first and second. Chestnut Hill added three more in the fourth and two in the sixth and last frame. Oak Hill actually led Thompsonville by a 3-2 margin midway through the nightcap, but the roof fell in when the A's counted three runs in the fourth inning without benefit of a hit.

The A's and the Cubs matched two-run rallies in the second, and the Cubs nosed out ahead the next time at bat as Al Howard doubled and Bill Skar singled. In the fourth, the A's struck back with three tallies on two walks, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice.

Continuing their uprising, the A's scored four more times in the next time up on four walks, two singles and a double by Phil Corsi. Two more runs in the sixth frame completed the scoring.

43 Have Already Registered for Camp Massasoit

Forty-three registrations have been accepted to date for Camp Massasoit, the day camp at the Newton Y.M.C.A. building. The eight week camping period of Camp Massasoit which uses the facilities inside and outside of the "Y" building, has been divided into three periods. Period one will start on June 22 and will run to July 10, period two will follow, starting on July 14 and will end on July 31, and so on. Mrs. Ralph Shepherd, Jr. period three starts on August 3.

A staff of ten counselors who specialize in work with boys, has been secured to direct the campers in the varied activities. Eugene R. Clark, who is Associate Physical Director at the "Y" will be associated with Mr. Simmons in directing the camp and will also be in charge of the swimming program; Alden W. Rebounding from an unfortunate, to say the least, trip to our neighbors at Brookline, defending champion Newton High outlasted Watertown, 7-4, Friday at Victory Field. The Tiger hurlers just couldn't get anyone out in the first inning at Brookline as the home team wrapped up the encounter with eight big runs. Brookline added one run later while holding the Tigers scoreless for a 9-0 win.

A pair of records were probably set last week in Newton High's two games. The 9-0 lacing at Brookline is about the worst defeat ever suffered by a Ferguson-coached Newton nine, while at Watertown the Tigers committed 11 errors afied but still managed to end on top.

The Brookline nightmare was over as far as the Orange and Black was concerned after the second Brookline batter lined a clout over left fielder Bob Shepherd's head, chasing in two tallies. As Art DeStefano continued to strike the Brookline bats as if he was tossing a lump of iron at a magnet, there followed: a triple (runner missed a homer only by tripping over third), walk, error on a rundown, and a single. After lefty Paul Fitzgerald came onto the mound, two walks, a fielder's choice that didn't retire anyone and a long fly ended the debacle. . . . With the exception of the first inning, the Tigers reached base in every frame, but left-hander John Clausen always slammed the door shut in time. . . . Long bright spot during the whole dismal afternoon was the hitting of Dick Allen, convertible pitcher-right fielder, who slammed out three of Newton's five hits. All of Allen's safeties were solid doubles. . . . At Watertown Friday afternoon, the Tigers returned to a first-place tie in the Suburban League with a shaky victory over Watertown. The win tied Newton with arch-rival Brookline for the top spot with two victories and a lone defeat. . . . The Orange and Black sewed up the game in the fourth when they exploded for five runs after failing to dent the plate in 12 successive frames. Watertown kept whittling away at the lead until at one point they were only one tally in arrears. Two runs in the top of the eighth settled the outcome in favor of Newton. . . . The game was second victory of the league season for Paul Fitzgerald, who has appeared in all of Newton's Suburban League games to date, pitching 23 and two-thirds innings out of a total of 27 played. . . . Fitzy struck out 10, and every whiff was needed thanks to the fantastic defensive show staged by the bumble-handed Newtonites. Sharing in the total of 11 errors were Gerry Flagg (1), Art DeStefano (2), and Joe Sylvia and Jim Ryan, the usually-classy second-short combination, four apiece.

In an intra-city encounter, ex-Little Leaguer Jim Fitzpatrick, 13, hurled Sacred Heart to a 3-2 victory over Our Lady's last Thursday at Cabot Park. It was the first start in the "big leagues" for the former pitcher-outfielder of the Newton North Yankees and the Newton North All-Stars, champions of Greater Boston.

The win gave both Our Lady's and Sacred Heart identical 1-2 records in Division 3 of the Catholic League.

Sacred Heart was fortunate to come ahead, since it was outhit 6-3 but scored the second and third runs on Our Lady's misplays. . . . Our Lady's kept the 13-year-old in trouble throughout the game with at least one runner on base in every inning except the seventh. In the first, Our Lady's loaded the bases with nobody out, yet couldn't push one runner across the plate. Twice catcher Charlie Kelley gave Fitzy a breather by throwing out runners trying to steal. . . . St. Sebastian's racked up its second win of the season last week by capitalizing on Rivers School errors for a 6-2 nod. Both St. Sebastian's and Rivers collected seven hits, but the Brookline team made 11 errors while the Saints field flawlessly. Senior left-hander Larry Cummings again dominated the game as he won his second game of the season. Two Saturdays ago Larry took his first win over St. Mark's School when he gave up only one hit over the seven-inning route. . . . Although he was reached for seven hits by the Rivers School batters, Larry fanned 16.

Newton High's varsity and junior varsity tennis teams dropped their openers last week at Milton Academy. Both teams were nearly shut out, salvaging a single point as the Milton netmen swept through the Orange and Black ranks.

In a Saturday game, St. Sebastian's romped to its third victory this season with a 22-2 walloping on New Prep School in Cambridge. Lefty Frank Jennings insured the win as he limited the New Prep batters to a single hit and fanned 11. The runs came as the result of 10 walks by Jennings. The massacre was called after the Newton team had been to bat only five times. . . . Newton's track team made its 1953 debut an impressive one Saturday afternoon at Milton, humbling the Milton tracksters by a 71-32 count. The Tigers copped first place in eight of the 13 events. The meet's sole double winner was Bob Moss, who took both the low hurdles and broad jump. . . . An interesting sports program is scheduled for tonight at Our Lady's Hall at 6:30 when the fifth annual athletic night will be held. Highlights of the evening will be the awarding of the Our Lady's A. A. Trophy and an address by Rev. George V. Kerr, all-American guard on Boston College's 1939 eleven.

A Human Relations Audit For Action By the Human Relations Committee of Newton Community Council

Preface

On Saturday night, February 7th, 1953 the Steven Berger incident occurred in Newton.

On Tuesday, February 10th Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood appointed Miss Adelaide B. Ball, President of the Newton Community Council as Chairman of the Human Relations Committee.

On Thursday, February 12th the first meeting of this Committee took place.

On Tuesday, March 3rd the second meeting took place. All members were present and the meetings ran from 8 in the evening to approximately midnight in each case.

The third meeting was held on Tuesday, April 14th with the Mayor present. Each member of the Committee including the Mayor received a 40 page detailed report leading to the conclusion and recommendations herewith attached.

The next meeting is scheduled for May.

It is interesting to note that the sub-committees doing a great amount of research on this project diligently prepared in less than 90 days a detailed, documented, and confidential report of 40 pages substantiating the conclusions and recommendations, and containing a wealth of suggestions for further action.

This confidential 40 page report with all the documented evidence is being turned over to each one of the following members of our newly formed Advisory Group of professional and experienced people in the field of human relations for their further suggestions and comments.

We wish to acknowledge with thanks the willingness to serve by these public spirited citizens forming our Advisory Group.

Saul Bernstein, Professor at Boston University School of Social Work; Dr. Emory S. Burke, Editor, Zion's Herald, William E. Byrne, Director Christ Child Society in Cambridge. Dr. Robert Chin, Dept. of Psychology, Boston University, John W. Drummey, Conference of Christians and Jews. Frank Hurwitz, Center for Human Relations, Boston University. Father Knowland, Boston College School of Social Work, William MacCormack, Project Director, Citizens Crime Commission of Mass. Elwood McMenamy, Commissioner, Mass. Commission Against Discrimination, Dean Walter Mueller, Boston University School of Theology, Prentiss Pemberton, Andover-Newton Theological Seminary, Robert E. Segal, Executive Secretary, Jewish Community Council, Dr. J. Wendell Yeo, Boston University School of Education.

The Committee acknowledges with thanks the speedy action of the Newton Police Dept. in rounding up those involved in the Berger incident. On Feb. 7, 1953 the Newton Police apprehended the 7 boys involved. On Feb. 13, these boys appeared before the Juvenile Court. On Feb. 27 six of these boys were turned over to the Youth Service Board. Two have appealed to the Superior Court where their cases are now pending. The seventh boy's case was continued until September without a finding.

REPORT

This report is based upon the work done by three sub-committees. These sub-committees were established at the first meeting of the Committee on Human Relations on February 12, 1953 and were charged with the following tasks:

Sub-committee 1. To conduct a survey to determine the extent and nature of existing tensions in Newton. We have a community of churches and synagogues, of fine schools and shaded streets; a community of civic-minded citizens and a highly selected, high-type industry. We have an honest and efficient city-government and an intelligent electorate. But we must also be willing to recognize the fact that there are serious and disquieting matters which may get out of hand unless we are willing to face them honestly and courageously.

Sub-committee 2. To survey the public and private youth-serving agencies of the city to determine the lacks which exist in their programs, why these lacks exist, and what proposals the agencies would offer as a means of overcoming the lacks.

Sub-committee 3. (a) To determine what resources there were in the Metropolitan Boston area which could provide us with help either in form of ideas for action or of actual willingness to participate in some service relationship. (b) To find out what procedures other communities had found useful in attempting to better human relations.

These sub-committees consisted originally of members drawn from the full committee but later other citizens of Newton were added to help carry out the tasks assigned.

What follows are brief summaries of the findings of these three sub-committees and a final section on recommendations.

I. YES? NO? UNCERTAIN?

Do we really have a problem of human relations in Newton? Can one unequivocally state yes or no? Is there sufficient evidence to arrive at a firm conclusion or is there only inconclusive evidence which would lead reasonable people to take an attitude of uncertainty?

These are the questions for which sub-committee 1 was really charged with finding the answers. This committee states that "... we note an increase in (inter-group) tension in the Newton community due in large measure to the fact that there has been such a marked increase in population in the Newtons with a preponderance of such population increase coming from Jewish families." They further state: "All responsible authorities in the community, including the Police Department agree that the problem of gangs of teen-agers and what to do about them is a serious one and indicates that we have not yet met the challenge presented by these youth and the resultant vandalism and other evils."

These statements have not been arrived at in any superficial or careless way. They are based upon solid and substantial evidence now on file with the committee. The evidence ranges all the way from the action of a representative urging that a particular store be patronized as against another because the former store was run by "our kind of people" to the brutal beating of Stephen Berger. Jewish Children have been accosted by groups of older boys with results ranging from name-calling to severe physical abuse. There is or has been evidence of discrimination in real estate matters, children's dancing classes, in membership on local "neighborhood" clubs, in women's clubs, etc. It is these acts of "polite" social discrimination that provide the soil for the nourishment of the more serious acts of violence.

It is estimated that it costs the city from 10 to 15 thousand dollars per year to repair the damage done by youth to public property. Our public libraries have had trouble with gangs of boys. The movie theaters, eating places have all been troubled by hoodlumism. Minors have been able to purchase liquor in Newton. Juvenile delinquency does exist in Newton and constructive action is needed.

Almost universally the agencies felt that greater cooperation must somehow be obtained from parents and the community at large. Volunteer help is difficult to obtain and it is questionable whether it is wise to use volunteer help in many situations. Some agencies recognize the difficulty of getting parental cooperation but insist that we must somehow find ways and means of reaching these youth and rehabilitating them independently if necessary. It may be that an entirely new approach, such as the "detached worker" as used by the New York City Youth Board, may be necessary.

Although all of the agencies feel that their entire work is essentially in the area of human relations, and this is particularly true of such an agency as the Family Service Bureau whose work is essentially corrective, the committee felt that little specific preventive and educational work was being done outside of the public schools, and certain of the Churches, and the Synagogues.

Inevitably the path of inquiry leads to the essential need for better financial and moral support by the community.

III. LEARNING FORM OTHERS

Obviously Newton is not the only community which has experienced problems of human relations. Many other communities have had longer and more severe experiences. Newton has been relatively free of openly expressed inter-group tensions. Why not seek out people who have made this field their lifetime work and ask them for ideas? Why not find out what other communities have done and what they have felt to be of value? The third sub-committee interviewed University scholars, professional field workers, lay chairmen of community committees, theologians, community officials, and many others who might be considered to have had some experience or ideas in this field.

Foremost among the suggestions offered were: First, that we conduct a community audit of existing tensions in human relations in the community; and second, that we audit present action in the community in the field of human relations; its strength and weaknesses. It is gratifying to note that our committee of lay people established these as its first two tasks before we had the advice of the experts.

Another idea obtained was that the project should involve as many local people as possible with the present committee acting as a kind of steering committee. This should be a permanent committee with rotating membership. Opinion varies as to whether the committee should be under private or public auspices but the trend seems to be in the direction of municipally sponsored and financed committees.

Various suggestions as to activities and offers of service were received and are on file with the committee.

In order to meet the specific problem in Newton of tension control with special reference to juvenile delinquency it is suggested that early identification and treatment of the potential delinquent is highly desirable. Services to official delinquents need to be improved while protecting public safety.

It was further suggested by this sub-committee that a library sub-committee be formed to collect a small professional library for use by the entire committee. The library sub-committee could work in cooperation with the city libraries and schools and maintain a bibliography of films, film-slides, and records for use in this field.

IV. RECOMMENDATIONS

In the light of the three studies conducted by the three sub-committees there emerges two overlapping yet somewhat different areas for action. The first has to do with the broad problem of relationships among people of diverse ethnic and religious backgrounds living together in an American community. The very existence of differences may tend to cause frictions and misunderstandings. This area of difficulty requires constant education and vigilance. It must be reduced to the lowest possible minimum if it is not to serve as nourishing soil for the growth of lawless and violent acts. But it is an area the difficulties of which can be reduced through enlightenment and true neighborly action by people of good will. In developing a program which has its aim the broad acquisition of understandings, information, attitudes and skills by the people of the community to the end that they may live together as good neighbors, it is important to remember that this program must always be aware of and based upon good mental health practices.

We believe that adult attitudes are unquestionable, the background from which the problems of our children arise, certainly with respect to tensions and the development of the gang spirit. Many "nice" homes appear to foster attitudes of discrimination that provide a source of tacit approval for similar attitudes on the part of children. In such a soil, hostile attitudes inevitably flourish.

Children who hear parents and other adult members of the family speak disdainfully about other persons who may come from different religious, cultural, social and racial backgrounds are more than likely and in fact do adopt the same patterns of behaviour for themselves.

Homes which pride themselves on lack of prejudice ought, we believe, to do something more than to adopt a non-committal attitude with respect to this major problem, for it is from such families that the leadership for Scouting, P. T. A., Adult Education groups, etc., should come. Examples set by such persons would go a long way towards improving attitudes in the community generally.

The difficult task of reaching parents should be among the first problems to be tackled.

The second area for action has to do with the specific problem of juvenile delinquency. As stated before lawless acts by juveniles may take the form of violence against members of other groups, against property, against other teenagers in general, or against conformity to the established rules of society. Here more than an educational program is needed. Those youths are too bitter, too full of hate and hostility to be reached by institutes, lectures, classroom panel discussions, etc. They require special therapeutic action of a psychological or psychiatric nature. They need treatment either on an individual or small group basis. Group work which is different than that which the established agencies have as yet been able to develop for them may also help immensely as witness the experience of the New York City Youth Board and our own work in the Newton Corner district a few years ago.

In either case a continuing responsible program sponsored and pushed by a permanent committee is needed. This leads us to our first formal recommendation.

1. We recommend that the Mayor be requested to consider the possibility of providing adequate financial support for the activities of this committee through an appropriation by the city. (This may make it necessary to establish this committee as a regular agency of city government. Pending the report of the sub-committee established to investigate and recommend upon the nature and structure of our committee, further recommendation on this point must be delayed.)

The kind of program which seems necessary will demand constant attention and promotion which will take more time than can now be given by already busy people on a purely voluntary basis. Lacking previous experience in Newton for work of this kind it is difficult to say precisely how much will be needed. The City of Cambridge appropriated $6500 annually for its Unity Committee.

2. Further, it seems desirable to review our city laws to see whether they ought to be changed to strengthen the position of the police with respect to the control of juvenile delinquency without endangering the rights of the individual.

3. It seems desirable to review our existing city recreation program to see whether it should be expanded to help prevent juvenile delinquency.

Expansion of services by existing agencies, however, seems highly appropriate. Here, too, it is recognized that financial support is essential. It is recommended however that the Community Chest give serious consideration to the following:

4. The Community Chest consider the desirability of appropriating funds for the renewal of "detached group work" such as was done in the Newton Corner district a few years ago.

5. The Community Chest consider the desirability of increasing its appropriation to the "Y" so that it in turn may increase its work with juveniles.

6. Increased support be given the Nemantum Boys' Club.

7. Increased support be given the Community Centers and the Family Service Bureau.

It seems desirable also for the School Committee to consider the possibility of increasing the efforts of the school department in both prevention and treatment.

8. It is recommended to the School Committee that additional support be given the Guidance and Counseling program.

Adequate facilities and additional personnel are needed for the Counseling Center as well as additional trained counselors in the schools.

Until the permanent status and financial support are given this Committee it will have difficulty in moving forward on its detailed and specific program.

However, many useful suggestions for further action have been received and the Committee will move forward to the best of its ability and as fast as possible to carry out this program.

We are pleased to note that the Mayor has met and discussed with us the findings and recommendations of the Committee. He has promised the Committee his full support and co-operation in the carrying out of its work.

Miss Loretta Rufo Bride In West Newton of Mr. Carvelli

Miss Loretta Frances Rufo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cesidio Rufo of 57 Parsons street, West Newton, was married Sunday afternoon, April 26, in St. Bernard's Church in West Newton, to Mr. Louis Carvelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Carvelli of 50 Parsons street, West Newton.

The double ring wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert E. Brennan. The bride was given in marriage by her father and a reception followed at the Philomathia Club, Chestnut Hill.

The bride wore a gown of skin-her satin fashioned with embroidered lace across the bodice and down two front panels, with a pointed lace collar and long pointed sleeves. The skirt extended into a cathedral train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held in place by a coronation crown of seeded pearls and lace and she carried a prayer book covered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Mary Berardi of Watertown was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a blue lace and nylon tulle gown and a crown of yellow marguerites in her hair. Her fan-shaped bouquet was also of yellow marguerites. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Rosalie Rufo of West Newton and Miss Lillian Perruzzi of Newtonville wore yellow lace with nylon tulle gowns and a crown and bouquets of blue and delphinium in the shape of a fan with lace. Mrs. Rufo wore a navy blue lace gown, navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Carvelli, mother of the bridegroom, wore a lavender crepe gown with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

The best man was Mr. Harry Pamboorian of West Newton, and the ushers were Mr. August Berardi of Watertown, Mr. Alfred Rufo and Mr. Robert Marzen, both of West Newton, and Mr. Alan Calhoun of Natick.

The bride was graduated from Newton High School and the bridegroom, who served for two years in the U. S. Army in Italy,

Hold Registration For Countryside School on Tuesday

The dates for registering children for next year's kindergarten in the Countryside School will be Tuesday, May 12, and Tuesday, May 19, from 1:30 to 3:30, and will be held in the Kindergarten Room at Country side School, 191 Dedham Street, Newton Highlands.

Children are eligible who are five years old, or who will be five on or before January 1, 1954. Registration will be simplified if a birth certificate and vaccination certificate are presented at that time.

The aldermen unanimously approved Mr. Bauckman's suggestion. Kenneth E. Prior, chairman of the public works committee, appointed a committee of two to nominate candidates for the vacancy. The new alderman will probably be elected at the May 4 meeting.

Register Tuesday For Kindergarten At Hyde School

An advance registration for the September 1953 kindergarten classes will be held at the Hyde School on Tuesday May 5 and May 12th between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. All children who will be five years old on or before January 1, 1954 are eligible to register.

Parents wishing to register their children should bring with them the child's birth certificate or baptismal record, certificate of vaccination against smallpox, and statement of immunization against diphtheria.

The two remaining aldermen from Ward 6, Hirsh Sharf and Dr. Stanton J. Ten Broek, were appointed a committee of two to nominate candidates for the vacancy. The new alderman will probably be elected at the May 4 meeting.

To achieve victory on schedule represents a Herculean task.

Frederic C. Dumaine, Jr., state campaign chairman, declared as the drive entered its final phase. Nevertheless, the picture is far from discouraging. Actually, our totals as of last Friday evening were ahead of the corresponding date a year ago when we ultimately raised $592,000.

"True, this year's goal is up some $70,000 over that of 1952 figure. Nevertheless, there is evidence in many communities we have heard from that the public is more keenly aware than ever to the need for supporting the fight against cancer and is ready to do its share if only our volunteers will contact them.

"I cannot urge too strongly that not a single prospect be overlooked. I still feel confident that our goal can be attained, but if it is reached it will be only if every volunteer makes a supreme effort during the closing hours to see every prospect on his or her list."

Gunman Nets $520 in N.C. Holdup Friday

Held up by a "nervous" gunman in the driveway of his home, a Newton Centre man lost $520 late Friday night after returning from the Carter-Collins championship fight in Boston.

Barnett Miller of 33 Clusters told police he had placed his car in his garage at about 11:30 p.m. when a man suddenly appeared from the bushes saying, "This is a stickup. Give me your wallet."

He cocked his gun menacingly when Miller replied that he carried no wallet and demanded the Newton Centre man's money. After Miller handed over roll of bills, the gunman held the money between his teeth and searched Miller more.

The victim's wife, Mrs. Minnie Miller, hearing voices in the driveway, called to her husband to see if anything was wrong. The gunman ordered Miller to respond that everything was all right.

After the robbery, the gunman jumped into a car operated by another man and drove off toward Cotton street. Police questioned nearby residents in an attempt to obtain a description of the getaway car.

Festival to Feature Organist, 'Requiem'

The Festival of Music which is to be held at Trinity Church, Newton Centre on Friday evening, May 8th and Sunday afternoon, May 10th, will feature the famous young organist Richard Ellsasser in a program of great music, and Trinity Choir in a performance of the Requiem by Johannes Brahms.

Mr. Ellsasser, who will be heard on Friday evening, May 8th, is one of the truly great artists of our day. When only twenty one he was acclaimed as one of the leading recitalists and achieved reknown by performing completely from memory the entire 236 organ compositions of Bach.

Critics all over the country have agreed that an Ellsasser concert is a rare musical event and that his genius is unrivaled. He has done extensive recording work and has written many compositions, among them his prize winning "Greenwich Village" suite.

Sunday afternoon, May 10th at 4:30 p.m. Trinity Choir will sing the Brahms Requiem, regarded as one of the finest choral works in existence.

Both of these programs are open to the public without cost. An offering will be taken to benefit the choir fund.

Register May 5, 12 For Kindergarten At Lincoln-Eliot

Registration for children entering the kindergarten at the Lincoln-Eliot School, 191 Pearl street, Newton, will be held at the school the following two Tuesdays, May 5 and May 12, from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

To be eligible for entrance, children must have reached their fifth birthday or be before January 1, 1954. Parents are asked to bring their children's birth certificates, vaccination certificates and immunization records.

Noted Churchman Dr. Henry Leiper To Speak Sunday

N.C. Marine Suffers Burns In Korea Fight

Dr. Henry Smith Leiper, minister and executive secretary of the Missions Council of Congregational Christian Churches, will speak Wednesdays at 6:30 p.m. in the First Congregational Church in Newton Centre.

Dr. Leiper, an internationally-known Congregational Christian churchman and ecumenical leader, will speak on missionary work with reference to the Congregational Christian Church Building Loan Fund.

Widely acquainted in interdenominational circles Dr. Leiper was for 22 years Associate General Secretary of the World Council of Churches in which capacity as a Christian "Ambassador-at-large" he traveled thousands of miles annually much of the time by air. He is honorary secretary of the American Friends of the World Council of Churches.

One of the guiding forces in the ecumenical consultations which preceded the setup of the World Council of Churches and from its provisional beginning on its General Secretariat Dr. Leiper also was Ecumenical Secretary and Consultant to what is now the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

For a quarter century a world traveler who practically has "commuted" between the U.S.A. and Europe—having made his 73rd crossing last June—Dr. Leiper visited recently in Australia, New Zealand, Malaya and India at the invitation of church and government leaders. He has traveled extensively in the Orient.

Only 3 Days Left in Blood Typing Drive

Only three days remain for Newton residents to participate in the local blood typing program, a blood typing team will be in Newton today (Thursday), tomorrow and Saturday.

The blood typing will be done today at the Neighborhood Club on Beacon street, Waban. Tomorrow's schedule calls for the team to be at the Memorial School in Oak Hill Park, and Saturday the typing is scheduled for St. Elizabeth's Community Center on Eliot street, Newton Upper Falls.

Hours for the typing, with the exception of Saturday, are from 2 to 6 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 at night. On Saturday, the

30-Inch Water Main Project Final Link with MDC Water

Construction on the final link connecting Newton with the Metropolitan District Commission's water system got underway Monday, according to Water Commissioner Mark F. Croker.

Commissioner Croker explained this latest project consists of a 30-inch reinforced concrete water main between Chestnut street, West Newton, and Centre street, Newton Centre.

He warned that the work "will definitely cause disturbances" in the water supply and may result in some discoloration of water for a two-day period. The discoloration will be due to three connections being made to the 30-inch main.

"Additional disturbances may be anticipated by the water consumers during the course of construction and cutting in of this main and pumping station," Commissioner Croker declared.

The cost of the project will be evenly divided between the MDC and Newton and the work will be done under the supervision of MDC officials. The contract calls for the project to be completed by Nov. 30, but Mr. Croker anticipates its completion "well in advance of this date."

Water Commissioner Croker explained, in addition to the construction of the 30 inch main itself, there are three kindred projects, two of which will provide the connections to the Newton distribution system at Chestnut and Centre streets and the third which will provide the connections to the new Metropolitan water pumping station located just off Commonwealth avenue west of City Hall. Present scheduling calls for the work involving the connections to be performed first.

"It is to be pointed out the connections at Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut and Centre streets will necessarily lowering the present water mains at these three locations. This will involve the placement and joining of a number of fittings, valves, so the shut down of these three mains may be extended ones. They will definitely cause disturbances in the system which, in turn, will be felt by the water consuming public.

"Every effort will be made by the Water Department to restore normal service as soon as possible and operate in a man-

News of The Day

The annual Spring Concert of the Frank Ashley Day Junior High School will take place this year at eight o'clock on Friday evening, May 8. Three principal groups in school activity will participate, all the music groups, the Ninth Grade Drama Group, and three Dance Groups. Under the direction of Vincent Jurgiewicz, the following music groups will present selections: the school orchestra with forty-five members, the Mixed Glee Club with pupils from all grades, eighty-cent of the cost of the project and officials of the MDC are to have supervision of construction. Under the terms of the contract, the work is to be completed by Nov. 30, but at present it is anticipated that completion will be effected well in advance of this

There will also be five soloists:

Elaine Holmes, piano; Carole Weeden, piano and vocal; Vincent Battista, vocal; Robert Rosenblatt, trumpet; and Marianne Keefe, ballet featuring in Tchaikovsky's Swan Lake.

The Ninth Grade Drama

Group, coached by Lorraine Holmes, will present a mystery comedy, Nobody Sleeps. The general chairman will be David Sacchar with David Kanter, Catherine Antonellis, Bernhard Lettau, and Geraldine Soule working backstage. In the cast are Peter Winograd, Carol O'Connell, Gail Stout, and Marianne Keefe.

Thirty Ninth Grade girls, trained by Annette Emerson, will bring to the Spring Concert three dance sequences which were created by the girls themselves. In the first dance, Country Style, are Julia Gavini, Dorothy Civetti, Sally Wallace, Rosemary Tempesta, Nancy Napolitano, Betty Rogan, Marianne Huston, Marilyn Kent, Carlotta Regan, and Carole Leone.

The second is called Song of the Bayou with dancers Mimi McGrath, Betty Annesse, Mary Dangelo, Grace Consolo, Rosemary Tempesta, Mary Civetti, Connie Waters, Peggy Nelson, Carole Leone, and

Carol Gallant. In the third dance, Manhattan Serenade, are Carol Langill, Shirley Panaggio, Betty Annesse, Mimi McGrath, Mary Dangelo, Rosemary Tempesta, Carole Leone, Connie Waters, Grace Consolo, and Mary Civetti.

Over the past years Spring Concert has marked the high point of pupil activity at Day Junior High School. Well over one third of the boys and girls participate in some way or other. This year the date is Friday evening, May 8. Tickets will go on sale about a week before that, according to Alden Read who is chairman of the faculty committee.

Why not have a hay thermometer on hand before haying starts? For ten dollars or less you can secure a hay thermometer, with a prod, which is accurate, easy to carry, and easy to use. It will detect heating.

First Child

Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. Boulter (Janet C. Budgell) of Newton Highlands announce the birth of a first child, Karen Otten Souther, born March 26 at the Newton Wellesley Hospital.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Allston Budgell of Newton Highlands and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Boulter of Newton.
